AS WE SEE OURSELVES

By Ann Sawyer

"To all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can."
John Wesley,
"His Rule."

Students Attend Family Life Meeting

Although several students missed an entire day of school, it was well spent in preparation for the Family Life conference to be held March 17 at the Central Methodist church in Asheville.

Steve Kaplan presided during the morning session as he will during the first session of the conference.

The theme for the conference is to be: How Can We Make Boy-Girl Relationships More Valuable In Developing Mature Citizens and Dr. Luther McCormic of the University of Ohio will be the conference leader. Each school has a discussion team who will lead the attending students in discussing the theme.

Those representing our school in the conference will be: William Perry, Brenda Gragg, Eva Smith, Jack Farr, Henry Ware, Barbara Hoskins, Steve Kaplan, Ann Sawyer, Mrs. Stanley Garland, Mrs. T. W. Hoskins, and Mrs. R. E. Kaplan.

Mr. Beauvright is Back With Us.

Each student would like to extend to Mr. Beauvright his most gracious welcome in having him back in school in much better condition. We will all try to do our best in keeping him in good shape now that he is no longer under the care of the pretty nurses.

New President and Vice President of Student Council.

In the Student Council elections, for the new president and vice president to take office in the new school year, there was a tie. The run off elections were held Monday. The for vice president from the Sophomore class were John Williams and Scotty Gragg. The for president from the Junior class were John Corkran and Judy Capps.

The run off elections were held Monday with John Corkran and John Williams winning president and vice president respectively. These leaders were chosen by the students and they made a very wise choice as everyone seems to agree.

Senior News.

The Senior class has been hard at work preparing plans for the prom, May 15. The committees have been set up and there is to be a meeting Monday afternoon to see that everything is in order.

The class had a meeting Monday morning to decide what the class colors, flower, and motto should be. Some of the details are still lacking but the plans are progressing rapidly.

The seniors have a secret now about the prom, just as the juniors have concerning the banquet. I'm sure that in the end everyone will have a joyful and enduring surprise.

Basketball.

It was a victory night for our girls when they won over Emma last Wednesday night at the Buncombe County Tournament in Asheville. I think it would be true to say that there was only one girl who played. She was composed of the five left hand shooting of Evelyn, Madge's rebounding, and Thelma's master handling of the ball. She also possessed the fine qualities of stealing dribbles by Anne Marie, smooth guarding of Valeen, and the determination of Alma. Her initials are B. M. H. S. and she is sure to win all county and top honors in the finals.

"Buff's" Darkhorses displayed good playing, too, in their game with Candler Friday night, but by some misfortune, the Candler team scored 5 points, too many, winning the game. Nevertheless, the game will never be forgotten I am sure, by the boys, at least the seniors, who played their last game. "Buff" had a fine team this year, one of the best, and we can only hope that next year's will be tops also.

The girls play Sand Hill Wednesday night, so let's all go all out for them and give them our support for their victory.

A big "thank you" from the cheer leaders to all of you who have helped carry the team spirit high. These girls feel that they too are a part of the team, and play their part in cheering for the players.

TEENS

Following is a theme, "Growing Up" written by Anne Marie Mosley.

GROWING UP

The age of youth, growth, and maturity cannot be separated exactly making definite distinctions in the growth of an individual for each step in this complex structure just overlap the other and bring its influence into the development of the mature person. The age of youth is usually defined as the age between the first steps of babyhood extending to some time in the middle teens. These are the happy, carefree days of existence when the youth is unaware of the constant happenings that take place in the outside world; the world in which he someday will take part, but the world which now has no meaning to him at all except that it provides oxygen and nourishment for the spark of life. The youth lives in a dream world composed of fanciful imaginings in which he is the star of the performances. At this time of life a person makes his first decision as to what the future may have in store for him. He contemplates his aims for the future, but it seems muddled and confused, for there are many and varied aspects to consider. The final decision has him invested in at least three different occupations when the necessary time arises to earn a living.

The age of maturity mellows and ripens slowly in the late teens and blossoms into the flower of manhood when the mind has finally developed. At this time many physical as well as mental changes occur. The individual steps out of the gawky, adolescent stage into the well-molded statue of maturity. This factor in itself helps the person to mature, for along with these sudden appearances of young woman or manhood go the first ideas in thoughts of the opposite sex. Here the home life of the individual plays its star role. The reputation of the person is now at stake; will you be esteemed by your fellow class-mates and their parents or will you fall into the degrading light of the back-fence gossipers? You, the individual must answer the question yourself; you must set up the type of character you desire others to admire. The parents, who are naturally interested in the welfare of their children, give many words of counsel and advice, but will you listen and will you take this advice? Try to remember that they were young once and that they have learned by experience.

The mental changes and developments that take place now will be the basis of the mature mind. Whether or not you will ever fully develop your mind can well be decided in high school and college. Do you take your studies seriously or do you come to school to participate in outside activities such as athletics? Would you take the time to study a little harder at home or does that date have to fall on a school night? As a person travels the long journey of education he learns how to apply the facts he has learned from his textbooks to the needs of everyday life. In high school he plans his vocation and in college he receives the training necessary to be a success in his chosen career. Thus with this development comes a new outlook on life. You now appreciate the good advice of your doting parents. They were right, but you just couldn't see this fact at the time. Now is the time to express your gratitude for a job well done in bringing you up as a well informed person; a person capable to meet any hardships that might be in store for him.

At last you have reached that time of life when you sit back and reminisce of the days gone by. Most of your growing up was by experience for there is wisdom in the old adage, "Experience is the best teacher." Now is your turn to play the teacher since you have graduated from the role of pupil. Whether it be teaching your children or merely giving wholesome advice when needed, do your part and help another individual grow up to be as fortunate as you have been.

MONTREAT

By Mrs. Wellinger Henry

The morning worship service was held in Gaither Chapel on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. The minister, the Rev. John R. Williams preached on "The Grace of Giving." The treasurer, Mr. Leslie Townsend read the budget for the coming year and the pledge cards were signed by the members of the congregation. The flowers in the church were given by the Misses Leith and Jean Tait in memory of Mrs. James C. Tait and Miss Irene C. Tait.

The prayer meetings were held on Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the Bungalow of the Inn, and at 7:15 in Gaither Chapel. The subject was Christian Living.

The Women of the Church will hold their annual banquet in the dining room of the Assembly Inn on Tuesday, March 17 at 6:30 p. m. The afternoon meeting will begin at 5 p. m. This is the business meeting and the officers will read their annual reports. The speaker for the supper meeting will be Chaplain James Rogers of Green Annex. Tickets for the supper may be obtained through the circle chairman.

The Women of the Church held their interesting Bible study last week with all meetings well attended. The message given by Dr. Geza Ross on the Holy Spirit was most inspiring. Everyone was most grateful to Dr. Ross for taking time out of his busy days to give these messages.

Dr. Billy Graham had his Sunday broadcast from Little Rock, Ark., where he spoke to a large crowd gathered in the city.

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the concert on Saturday night in Gaither given by Mary Ann Smoak, a senior in Montreat college. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. R. A. Smoak of Aberdeen and Miss Sara Neal McClerkan of Virginia.

Dr. Geza Ross of Montreat College faculty has returned from Florida where he took part in the Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies. He was asked to be the Christian "Ambassador," but because of his teaching in Montreat he was not able to be there the entire time. He did serve in Lakeland, Bradenton, Sarasota, and Fort Myers where they had mass meetings of youth groups. In St. Petersburg some 3000 believers listened to the message "The Iron Curtain versus the Free World." He also had conferences with the students and faculty of the University of Florida in Gainesville and Tallahassee. He reports a wonderful spiritual experience. While in Miami they were kept so busy in these services that they did not even get to see the ocean. The Christian leaders were from Asia, Africa, South America as well as from the United States. All were thrilled by the interest the young and old showed for the cause of the Lord Jesus Christ.

SPEAKING OF HOMEMAKING

By Mrs. Elizabeth Parham, Home Service Representative of Carolina Power & Light Co.

MEALS TO FIT THE BUDGET

This brings good news to make—warming always for easy-to-fix main dishes which make only the merest dent in the food budget.

Macaroni and Beef Casserole

2 cups cubed cooked beef
¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
2 tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. chopped sweet pickle
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
½ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1 cup elbow macaroni
½ cup grated American cheese.

Cook onion and celery in butter until slightly browned. Add meat, pickle, and tomatoes. Simmer 15 minutes. Add seasonings. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water; drain. Combine meat mixture and macaroni. Place in 1½ quart casserole and bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese and bake 15 minutes longer. (6 servings.)

Savory Sausage Pie

1½ cup milk cracker crumbs
1/3 cup melted butter
¾ lb. pork sausage meat
1 medium onion, chopped fine
1 cup cooked corn
1½ cups milk
2 eggs
2 tbsp. chopped green pepper
½ lb. American Cheese, grated

Roll crackers fine and mix thoroughly with melted butter. Put mixture into bottom and around sides of a greased 8" x 8" pan. Chill. Brown sausage meat and onion. Arrange onions, sausage meat and corn over chilled crust. Scald milk and add slowly to slightly beaten eggs. Combine with green pepper and cheese and pour over ingredients in cracker crust. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes. (Makes 6 servings.)

Hamburger and Spaghetti Barbecue

¾ lb. ground beef
½ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. fat or drippings
8 oz. spaghetti
¼ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup tomato sauce (8-oz. can)
½ cup water
¼ cup vinegar
2 tbsp. brown sugar
1 tbsp. prepared mustard
1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Mix together ground beef and salt. Shape into four large flat patties. Brown well in fat in heavy skillet. While meat is browning, cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain patties, and brown onion and garlic in drippings. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Simmer gently about five minutes. Place spaghetti in 1-quart casserole. Pour all but ½ cup sauce over spaghetti. Arrange hamburgers on top of spaghetti and pour remaining sauce over them. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes. (Makes four servings.))

"Your dog," said the man in the barber's chair, "seems to enjoy watching you cut hair."

"It isn't that," said the barber. "Sometimes I snip off a piece of ear."

BROAD RIVER

By Mrs. M. M. Elliott

(Too late for last week)

The road builders are almost done grading the new Bat Cave road. Another crew will take over the subgrading for the hard surface soon. The recent snow and rain caused several small slides and several cracks in the hard surfaces on the Old Fort road this side of the McDowell line. Several trucks hauled rock last week. Also other road builders are patching the cracks in the hard surfaces.

B. T. Mcinnis of Old Fort has bought Joe Little's timber in this section and is hauling the logs to the sawmill at Old Fort.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis of Cedar Creek went to Marion on business last week.

Miss Sarah Kirby of Black Mountain spent the week end recently with Essie Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stroud.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis went to Marion last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Nelon moved to Black Mountain last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Parker and daughter, Goldie, of Mill Springs, visited Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Nan Nelon and family in this community last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Marlowe and little daughter of Flat Creek, spent the week end with Claude's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Owsley and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hall moved into uncle Jack Smith's old house last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Elliott had as week-end guests Mr. Elliott's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Blanton and son, James and Mr. Elliott's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ophus Jolley of Cliffside.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Taylor of Hendersonville visited Mr. Taylor's relatives on Broad River last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hall had guests last Sunday their children Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall, little daughter of Montreat, Mrs. Diner Prady of Bills Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pressley, Shelby and their daughter Ruth, who is a nurse in Winston Hospital in Asheville, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Owsley and daughter, Irene, of Bethlehem, visited Mr. Owsley's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Pressley Owsley and children on Broad River last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilliam and children of Crooked Creek visited friends on Broad River last Sunday afternoon.

Aunt Mae Gilliam had a stroke last week and is very ill. She hasn't been able to speak for several days.

Uncle Zack Smith is still very ill.

J. W. Stroud, who has been sick, is able to be around again.

MRS. MILOVITZ GIVES PROGRAM ON AFRICA

Mrs. Charles Burks and Mrs. Ruth Cunningham were hostesses to the Wesleyan Service Guild Monday night, March 2, in the fellowship room of the Methodist church with Mrs. J. L. Holman, Jr., presiding. During the worship service Mrs. Worth Burgess presented recordings of hymns made by her seventh grade school class.

A program on Africa was given under the leadership of Mrs. Andrew Milovity with Mrs. Thad McDonald and Mrs. Burgess assisting. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Those attending were: Mrs. John R. Bumgarner, Mrs. Bessie Carr, Mrs. Cortez Gaskins, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Harry Hyder, Mrs. Carl Kerlee, Jr., Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Milovitz, Miss Louise Patrick, Mrs. John Ramsay, Mrs. Gray Stephens, Mrs. Coleman Wright, Mrs. Mack Adams and the hostesses. Mrs. W. E. McDougle was a visitor at the meeting.

An ensign had been giving a certain blonde the once-over about a dozen times at a party. Finally, he moved over close to her.

"Pardon me," he said, "I'm with the United States Navy, who are you with?"
