

Experts Coming To Morgan Mfg. Co. For Clinic

Nationally known wood seasoning experts of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., will conduct a 6-day clinic in modern lumber drying methods July 7-12 at the plant of the Morgan Manufacturing Co., Inc., here for southern, eastern, and midwestern dry-kiln operators and lumber products manufacturers.

Enrollments in the clinic, which is open to working kiln operators, plant foremen and superintendents, and company officials, can be made with the Laboratory at Madison, Wis. Firms wishing to enroll employees can obtain application blanks by sending a postcard to the Laboratory. The fee is $100 per person.

The Laboratory experts are conducting the clinic in cooperation with Forest Utilization Service units of the Federal Forest Service headquartered at Philadelphia, Pa., New Orleans, La., Asheville, and Columbus, Ohio.

The clinic is one of a series of sessions in the kiln drying of lumber held in many parts of the United States.

Admission is at 50 cents for children and $1 for adults, all taxes included. There will be no charge for seats and one price takes you through it all, according to a jaycee spokesman.

Advance reports received by the jaycees from cities previously played by the Cherokee outfit indicate it to be the wildest and maddest western spectacle to ever be shown east of the Mississippi or south of North Fork. Come and see.

It's Squire Carson From Now On - If You Don't Object

You've got to plow out to the end of the rows, stop draggin' your feet, love your potlikker, have a natural hankerin' for chittlin's, and catch up on your haulin', if you want to keep step with Black Mountain's young man who has just been appointed to the highest office the state affords—Country Squire.

The man is Gary C. Carson, former resident of Big Ivy, a Cotton avenue resident who for the past few years has taught vocational agriculture at the Black Mountain High school. His appointment to the high office of Country Squire, which is far superior to a Kentucky Kernel, was duly signed and affixed with the state seal by Gov. Scott in Raleigh on May 1.

According to the proclamation Mr. Carson is now entitled to all the rights and privileges of this estate. The proclamation follows: "Reposing special trust and confidence in G. C. Carson, I Governor W. Kerr Scott, note that: He is one of the branch head boys, born and bred in the Tarheel state, who has quit draggin' his feet and is catchin' up on his haulin'; and Whereas, he has demonstrated that he is a tried and true member of the rougher element and plows out to the end of the row; and

Whereas, he is versed in both the meaning and the mystery of our significant and proudly proclaimed dates; and Whereas, he is forward-goin' and has a natural hankerin' for chittlin's, possum and 'taters, lamb fries, potlikker, corn pone, barbecue and sas'fras tea; I do Therefore proclaim h i m a COUNTRY SQUIRE.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Grand Seal to be affixed.

W. Kerr Scott, Governor.

First Baptist Church Notes

Sunday school 9:45 a.m.
Morning worship 11:00 a.m.
B. T. U. 6:45 p.m.
Evening worship 8:00 p.m.

The pastor of the First Baptist church, W. A. Huneycutt, began a series of sermons last Sunday morning on the general theme "Worthy Is the Lamb." He will give the second message in this series Sunday, June 8, on the topic "The Spirit's Message to the Churches." This entire series is based on the Revelation and the interpretation will be given in the light of Apocalyptic literature.

The Sunday evening service will be given to the singing of great hymns and songs of the church. The pastor will give a discussion each evening on one of the personal interviews of Jesus.

Mrs. Charles Maydwell has been employed by the First Baptist church as director of music. She will teach a class in music at 1:00 p.m. on Mondays and Thursday for children eight years of age and above who want to learn to read music. The class will be conducted in the memorial room of the church.

The daily vacation Bible school in the First Baptist church will begin June 16. The faculty will be made up of leadership in the church and college and university students on the staff at Ridgecrest.

Betty Jo Cole and Jean Huntley. Second class badges were presented to Lois Gregg and Sandra Ballard by Mrs. Hubert Clapp, troop committee chairman.

Mrs. W. K. Walker, former leader, presented camcraif badges to Carolyn Luckadoo, Ann Shaver, Joan Walker, Barbara Davidson, Annette Hall, Elaine Bastarache, Ann Walker, Annette Meeks and Mary Evon Martin.

Mrs. D. L. Shaver, former leader, presented good grooming badges to Elaine Bastarache, Joan Walker, Annette Hall, Marjorie McEwan and Judy Luckadoo.

The following scouts having earned the folk dance badge, received congratulations from Mrs. Clapp: Ann Shaver, Carolyn Luckadoo, Ann Walker, Annette Meeks, Lynne Nichols, Sandra Ballard, Mary Evon Martin and Carolyn Clapp.

The leader, Mrs. Arthur Max well, congratulated Annette Hall, Joan Walker and Judy Luckadoo on winning the backyard camper badge.

Following the Court of Awards, an enjoyable picnic supper was served. Later, those scouts who won the folk dance badge, demonstrated three of the 10 dances they had learned under the direction of Mrs. Herman, former leader. One of the requirements of this badge is to prove ability to teach at least one dance, so, immediately following the demonstration, almost the entire company took part in dancing "The Haymaker's Jig," under the scouts' guidance.
