Sunday School Class Elects Conway Tatham

The adult fellowship Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met Friday evening and elected Conway Tatham as president to fill the office vacated when Cecil Nanney, the class president, was called to teach the builders class.

The class discussed a project that they have been raising money for—to buy a recording set for record church services for the shut-ins and people who cannot attend services. This project was presented by the class to the adult department on Sunday morning June 1. C. E. Johnson, acting president, presided Friday night.
