Carver, R. W. Cook. April 19— W. C. Greene. April 20— Charles E. Spencer, A. B. Olson, Nora Craig. April 21— Charles Sanburn, Donna Lee Wasson.

Mrs. I. T. Brooks were there as guests. Minnie spent last week-end with the Joe Bruners in East Marion. She and Polly went to Forest City on Saturday to do some shopping. Vaden Marrett and family visited us briefly Sunday afternoon. A beautiful and expressive baptismal service was conducted at our church last Sunday night. Those baptized into our church were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nanney, Doris Nanney, Nana Owenby, and Earl Menace. A Mr. Thomas was baptized into the Christian church. We had many guests, including a large number from the Christian assembly, we are always glad to have these gracious neighbors with us, and are looking forward to many pleasant visits. Mr. and Mrs. Vaden Marrett furnished heavenly background music with violin and piano during the baptizing. The whole service was most satisfying. There will be a communion service at Mountain View this Thursday evening at 7:30. I was going to discontinue poetry, but Phil Stevens, who is doing the plumbing in a house where I am working now, took me to task for not having one last week. When a plumber gets to ripping around for poetry someone has to do something, so I'll dribble out a couple more. This is one of the few that I ever tried to do in dialect, I guess we'll just call it—

Spring. I'm just a illiterate mountaineer. But I can tell that spring is here. The squirrel's a cuttin' that maple yander, The settin' goose is guarded by the gander. Fur away the pheasants a drummin' An' the wild plum with bees is hummin'. Everywhere the frogs is hollerin', The yellar hen an' chicks is walerin'. I'll harness my critter an' go an' plow Fur spring is comin' anyhow.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ROUND-UP

By Linda Huneycutt, Dianne Nesbitt, Nancy DuPuy, Ann Perry, Susanne Wilson, Jimmy Page and Charles Thompson.

Easter is the season of Christian triumph. The blackness of Golgotha is dispelled, the dismal finality of the tomb of Arimathea cancelled and the bond of death broken by the tomb of the Risen Christ. "If Nature Slept" If nature slept through spring time And no white lilies raised their head Then I could doubt the resurrection... If Christ and Beauty both were dead.

—Mayme G. Miller. Why is it that the Easter lily blooms every year at Easter regardless of time? We believe in nature and Christ. For such is the faith of a Christian. Christian life, however, is more than belief. Because Christians believe, they act. "So faith by itself, if it has no works, is dead." (James 2:17). Many people think of Easter as a time for new clothes instead of the rest. Let's think more of Christ this Easter.

He Died! And with him perished all that man holds dear; Hope lay beside him in the sepulcher. Love grew coarse, cold and all things beautiful beside Died when he died. He Rose! And with him hope arose, and life and light. Men said, "Not Christ but Death died yesternight." And joy and truth and all things virtuous Rose when he rose.

—Author Unknown. The editors of Elementary School Round-Up started something new four weeks ago. Reporters for each room 4-7 were elected. Rooms which have news every week for four weeks are an honor class. The following names have had news for the last four weeks:

They especially liked the story about The Little Rabbit who wanted to be an Easter Rabbit. Also they had an art lesson on

MONTREAT

By Mrs. Mellinger Henry

The Montreat Presbyterian church held the Sunday morning worship service in Gaither Chapel at 11 o'clock. Dr. Wade Boggs, executive secretary of the Board of Annuitants and Relief, preached on "Unchangeable Love," based on the 5th verse of the 1st chapter of the Revelation. Next Sunday Dr. Joseph Hopper will preach. There will be a special offering for overseas relief. This offering back with us after being out all week. In our art lesson this week we made tray favors for the hospital Mrs. Beddingfield's Room. Reporter, Wayne Smith. Mrs. Beddingfield's room is studying the unit on astronomy in their science book. They have made a scale drawing of the solar system. The diagram covers the side blackboard, because the planets are drawn to scale size and distance in relation to the sun. They are learning much about the planets and other heavenly bodies from their research work and special class reports.

In their Human Relations class this week they had a special panel discussion on the importance of hobbies. Each person was given a different hobby to report on. Interesting talks were given by the following: Sarah Rickman, Wild flowers; Robert Wooten, Wood Burning; Mack Kirkpatrick, Coin Collecting. This was followed by class discussion. Seventh Grades. Reporter, Ann Solomon. We of Mrs. Burgess's class enjoyed making Easter cards for the Junior Red Cross. Our class will have charge of the devotion at P.T.A. Thursday night. We wish to thank Miss Tipton for exhibiting some of our art work in the A. A. W. art exhibit at the auditorium in Asheville this week. Those in our class sick this week are Phillip Stone, Mona Allen, and Roy Plennons.

Mrs. Sorrell's class. Reporters, Anne Woodcock and Ann Hall. Mrs. Sorrell's class is studying birds. Each pupil has chosen a bird and reported on it. They have written information in note books for future reference. They have been drawing pictures of various birds to put on the bulletin board. A collection of bird nests has been made and they are learning their identity. They hope as a climax to buy records of bird calls and songs.

Miss Lindsey's class would like to thank the Southern Railway Co. for the railroad kits they gave their class. They have enjoyed reading them and learning more about railroads. In their art class this week the boys and girls decorated eggs (ones blown out) for Easter. They have made men with black stove-pipe hats, cigarettes, pipes, glasses, and even bald-headed ones. Some of the girls made women with velvet hats and collars. The hats had veils on them and were quite fancy. There were some children also, made from eggs. The boys and girls had lots of fun.

THE MESSAGE OF EASTER On Easter Morn, The tender blades, the bursting buds And freshly tinted blooms, Are God's perennial words to us, That out of time-locked tombs In earth and air, He gives to Life a glad release From grave-clothes everywhere.

And even so, From our cold shrouds Of doubt and deep despair, Christ's love can give a glad release Into a new-born life Of hope and joy and peace, Which we, with Him, our Risen Lord, May ever and forever share. James P. Parker, Creative Writing Club.

"My Best Buy of the Year" Having a telephone put in our farm home was my best buy last year. It saves valuable time in ordering groceries, or getting a doctor or help from a neighbor. It gives me to chat with a neighbor, invite someone to church, inquire about a sick friend, or receive long distance calls from my children in other states—in all these ways the telephone makes our farm life more worth-while. "Mrs. I. E. Bazzell, Route 1, Box 164, Mountain Creek, Alabama." A lot of people everywhere feel as Mrs. Bazzell does — that the telephone is their "best buy". On farms, in cities, day in and day out, the telephone serves in so many big and little ways. Yet its cost is small, less than a penny an hour for the average family.
