

SENATOR LENNON REPORTS

WASHINGTON.—I have been impressed with the appeals from your letters both for and against Senate Joint Resolution 1, commonly referred to as the Bricker Amendment. This is a very involved Constitutional matter. Since coming to the Senate last July 15, I have discussed the proposed amendment and read just about everything available on the subject. I am sure many of you have done the same thing. I haven't felt like jumping on the stump and telling you that I know all the answers about a thing so important and complex. I am still studying it. At the time this is written, the debate on the floor of the Sen-miracle... in a nutshell!

Today's good telephone service will be even better tomorrow thanks to the transistor, a tiny electronic marvel that would fit in a nutshell.

The transistor — invented by Bell System scientists — can do the work of a vacuum tube used in telephone, radio and television equipment and many other things a vacuum tube can not do. It is so small and light, yet so strong and reliable, that it has been called the "mighty midget".

A miracle, yes — but only one of many Bell System advances along the road toward more and better telephone service. To bring these new advances and to keep service good and growing requires a fair profit on the money invested in telephone equipment.

ate is hot and furious. As one of my friends who was visiting the gallery during the debate said, "Alton, I don't see how a Philadelphia lawyer could get all the facts for and against a thing like that in five years of study—especially with 1267 pages of fine print in the testimony before the Judiciary Committee."

AMENDMENT

Senator Walter F. George of Georgia has offered a substitute amendment. Let me say that I consider him probably the most outstanding member of the Senate. He has been a member for 32 years, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and is now ranking minority member. He is considered one of the most prominent Constitutional lawyers in the country. Senator George's substitute amendment seems short and simple enough. After he introduced his amendment, I asked Senator George to brief me on his thinking. He did, in detail, and there were other Senators who joined me in listening to his explanation.

THE GEORGE SUBSTITUTE

What Senator George said, with the earnestness and sincerity of a scholar of the old school, I shall never forget. He said that amending the Constitution is serious business, and that no surplus of words should be used in a proposed amendment. He feels, and I most certainly agree, that the Constitution should be the supreme law of the land and supreme above everything, including international agreements. His amendment says that treaties or agreements which conflict with the Constitution shall not be legal and that no international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States except by act of Congress. Perhaps by the time you read this, the issue will have been settled and my vote recorded. I favor the George substitute as middle ground. Many of my colleagues fear that to insist on the Bricker amendment all the way would result in a complete defeat of all of the suggestions and the George substitute seems to provide, they say, the safeguards necessary. It would appear that Senator George has come to the forefront to again prove himself the

Christian Creek
 By Mrs. J. T. Dotson

We had the largest Sunday school attendance we have had in about two years last Sunday at Christian Creek. All the classrooms were almost filled and some rooms had to get more seats to seat the people. We are thankful to the Lord when we see our church growing in number as well as in spiritual growth. We had seven additions to the church last Sunday. We know that when people are trying to stay in one accord that others will come in and join us. We are still working on our classrooms as projects. The work is going along very nicely. We also plan to start a project of new pews for the church very soon.

The Rev. Wesley Grant brought a good message to us Saturday night at the Swannanoa Mission. One man was converted and many hearts were uplifted. We are already having to push a partition back in order to make room for the people. It seems that many are turned away each Saturday night because the mission is just too small to hold them all. We are praying that the Lord will continue to bless our efforts there and that many more souls will be won to Christ. We feel that Christ is coming very soon and we need, as Christians, to warn the lost to "flee from the wrath to come."

Everyone is cordially invited to attend our church services and mission services each time we meet. Each Saturday night at the Mission at 7 o'clock. Each Sunday morning and Sunday night and Wednesday night Bible study at the church. Pray that the Lord will have his way in all these services.

The Rev. M. L. Kirstein will preach at the Swannanoa Mission Saturday night.

The entire Swannanoa varsity scored with a vengeance to send the Christ Schoolers down to defeat. Swannanoa was ahead by 32 to 26 at the half but picked up steam in the last half to widen the margin considerably.
