BEE TREE NEWS

We have a new neighbor in our community. Mrs. Barbara Crabtree and her husband moved into Uncle Horace Morgan's little house Saturday. Mrs. Crabtree is the former Miss Adams, daughter of Jim Adams of Bee Tree road. Joe Reece of Montreat is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Thomas G. Hall of Bee Tree.

C. M. Howie, husband of this reporter, was cutting corn Saturday when he stepped on a large copperhead. When he jumped off, the little dog Tommie sprang on him and was bitten before he could kill it. He has been bitten four times this summer and has survived them all.

Mrs. Grady Morgan of Bee Tree had 28 guests last Thursday, her mother, Mrs. Boyd Barnwell of Swannanoa.

Loyd Phillips of below Swannanoa was honored with a household shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. Cobin Bridges Saturday night. Mrs. Phillips is the former Miss Lillian Bridges.

This reporter, her husband, C. M. Howie, and Mrs. Thomas G. Hall are leaving Wednesday by bus for Michigan to visit their sons, Chorum Howie and John Bryant. The Howies have a new baby girl born last week. Mrs. Howie is the former Mrs. Pearl Stevens of Virginia.

Mrs. Margaret Stevens' little son is suffering from an attack of chicken pox at the home of

B. M. Garden Club Exhibit Creates Interest At Show

During the recent garden and flower show in the Asheville city auditorium the Black Mountain Garden Club had entered an exhibit entitled "Organic Gardening Project." This exhibit in an 8 x 10 foot booth, consisted of samples of the native soil, shredded forest leaves, compost made of these leaves, and the native soil treated with this compost, in one half of the booth. The other half consisted of vegetables actually grown in this organic mixture.

Because of the variety and quality of the fruit displayed attending members of the club for the two days of the show were kept busy discussing this method of gardening with interested visitors. Officers of the organization which sponsored the show directed many visitors to this exhibit with the statement that this was the outstanding educational exhibit in the entire show.

The organic method is a theory and practice of growing plants. It produces fertility and resistance to disease and insect attack entirely by the use of natural products—without any chemical fertilizers or poison sprays. Compost (weeds, leaves, lawn clippings, etc.) which has been acted upon by beneficial soil bacteria, molds and earthworms, is the primary element of fertility in the organic method. Ground rocks of certain types are used occasionally as mineral supplements in deficient soils.

Through the ages, until the middle of the 19th century, nature fared quite well in maintaining fertility for growing food crops. Plant disease and insect attack were of minor significance. There was a balance between the destructive forces of nature and the defensive mechanism of the plants.

CP&L Plans Call For 20 Million For Expansion

Officers of Carolina Power & Light company were authorized yesterday to proceed with the sale next month of $20,000,000 in bonds, according to Louis V. Sutton, president and chairman of the board.

Directors met in Raleigh and authorized the bond sale. They also declared quarterly dividends of $1.25 on $5 preferred stock and 50 cents on common stock.

Proceeds from the bonds will be applied to the company's $150,000,000 postwar expansion program. Mr. Sutton explained. He said the directors also approved an additional $3,000,000 to the current budget to cover improvements in the territory formerly served by Tide Water Power company, which was merged into the CP&L system last March.

The dividends declared yesterday are payable Oct. 1 to preferred stockholders of record at the close of business Sept. 17 and on Nov. 1 to holders of common stock of record at the close of business Oct. 10.

SWAN-O'TEEN WOMAN'S CLUB INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

The Swan-O'Teen Woman's club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the nurses' club on the post at Swannanoa. A delightful social hour was enjoyed prior to the meeting. The retiring officers, Mrs. T. H. Weaver, Mrs. Seth T. Walton, Mrs. Brain Swords, and Mrs. Hans Heyman were hostesses for the occasion.

The refreshments table was attractively appointed in a fall motif. Clusters of grapes were dramatically arranged on a purple and white handwoven tablecloth. Iced grape juice was served from a punch bowl which was artistically twined with philodendron.

Following the social hour, Mrs. J. E. Darby, the new president, presided and made a brief talk of welcome and plans for the coming year. A rising vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers for their excellent work of last year. She then presented the other new officers to the club: Mrs. James A. Crawford, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. L. J. Ring, secretary; and Mrs. Groe Godwin, treasurer.

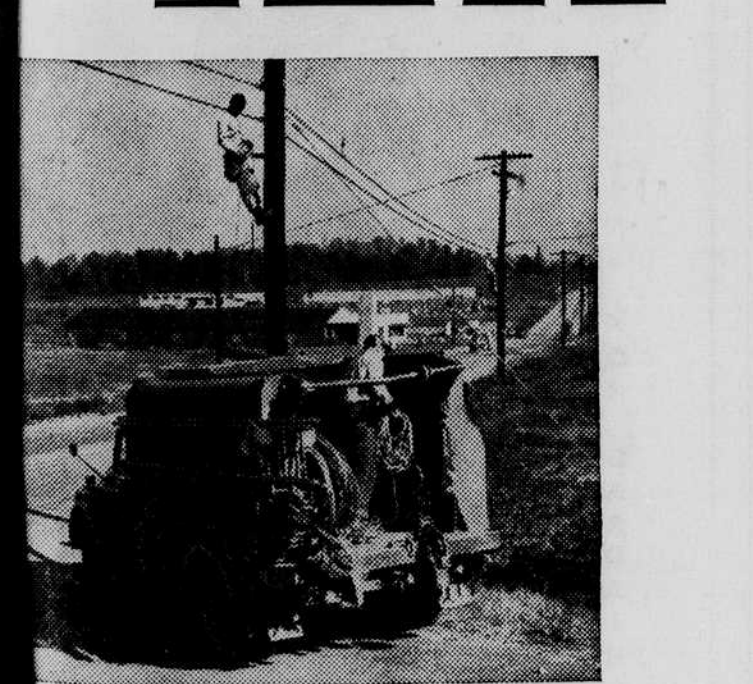

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Crawford. She introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Lowell B. Wright, Mrs. Wright, who is director of The Little Art Gallery on Wall street, a member of the Asheville Branch of the N.L.A.P.W.

Savings like this

Machines like this enable Southern Bell to salvage about three million feet of copper wire a year by splicing leftover lengths together and re-insulating the joints.

MEAN SAVINGS ALL ALONG THE LINE

Saving every usable bit of wire, each pound of lead, aluminum and steel that can be salvaged for re-use, is just one of many ways Southern Bell keeps down the cost of telephone service.

Making every practical economy, working our facilities to the utmost and constantly improving our methods and equipment help keep telephone service one of today's best bargains. Day and night, a well-trained, capable and courteous team of telephone folks is working to provide good service at the lowest possible cost... for National Defense, for industry, and for you. — Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Telephone service takes a smaller part of the family budget than it did ten years ago... and most subscribers can call twice as many people.

BROAD RIVER

By Mrs. M. M. Elliott

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lawter and sons, Jimmy and Joe, who spent last week at Mrs. Lola Nanney's place, returned to their home in Alexandria, Va., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hutton, who have been visiting their old home and relatives in Pennsylvania, returned to their summer cabin in this community last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ledbetter had as week end guests Luther Clay and Mrs. Mary Miller of Asheville. Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sellers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pierce of Asheville, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis of Fairview.

Clifford Nanney of the U. S. Army is spending a two weeks' furlough with his mother, Mrs. Caraleigh Nanney and his sister and brother, Guiva and Stuart on Bald Mountain.

Leonard Plemmons is spending is furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Plemmons and his sister, Imogene on Broad River.

Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman of Shelby visited Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hall in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elliott of Beaver, W. Va., who have been visiting Mr. Elliott's sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. George Blanton and children in Cliffside and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lawter and children of Rutherford, and Jim's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Elliott on upper Cedar Creek, spent the week end with Jim's cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Elliott on Broad River.

A large congregation attended the memorial and homecoming at Stone Mountain last Sunday. The Rev. Jack Guffey delivered the message before noon. There were many beautiful flowers for the cemetery and a wonderful picnic dinner was served at noon. There was singing and special music in the afternoon.

Many friends and neighbors who were born and reared in this section but have drifted off to other places returned yesterday to lay flowers on their beloved relatives' and friends' graves. We were delighted to see our old, old friend, Nancy Hall, 82 years old, at the service Sunday.
