

LEMENTARY SCHOOL ROUND-UP

You are privileged to live in a country where your opinions are a difference. You have probably been called upon many times to express domestic as well as international matters. One of the most important is: How can the United Nations bring peace to this world? We must all work together to improve this organization. This is United Nations week. United Nations may be your only hope for peace. Tomorrow's young people will be tomorrow's leaders. In 35 years from now will our world look like? Will it be peaceful or otherwise?

In Memphis, Tenn., some high school students started a religious organization. They are trying to emphasize the fact that they will work together for the better of the country, knowing that in later years they will be the ones to carry out our country's leadership.

Our individual family devotion brings the world closer together. Now more than ever families are being separated because of lack of home devotion. If more families would stay together, our world would be more likely to keep peace. Let us all work together for the good of our country and to fully uphold and support our United Nations.

First Grade.
Mrs. Dempsey Whitaker's first grade went up to the fire station on Tuesday. When they came to the stop light Mr. Allen, the policeman, met them with a nice welcome and a big smile. The children liked him very much. After helping them cross the street, he took them into the fire station and showed them the old and new fire trucks. He started the new one for them and turned on the hose. The children then went to the drug store and on to the depot. Mr. Allen went with them back to the school helping them with the stop lights. Then they thanked him for being kind.

Friday the children put to practice the things they had learned about fire safety. They elected Terry Talley as their fire chief and George Gordon Greenwood as the assistant. He led them to and from for the fire drill.

Miss Cauble's fourth grade invited Rev. W. W. Preston to speak to the Ridgecrest pupils last week. Robert Byrd introduced the speaker. Rev. Preston told us many interesting things about South America, and his experiences in Brazil. A delightful spit spoken in Portuguese was given by Rev. Preston and his daughter Ann. Having Rev. Preston with us made our class wish we were really going to South America instead of our imaginary trip like we are taking in geography. We appreciate Rev. Preston being our first assembly speaker.

HINTS TO HOMEMAKERS,

By Ruth Current.

BREADS—Kneading the dough for a half minute after mixing improves the texture of baking powder biscuits.

Biscuits are easier to cut and there will be less waste if the dough is sliced into squares with a sharp knife instead of cutting with round cutter.

The appearance of air bubbles or blisters on bread dough indicates that it has been sufficiently kneaded.

A glamorous pastry twist is created when you coat the pastry with melted cheese. Sprinkle with caraway seed.

There won't be any tunnels in muffins if the shortening is cut in instead of melted and then added.

For fluffier muffins put the batter into greased pans that are sizzling hot.

A baking sheet of bright metal without sides will give evenly browned biscuits.

To freshen rolls, sprinkle lightly with water, put into a paper bag and place in the warm oven.

When bread is too fresh to slice easily, chill it in the refrigerator before cutting.

When cutting bread for tea sandwiches, cut the slices the long way of the loaf.

A few slices of potato put into the lard while frying doughnuts will keep them from burning.

For a grilled sandwich of note, spread brown beans on toast, top with grated cheese, a slice of bacon and broil until the bacon is crisp.

—Newspapers are the world's cyclopedia of life; telling us everything from every quarter of the globe. They are a universal whispering gallery for mankind, only their whispers are sometimes thunder.—Tryon Edwards.
