A Position Made Famous

It takes months of practice and hard work for a budding ballerina to acquire the skill necessary to strike the pose illustrated here by Nancy Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Black Mountain and Winston-Salem. Awarded a scholarship for her outstanding work at the School of the Dance, Winston-Salem, Nancy here poses in the fourth position—a position made famous by the great Danilova, contemporary ballerina and the only one outside Russia who was trained at the Imperial Ballet School in St. Petersburg, Russia.

Instructor

Stuart Byron, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Gordon Byron of Black Mountain, is water safety instructor at the club house for the summer. Stuart, who was awarded a scholarship by the Black Mountain-Swannanoa chapter, American Red Cross, to attend Camp Carolina, is giving his services to the community. Twelve volunteer women are helping with the water safety program which is now in full swing with 115 children, teen agers, and adults enrolled in swimming classes. Stuart received a certificate for his work at Camp Carolina and is now a qualified water safety instructor, according to Red Cross rules.

Nancy Wilson Wins Scholarship At Winston-Salem

Nancy Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Black Mountain and Winston-Salem, has taken the first step that leads to fame as a ballerina.

On the basis of advancement, endeavor, attitude, and cooperation, Nancy was awarded a ballet scholarship at the School of the Dance, Winston-Salem. The school is conducted by Vinni Frederick and Helen Stanley. The "Circus Capers Undersea Ballet" was presented at Reynolds auditorium on May 12. Because of her outstanding work, Nancy was selected to do a solo number, a toe dance, for the great audience which attended.

Final Link In "Sea To Sky" Highway Is Sought By Chamber Of Commerce

$100 Per Call May Be Charged Those Outside Town

Assessment cards from the Black Mountain Fire department have been mailed to all township citizens living outside the limits of the town.

In addition to the regular assessment, which is payable on an annual basis, it is requested that a donation be sent this year to help pay for a new fire truck which has been ordered to be delivered around Nov. 1.

Taking note of the lack of support which the department has received in past years from those who live in the outlying districts, the town board recently adopted an ordinance which provides that a minimum charge of $100, payable immediately in cash, will be made for answering fire calls to any residence or structure where the owner fails to pay his fire assessment.

No. 9 Extension To Join Parkway Will Be Pushed

Extension of N. C. Highway No. 9 to join the Blue Ridge parkway is greatly needed and should be pushed now, chamber of commerce directors and members decided at the town hall Tuesday evening.

Pointing out that it would be only 12 miles from Black Mountain to the intersection of the Mount Mitchell motor road and the parkway, those attending believe that now is the time to intensify efforts to sell the plan to state and federal highway and park officials. The 12 miles is all the more significant when compared with the present distance of 50 over the Old Fort route or via Asheville.

"This would be a tremendous asset to the community," Alfred F. Tyson, Jr., chamber president, said. "This 'Sea to the Sky' highway will connect Myrtle Beach and other South Carolina points See Link Sought, Page 4, I
