A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the hostess to Mrs. Verlon Morris, Mrs. A. E. Knoefel Sr., Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Howard Harris, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Raymond Clements, Mrs. Ruth Beddingfield, Mrs. Garland Stepp, Mrs. Duglison, and the hostess.

Meringue for pie baked at once:
3 egg whites
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
6 tsp. sugar
Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until frothy. Add sugar gradually, beating until meringue holds in firm glossy peaks. Spread meringue on pie. Bake at 400 degree F. for 7 to 10 minutes or until brown.

Meringue for frozen pie:
If you use frozen egg whites, thaw to room temperature before beating. Follow directions above but brown in a 350 degree F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Eugene Byrd is having his farm house painted and repaired out here on North Fork.

Mountain View church is in the market for some baby beds and play pens, so if you have arrived at that time of life when you stop adding to the population and have some of these items left over in the way we would like to hear from you.

Judy Byrd led singing at prayer services last Wednesday night, and did a very good job of it. Janie Byrd rendered a couple of special songs to her own guitar accompaniment.

A most satisfying meeting was held by our W.M.U. Circle last Tuesday night at the church. Twelve ladies were present. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Bessie Mooring is seriously ill. Her son Henry is also under the weather.

I do not know about the other departments at Beacon, but the cardroom is loaded with talented and illustrious people. Take Bill McElreath for instance. He is a past master of chorography, doing all sorts of dances, soft shoe, clog, and tap, besides playing any instrument that has strings on it.

He goes to all the folk festivals, contests, etc. He has won four state trophies. He came here from Canton in 1923, and has been with Beacon since. The company is very considerate about letting him off to find outlet for his art.

Then there is our gifted caricaturist, Dan Scott of West Asheville, and formerly from West Virginia. A few nights ago Emory Whitaker and Jim McFee had to take inventory. Jim got me to drive his car home and bring Mr. Whitaker's rier, Mr. Farr, napping room overseer. Emory got Dan to draw a caricature of Mr. Farr so that I would know him, when he got into the car I opened up the picture and compared it, and told him what I was going. Mr. Farr liked the joke very well, and carried the picture home with him, and asked his wife who she thought it was. "Why, that is a picture of you, Honey," she said. Dan draws pictures of everyone, giving ludicrous exaggeration to facial and body characteristics. One fellow got in a huff, sent the picture back and advised him to use it place of tissue.

I must tell you a little about "Pappy Akins." Jim got me to drive his car home and bring Mr. Whitaker's rier, Mr. Farr, napping room overseer. loved Alf Tyson. This jovial and handsome man will be sorely missed around town, with a pleasant smile and jolly story for everyone, and a gracious gentleman to the fingertips. We not only extend sympathy to the bereaved family, but to the town as well, for here is a gap that cannot be filled. Mr. Tyson originated on North Fork, and is prominent in the richness of our background. I had a very pleasant walk Sunday afternoon—Thad Burnette and Grady Jordan bulldozed a road from Grady's place around through the Johnse cove. I had never been over this road, so I decided to see if my legs would still work. I picked chinquapins along the way and saw three squirrels (poor things must be short of food to be out at three o'clock in the afternoon). There must have been a hundred crows copulating along the top of the Middle Mountain. Fields that I can remember being in corn are in deep woods now. Goldenrod and asters are blooming profusely in the old Bill Stepp fields. I saw a yellowjacket's nest in the bank of the road, but there didn't seem to be anyone at home—yellowjackets get the wanderlust in the fall of the year. This was the longest walk that I have taken in many a day.

HERE'S A REMINDER TO VETS JUST BEING DISCHARGED. THE KOREAN GI BILL WILL NOT PERMIT YOU TO TRAIN FOR JOBS YOU ALREADY ARE QUALIFIED TO FILL

For full information contact your nearest VETERANS ADMINISTRATION office.

For the benefit of post-Korean veterans, the Veterans Administration supplied a list of questions and answers on the education and training program of the Korean GI Bill, Public Law 550, dealing with eligibility requirements and the length of training that can be taken. They are as follows:

Q—Just what is the education and training program of the Korean GI Bill?

A—It is a program of furnishing financial aid for schooling and training to eligible veterans who served after June 27, 1950, the date of the outbreak of the Korean conflict.

Q—Who is eligible for training?

A—A veteran is eligible if he meets all of these requirements: (1) a discharge or release from service under conditions other than dishonorable; (2) active military duty any time after June 27, 1950, and before the end of the present emergency; and (3) at least 90 days total service, unless discharged sooner for an actual service-incurred disability.

ON A MOUNTAIN

Call me Midas, I of empty pockets
Through whose cabin windows go early
Shafts of yellow treasure: mountain dawn,
At whose door is poured new minted silver
Of a glacial creek, I am Croesus
Where every morning pearls flash pendant from
The arching cedar and the slender er spruce.
Call me a prince, an overlord
of all
This high domain that reaches to the snow,
Its misty turquoise brimming each ravine

Q—Must a veteran have served in Korea to be eligible for the training benefits?

A—No. He may have served in the Armed Forces any place in the world—in the United States or abroad—and not necessarily in Korea.

Q—Are there any kinds of military service that do not count, in figuring whether a veteran has enough service to qualify?

A—Two types of service do not count: time spent in a civilian school studying courses offered to civilians, and time spent as a cadet or midshipman in one of the Service academies.

Q—Assume that a veteran meets all the requirements for training. May he enroll under the Korean GI Bill even though he has gone back on active duty and is in uniform?

A—No. Veterans are not eligible for Korean GI Bill training while on active duty, even though they meet all the law's basic requirements.

Q—How much training entitlement does a veteran get?

A—An eligible veteran's maximum period of entitlement is computed on the basis of one and one-half days for each day spent in service on and after June 27, 1950, and prior to the end of the present emergency period.

Q—What is the top amount of training a veteran may receive?

A—The maximum is 36 months of training.

Q—How much Korean GI Bill training is allowed to a veteran who previously had trained under the World War II GI Bill or Public Laws 16 or 894 for the disabled?

A—Such a veteran must subtract the period of training he already had from 48 months. His entitlement under the Korean GI Bill may not exceed this difference. Also, it must come within the 36-month limit and may not exceed his entitlement based on his service.

HOW TO FREEZE MERINGUE PIES

is the fact that lemon meringue pie is just as simple to freeze as any other kind and has more advantages—if you use a few little tricks. Thanks to modern conveniences like a home freezer, it is easy to bake two pies at once, eat one and freeze the other for a future day. The frozen one will be just as good as the one you ate the day you baked it.

For best results, freeze the baked pie shell with only the filling in it. Freeze the unbeaten egg whites to be used for the meringue separately, or use them up and make the meringue with fresh egg whites when the time comes. When you have made the meringue, it goes right on the frozen pie and immediately into a 350 degree F. oven, where it will brown in 15 to 20 minutes. Because you have spread the meringue on a cold pie, it acts as an insulator (like Baked Alaska), and will cool in less time than usual after you take it from the oven.

Lemon Meringue Pie for the Freezer

2-2/3 C. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 C. cornstarch
3 C. hot water
6 egg yolks
2/3 C. fresh lemon juice
2 tsp. grated lemon peel
2 tsp. butter
2 - 9-inch baked pie shells
Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch in pan. Add hot water gradually, cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until thickened and clear
