

Elementary School Round-Up

By Tommy Thompson — Lynda McGraw — Melba Riddle
of Miss L. Lindsey's 7th Grade

In the Black Mountain Elementary school many pupils are absent with the flu, but the ones present give these reports:
As you walk down the first grade hall any Friday, do you smell popcorn? No. We don't have a circus or a sidewalk it is from Mrs. Moore's first grade room, who are learning to make popcorn (they don't have to learn to eat it).
The children of Mrs. A. White's second grade are learning to care for birds during the winter. They feed them in a feeder outside their window.
We were very sorry to hear Monday that George Flynn's home on Broad River burned. George is in Mrs. Bennett's third grade.
Mrs. Edwards third grade received a letter from a student that has moved to Mississippi. They are proving that they too, can write letters by returning a letter to him.
Are you well after having the flu? Was the question asked when Mrs. Woodard, a fifth grade teacher returned Monday after spending all last week in bed.
Do you know how your forefathers traveled when America was first settled? Mrs. Stewart's room can tell you because they have just finished the study of transportation.
"Not only do we have a president of the United States, but we have one in our own room," says the pupils of Miss Tipton's sixth grade. They are: Roy Flemmons, president; Diana Nesbitt, vice president; and Joe Robinson, secretary.
Singing was heard from Mrs. O'Connors sixth grade room Monday when a visitor from Erskine college, Shirley Sellers, spent the day with them teaching them new songs.
Mrs. Stubbs sixth grade elected new officers Friday. The outgoing ones were president, Nancy DuPuy, vice president, Charles Thompson, and David DuPuy, treasurer, Billie Sue Rickman, secretary, Cheryl Lowery.
The new officers are John Gorman, president; Charles Thompson and Nancy DuPuy, vice presidents; Secretary, Cheryl Lowery, and treasurer, David DuPuy.
Strict parliamentary laws are used when Mrs. Stubbs' class has their weekly meeting. A good citizen is selected every week.
Mrs. Stubbs sixth grade had a doll show Friday, Jan. 23. There were six classes: the prettiest, oldest, most real, smallest, most groupworn, and largest. The Blue Ribbons were won by Nancy DuPuy for the oldest doll, which was forty years old; for the smallest, David DuPuy; for the largest, Stephen Lundford; and for the

Wilhide, Cooper And Ritchie Keep Up Scoring Pace

By Anne Marie Molloy

Neither height nor the fact that the Warren Wilson teams were composed of college players seemed to bother the Black Mountain cage teams as they took two easy victories in non-conference play, the Nightmares by a 55-12 decision and the Darkhorses by a 49-51 margin. The games were played here Friday night.
The less experienced Warren Wilson lasses found it rough going all the way when they met the locals in the opener of a double header. By half time the first string forwards and guards had collected a total of 22 fouls and had lost a tall guard, Miss Wall, via the four rope.
Miss Wilhide and Miss Cooper led the scoring for the Nightmares with 15 and 17 points respectively. The reserves showed up well demonstrating their ability to fill the shoes of their teammates frequently and even led the junior high team have a taste of season play.
Buchanan led the way for the Aggies with a total of 9 points. The Aggies lost Herron, one of their starters, midway in the fourth quarter when she fainted from exhaustion.
In the nightcap the Darkhorses teed off with the Aggies and fought to a 15-11 tie at the close of the first quarter. By half time the Darkhorses had widened the gap to a 29-20 margin.
Showing the best team work so far this season, the Darkhorses looked as if they will give the top teams stiff competition in the county tournament. Gouge, who collected a total of 12 points for the night, set up many tap-in plays for center, Dale Ritchie. Ritchie scored his highest total of the season, netting 25 points to boost him from sixth to third place in the county ratings.
Odom and Reese showed improvement in their play as they bucketed 10 and 4 points respectively.
Wells of the Aggies played outstanding ball and collected a total of 24 points for the night on fast breaks.

Lyrics and Music by OLEN WALKER

Everyone has heard the tale of the swan song, how the swan is supposed to sing a melodious song just before it dies. Well, this is just that. I have conducted a column for around three years, which many people seem to have liked. I have made North Fork a veritable paradise to hundreds of folks who have never lived here or saw it, for I present only the bright and humorous side, which is actually the only side I see. This is misleading, of course, for there definitely is another side, which I purposely withheld.
The column has never been appreciated in its own community. Many times I have heard that it has been said that this one or that one could do a better job. Now is the time for This One or That One to step forward, for the job is open to them.
The bone of contention was a simple thought printed a couple of weeks ago, and it was a case of "the hit dog barking." A member of the staff was heard. Funny thing—I either made an absent-minded error in the script, or there was a typographical mistake, I meant to say "themselves" making it more vague and the word used was "himself," so all the yells were from the masculine gender. If it had been printed as I meant, the fair sex probably would have been leaping into the air, literally ripping the seats out of their unimagination. For months I have planned to substitute the news for something the Gentle Readers like better, but my worst failing is my procrastination. So much for the

As We See Ourselves

XII. The Student Club:
The Student club is the entire school, led by the students and sponsored by the faculty. The purpose is to promote good sportsmanship and friendliness among all its members.
In this organization the important person is the member, and to flourish each member must do his part, for no club can be a success without this co-operation.
We feel that through all our activities in the school, others may benefit from their operation.
We have presented all our organizations to you in hopes that you will have a better understanding of each one and see how each one has and fulfills its purpose.
Care of an Instrument
In case any of you may have a musical instrument which needs to be oiled and cleaned, you may ask Jack Parr the proper method of doing so.
It seems that Jack was oiling his baritone horn, and accidentally dropped the bottle of valuable oil into the horn.
In trying to get the bottle out, Jack spent hours worrying how to do it, trying everything from pouring boiling water into the instrument to break the bottle, to fishing it out with a coat-hanger, which broke off in the process.
Jack finally revived the lost bottle and is playing beautiful music on his horn once more. He is an exceptionally talented member of the band.
Theme
The career theme this week submitted by Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Nesbitt, was written by Faye Williams, on the subject of the Armed Forces. It follows:

There are several branches of the Armed Services. The most interesting to me is the Waves, so I have picked that branch to write about.
