Oteen News

By Mrs. Mae Swann

The Rev. Wallace L. Bierer, pastor of Oteen Baptist church, brought an inspiring message of "Dedication" at the 11:00 o'clock worship service Sunday morning, Nov. 21. Robert Clayton, superintendent of Sunday school at Oteen, brought the evening message. Mr. Clayton, who recently dedicated his life to full time Christian service, preached at New Found Baptist church Sunday morning.

Miss Deunsh of the Asheville Gospel Tabernacle was guest speaker in the Training Union at Oteen church Sunday night. Circle 2 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Bethesda Methodist church met Thursday night Nov. 18, in the home of Mrs. N. B. Sheppard. Mrs. Eva Buckner presided. Opening prayer was by Mrs. Inez Swann. Reports were heard from standing committees. A love offering of $5.00 was reported. Mrs. Charles Webb, president, read a card of thanks from Mr. Carl Deaton. The date of the next meeting was changed from the third Thursday in the month to the second Thursday in the month due to conflict with Biltmore P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. J. H. Weyer presented the program on "Work of the Women in India and Pakistan". Others on the program were Mrs. Inez Swann, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. James Luck. During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Weyer. Members present other than those mentioned were: Mrs. Mary Burnette, Mrs. George Culbreth, Mrs. P. M. Carson and Mrs. Kathleen Bird. Mrs. Culbreth dismissed the meeting with prayer. "O Come Let Us Worship," was the title of the Thanksgiving program conducted by the M.Y.F. of Bethesda Methodist church Sunday evening, Nov. 21, at the REFLECTIONS— From Page 1 An Injured Reader Fan letter No. 2 comes from a man who calls himself "An Injured Reader." Among other he says it isn't so and sets me right on several points which have been under fire since the News hit the streets last week. The injured reader threatened suit, but all the lawyers had closed their offices for the Wednesday afternoon holiday before he read the article and by next morning it didn't sound as bad as he first thought. This is the same gentleman who offers this choice bit of advice: "Never call a man on the phone or go see him to give a piece of your mind. Write it down, even if you have to sit up until the wee hours of the morning to do it, and chances are you'll be more disgusted with yourself than you are with the culprit by the time the mail train runs and you'll throw the letter away." But for the sake of the records here's one letter he DIDN'T THROW AWAY. Dear Editor: Re your story in last week's Reflections. I seem to be one of the parties thereof, in fact the injured party, and would like to set you straight on the following points: 1. It was the lady's husband who made the remark as to the driving habits of the natives of our sister state. 2. Although I will admit there was dust and gravel flying, I did stop in plenty of time and room for the lady to proceed on her way. 3. I do not like the term "barreling". It leaves the implication that one had been imbibing of the fermented grain and malt that comes in barrels. Yours very truly, An injured reader.

RIDGECREST ramblings

Eighteen years nine months and sixteen days ago almost to the hour we arrived at Ridgecrest. Happy years and months and days they have been. We would like to spend the rest of our lives at that delightful place among our lovely friends there, but time brings changes and it has dealt us another shift. Our new address is the Virginian, Montreat road, Black Mountain.

Our friends and neighbors are invited to see us at our new address. Soon we will write a paragraph on "How it feels to retire and move one's earthly possessions to a new place to live." Monday was a strenuous day for us but the load was made lighter when Willie M. Pate and a group of helpers came to our rescue with a couple of trucks and in less than four hours had us moved without any trouble at all. We are among new neighbors. Ole friends they are, at least most of them have been our friends during these 18 years and we are now ready for "Heap of living from now on." Oh, yes, our new telephone number is 7755. Give us a ring, please.

Two very useful, helpful, and charming girls came to our house Sunday afternoon to take our census while others visited the homes in our community making a count of the Sunday school possibilities living in this community. If all the workers did as well and were as efficient as Ann Carr Perry and Faye Peek, there can be no doubt that a good job was done. Our new superintendent, W. L. Snypes, is a progressive leader who is working hard at the task of being superintendent. We do not doubt that all will be enrolled this year in the Bible school.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hobart Lee, Beverly Hills, Asheville, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pate. George Pickering was called from the Book Store, Charlotte, Tuesday of last week to Mendham, Miss., on account of the death of his grandfather. Mr. Pickering returned to Ridgecrest following the services. Step by step our church makes progress. The latest physical adjustment is an electrically lighted bulletin board to call our attention to the hours of services, the weekly program of the church, special activities of the congregation, and to arrest the attention of the passerby, and in a general way give out information to all who pass our way.

Goldsboro, North Carolina, returned by way of Ridgecrest from the Baptist State convention in Charlotte last week and paid the Moores a short visit. Mr. Matthews was the first student to register at State college, Raleigh, N. C., then the North Carolina Agriculture and Mechanical college. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Weeks and Mrs. W. M. Pate attended the Civic Music concert at the City Auditorium, Asheville, last week.

Progress is made daily on building and development of Camp Crestridge for Girls which is located in the shadow of Rattlesnake knob. Several buildings are nearing completion. The institution will be ready for opening next June, according to Willard K. Weeks, general manager of Ridgecrest Assembly. The work is being done by contractor Joe Hollifield and his corps of workers. About 100 girls will be accepted next summer.

The first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated by the Plymouth colony after the harvest of 1621 and for years the festival was almost exclusively a New England institution celebrated by religious services in the churches. Since the Civil War the President has regularly proclaimed the day which usually is the last Thursday in November. We have much for which to be thankful.
