FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
64 North French Broad Avenue Asheville, N. C.

How we may prove and experience man's God-given dominion over material bondage of all kinds—sin, disease, and limitation—will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "MATTER." The spiritual heritage of freedom which belongs to man is set forth in the following selection from the Bible (Galatians 4:6-7): "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (223:3): "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit."

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ROUND-UP

Well, here it is school time again; and whether we admit it or not, we're glad to be back again. It's good to see our friends again, and most important of all, it's good to be learning and experiencing things to take our places in our community, state, and nation, as grownup citizens. There are several changes in the elementary school this year. The four sections of the eighth grade are in the elementary building. Eleven classes of third, fourth, and fifth graders are at Ridgcrest—a total of three hundred seventy-five pupils. New teachers this year are Mrs. Clara Kelly, eighth grade; Mrs. Olla Mae Carson, seventh grade; Miss Ruth Gilbert, fifth grade; Miss Mary Williams, Bible. Mrs. Dempsey Whitaker is back in the first grade. Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker's young daughter Leslie Renee has visited school but only after hours. Some of the same reporters who worked on this column last year are back at their old jobs because this year the eighth grade is taking over the column as Mrs. Ruth Cunningham is sponsor.

SIXTH GRADE
Mrs. Stubbs sixth grade has been studying how the first people lived, and we have become interested in some of the weapons; such as spears, bows, arrows, and hatchets. Pete McFee brought his collection of twenty-nine arrowheads and a piece of pottery.

SEVENTH GRADE
Mrs. Burgess's room welcomes Larry Taylor from Detroit, Michigan to their class. Their big project for the fall semester is to be in science. They are planning and collecting an exhibit of things native Western North Carolina, such as rocks, flowers, trees, leaves, wood carvings, which they will exchange with a science class in Myrtle Beach, S. C., for a collection of sea shells and animals from the sea. Mrs. J. L. Byrd is the science teacher of the Myrtle Beach class making the collection. Mrs. Sorrell's class is helping with the Western North Carolina collection. They are specializing in flowers. They wish to thank the Myrtle Beach class and will appreciate anything anybody wishes to add to their collection. They plan to share the Myrtle Beach collection with the entire class. Judy Byrd and Betty Pollard will be our class reporters.

Students From 11 States Register

MONTREAT, Sept. 10—Students from 11 states have registered for the 1954-55 fall term at Montreat Preparatory School for Girls. Principal Annie Webb announced today.

Girls from North Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia, South Carolina, Ohio, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Alabama are enrolled. A total of 54 students, 29 new and 25 returnees from last year, are numbered in the initial registration.

Two new instructors also are present this year. Miss Cassandra Stockburger of Cleveland, Tenn., will teach English and Miss Elizabeth Woodhouse from Montreat and Concord, N. C., formerly an instructor in both Montreat College and Montreat Preparatory School, will teach algebra.

The student body includes 15 seniors, 16 juniors, 11 sophomores and 12 freshmen. Registration was conducted Monday with classes beginning on Tuesday.

working out problems also are the Hunt family's vacation trip. They are finding the study of North Carolina history very interesting. Last week they drew maps of the North Carolina coast line which is known as the "graveyard of the Atlantic."

Mrs. Kelly's eighth grade has been drawing maps of North Carolina, and some have been drawing pictures to go along with their history. Also dolls are being made of historic times.

Mr. Gouge, president, Pegg Jo Harris, vice-pres., Dianne Nesbitt, secretary, Linda Hunnicutt, treasurer, Ted Tilly.

Mrs. Wiggins' eighth grade has been working on their chapel program. The program will take place on Oct. 1. The students of her room have been very interested in the subject for their program. Mrs. Wiggins' room wants to welcome three new pupils. They are: Norma Mitchell from Washington school, Carmi, Ill.; Donald Runyon from Pine Forest school, Marietta, Ga.; Sarah Sisk from Marion High school, Marion, N. C.

This year under the leadership of Mrs. A. W. McDougale the sixth, seventh and eighth grades have started a youth chorus of mixed voices.

This is the first year Mrs. McDougale has tried to have a choir of this kind in Black Mountain.

There are great plans for it and we wish it luck. Mrs. Clara Kelly and Mrs. Billie Burgess will assist Mrs. McDougale.

North Carolina's 1954 lamb crop (lambs living on June 1 or sold before June 1) totaled 41,000 head, compared with 39,000 a year earlier.

—Based on current reports North Carolina's 1954 average wheat yield is placed at 21.5 bushels per acre, the second highest on record.

THIS MORNING A CHIPMUNK

This morning a chipmunk darted in To my slow day's inaction; He scampered and scuttled and frisked about With frivolous satisfaction.

Rather a trivial sight, I suppose, And a very trivial sound, A chipmunk whisking his fairy feet Over the pebbled ground.

What did I do about him? you ask. Nothing. What was there to do? And the chipmunk did nothing at all about me; He wasn't expected to.

So the chipmunk-man relationship Remains as it was before This brown-triped presence scurried about In front of my cottage door.

And as far as I am able to see, Nothing was made to vary Except the pattern of this good day, Which might have been ordinary.

—Bessie Marlin Mason

Only those who live "in the woods" are privileged to watch chipmunks scamper, scuttle and frisk about "A chipmunk whisking his fairy feet over the pebbled ground" does not always scurry about in "privolous satisfaction", now they are busy eating scorns and storing many for their winter
