

Library News

Anyone who wants to learn "the strange and wonderful ways of mammals, birds, reptiles, fishes, and insects" can get this kind of information now in the Black Mountain Library.

This history has been written by seven outstanding scientists and distinguished naturalists on the staffs of the American Museum of Natural History and the New York Zoological Society, under the direction of Frederick Drimmer, editor-in-chief.

um of Natural History and the New York Zoological Society, under the direction of Frederick Drimmer, editor-in-chief. These men, however, are not dry-as-dust museum specialists.

Here is easy reading for both old and young. Although the information is thoroughly scientific, technical language has been avoided. Here, also, is entertaining reading, for the authors have given us not only the evolution of all living creatures except man but stories of the oddities of animal life.

... ramblings

We are still in Raleigh. Sudie has been sick and confined to her room most of the time since we arrived on the 2nd day of October. For that reason we have not done several things we had planned to do before we came.

Ridgecrest potpourri. Autos at the rate of 20 per minute, 1200 an hour, or 14,400 in 12 hours rushing by on the super highway in a 12 hour day; the moon over the mountain at night, bull dozers clearing roads and building sites at Camp Crestridge for Girls;

GIRL SCOUT NEWS TROOP 89. We met on Oct. 11, collected dues, and discussed which field the second class rank we would work on first. We decided we would do outdoor activities because it would soon be cold.

charge of the Sunday school; Lawrence Gill on his way home from work with a dinner basket hanging on his arm; carpenters, masons, helpers, truck drivers gathering at the work shop ready for a day's work; W. M. Pate rushing around with his hand full of notes on things to be done; Willard Weeks at his desk signing letters and Greenlee sweeping the offices and rushing off to the postoffice in a station wagon; Joe Hollifield telling a corps of workmen what comes next on the day's schedule; Dr. Hight C Moore shaking hands with neighbors at the postoffice; school children boarding the bus; Bixie's handmaiden, Mrs. Leonard at Harris store; Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Paul Harris rushing to meet a train; four diesel engines dragging a hundred box cars over the mountain; James Allison running a lawn mower; Mrs. Wm. L. Hatcher walking fast to post letters and catch a bus; Dr. Hatcher leisurely swinging a cane.

Need For Nurses Far Outstrips Supply Available

More nurses than ever before in the history of the nation are currently providing nursing care in America's hospitals, health agencies and homes.

Still more nurses are needed. Why? Because demands for nursing service continue to outstrip the supply of nurses. More hospitals and health agencies are being built or expanding their facilities and services.

BROAD RIVER

By Mrs. M. M. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lytle and children Jimmy and Pamela of Winston-Salem, spent last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ledbetter on Broad River and Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Lytle on Bald Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stroud had as guests over the week-end their daughters Bulah and Ruth Stroud and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Nodolski and daughter Carol Ann of Asheville. We had as dinner guests the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Hollifield and children of Shingle Hollow. Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis visited in Burke county last Sunday. The Bald Mountain people had a chicken fry on Bald Mountain last Saturday evening.
