S. E. Jennette, Black Mountain manager for Southern Bell Telephone company, today made public the 33-word clause over which the Telephone Union has threatened a Southwide strike and revealed how its provisions would affect telephone users.

The clause proposed by the company reads as follows: "As the parties have agreed on procedures for handling employee complaints and grievances, they further agree that there will be no lockouts, slowdowns, or other work stoppages during the life of this agreement." The purpose of the clause is to assure uninterrupted service to the public, Mr. Jennette said, and to end walkouts without warning which are called to bring pressure to bear on the company. There have been 105 such walkouts since This is the Happy Four Quartet mid-1951 he said. At the time
