Mrs. Fitzgerald was nominated on the first ballot by a unanimous vote. Other business women named for the honor were Mrs. Mary E. Aleshire, Miss Pauline Tipton, Mrs. W. S. Holcombe, Mrs. Gordon Greenwood, and Misses Anne and Lyde Wilson

Mrs. Fitzgerald, who was born and reared in Orlando, Fla., came to Black Mountain for her health of 1926. She spent several summers here before coming to make this her permanent home. If Black Mountain beats Candler Friday, there is more than an even chance that the Darkhorses and Oakley-Fairview will finish the season with identical records. A defeat for the locals would all but close the door and leave the Candler eleven with a clear road to the throne.

Last week Black Mountain removed one of the last obstacles and set up Friday's game as "the Billy Graham Greater game" by putting the skids under the Sand Hill Comets, 27-0. It was the first conference defeat for the visitors.

The Darkhorses wasted little time in maneuvering for position but scored the first time they had the ball. Forced to punt on the first series of downs following the kickoff, the Comets booted out to midfield. Acting very much like a wild horse turned out to pasture for the first time in the spring, the Darkhorse backs tore the Sand Hill line the various neighborhoods: Mrs. apart as they drove to the 15 G. L. Kirkpatrick, the section yard line. Swannanoa moved a step up the Buncombe County conference ladder last week by winning over the Weaverville - Barnardsville football machine, 13-0. This gives Coach Tommy Hornaday's crew a record of 2-2 with two league games left on the schedule.

After a scoreless first quarter the Warriors took over on their 40 in the second and went the full 60 yards on a sustained drive. Roy Suttles ploughed over for the

But the Warriors got a break in the fourth when they recovered a WB fumble deep in the losers' territory. Orren Bell went the last 12 yards for the score.

A fumble cut short a WB rally in the closing moments which had carried to the Swannanoa nine yard line.

Swannanoa racked up 12 first downs to seven for the losers and gained 262 yards on the ground to 127 for WB.

Bethel will furnish the opposition Friday afternoon at the homecoming and the 30th anniversary of the consolidation of the Swannanoa schools. Full information on homecoming appears elsewhere in this issue.
