

BLACK MOUNTAIN O.E.S. WILL HAVE BAKE SALE

The Black Mountain O.E.S. will hold a bake sale Saturday at Tyson Furniture store, beginning at 8 o'clock.

There will be a large selection of baked items to choose from. Why worry with your week end baking when you can buy from the O.E.S. at a reasonable price? Come early.

A few people have asked me if my brother, Ernest, had moved when I gave his address recently as Stratford road. He lives where he has for years which is just off the highway, a short distance below the Beaver Lake dam.

Jim Powlas, head grinder in the card room, was off on vacation last week. He went to Myrtle Beach, and although the beach was sparkling with varied types of Bikini bathing dress, he only stayed one day and headed back to the coolness of the hills.

Monday night, July 11, Minnie and I went with the James Northcotts and Dempsey Whitakers to Mr. Northcott's beautiful cabin on Broad River to a most delicious supper given by the Wesleyan Service Guild, and the ladies had invited their husbands. We went on early so that I would have a chance to look about the place. Although it is only a whisper off the road, it is like being in the forest primeval, with the poplar and cucumber trees bending down to brush one's shoulder as one walks the wood trails, and always there is the delightful sympathy of the morning stream. The ladies set a most delicious supper to which we did ample justice, eating on the spacious veranda.

We made a number of new friends, the folks had brought their children and Renne Whitaker really did have a time playing with them. After the guests had left, we unpinned our hair and let it fall about our shoulders; we gathered around the piano, and Minnie and I sang a number of old hymns to choral accompaniment. The folks seemed to enjoy this. So ended a perfect evening.

There was a record-breaking prayer meeting at Mountain View last Wednesday evening.

Renne Whitaker, Minnie, and I had a nice visit with the Clyde Grays last Thursday night. Shreven Lee and Renne were playing with each other. The Earl Langtons also visited the Grays that evening.

We attended the Garden club meeting at the community club house on Friday night. Fred Schnelz showed some of his remarkable collection of wild flower color slides. Mrs. William Styles narrated as they were shown. Punch and cookies were served after the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Glass of Riceville came as our guests. They liked the club very much. As the slides were shown, Mr. Schnelz would put one on the screen at intervals and have the non-members guess what it was. As a prize he would give the first one that rightly named the flower one of his lovely love vases. We were so glad that our guest got one of these.

We went to East Marion on Saturday night and spent the week end with the Joe Bruners. I slept all the time except when we went to church. Minnie and Polly visited some of their relatives Saturday night, but I snoozed at home. Ever since Joe, Polly, and Ralph joined the West Court Baptist church, we have wanted to attend services there, so we went with them Sunday morning. Something amusing always happens to me, I guess it is because I'm so dumb. Joe and I went into our Sunday school class, they gave me a visitors leaflet, and as I sat down I noticed that a man in the back of the room was keeping his small child. Later a bobby-oxer came in and handed back another colorful folder. I took it for granted that it was for me, also, so I took it and started looking at the nice Bible pictures on it. Joe leaned over and whispered, "That is for the little girl." I shamefacedly handed it on back to the youngster who was looking tiny daggers at me.

Only a few years ago a group of consecrated men and women started working in a small and obscure church. Today they have a commodious block building whose sanctuary will seat nearly 500, with 16 educational rooms. They have both organ and piano, with a choir of 60 voices that can surely sing. The people had started shouting before the song service was over. As soon as the Rev. Ray Long went into the pulpit one could feel his magnetic spirituality. I had heard much about this man, and we greatly enjoyed his sermon. He says that he has only been converted a little over six years. It is also said that you can find someone praying in this church almost constantly. These services are broadcast over the Marion station Sunday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock.

No matter where we go Mountain View excels in certain things which we will not set forth at this time. We might tell you more about churches that we have known later on.

As we came home Sunday evening we stopped with Mr. and Mrs. Pink Lewis of Old Fort and had coffee and pineapple upside down cake. And so home to a satisfying service at our own church.

It is with deep sorrow that we heard of the passing of Mr. J. W. Bergthold. He has been a close friend for many years, one of our most cherished Gentle Readers, and a member of the Garden club whose value just can't be with deep sympathy to the bereaved widow, and take unto ourselves a memory that will always be mellow and sweet.

SHOPE CREEK

By Mrs. Thelma Buckner
Rt. 2 — Asheville, N. C.

The Clontz reunion was again held at the home of Mrs. Anna Gregg of upper Shope Creek July 9. There were 55 relatives present. Dinner was served picnic style and a good time was had by all.

On July 6 a crowd gathered at the home of G. R. Creamsman of Jones Cove for outdoor supper. There were 38 present. After eating all gathered in the house to enjoy some singing and string music.

Mrs. Anna Gregg and Mrs. Thelma Buckner of Shope Creek spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingle Jr. of Black Mountain. On Sunday, July 10 Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. Buckner, and Mrs. Ingle motored to Beavertown to visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Gregg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller and boys, Billy and Marvin, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gregg and small son Robin Sunday night and ate watermelon.

Mrs. W. S. Burling of Rippling Waters farm and her friend, Mrs. Allen of Florida, visited Mrs. Anna Gregg and Mrs. Thelma Buckner Wednesday last week. The residents of Shope Creek are proud of the new road. It has been gravelled and several sharp curves have been straightened. Later part of it will be paved.

The mail has been extended farther up the creek.

Thelma Buckner found a big copperhead beside the path at her home Wednesday evening. Her brother, Clinton Gregg, and Uncle Troy Gregg came and killed it.

Marion Gragg has traded cars. He is now the owner of a 1947 Ford.

Mrs. Anna Gregg fell in her home last week and got hurt pretty bad. The doctor taped up her bruised side and ribs.

Mrs. Audrey Creamsman of Jones Cove spent last week with her mother and sister on Shope Creek.

Marion Gragg killed a big rattlesnake on the head of Shope Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moody and son Jerry have returned to Detroit, Mich. after two weeks' vacation in North Carolina. Mrs. Moody is the daughter of Mrs. Thelma Buckner.

Mrs. Anna Gregg was hostess to a Stanley party Saturday night at her home. Fifteen women were present. A large sale was made, after which refreshments were served.

Another new home is being built on Shope Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Hindren of Florida are the owners.

Mrs. Clinton Gregg visited her mother, Mrs. Minnie Jenkins of Oteen, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holman Jr. returned Wednesday from Atlanta where they attended the Southeastern Gift and China show. Hugh was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Bittinger while his parents were away.

MRS. WAYNE ROLAND IS HOSTESS TO KERLEE WMS

The W.M.S. from Kerlee Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Roland on July 15. The devotionals were brought by the president Mrs. O. Q. Surratt, reading from Acts and closed by Mrs. Walter Bartlett leading in prayer.

Mrs. Lee Kerlee, secretary, read the monthly report. Mrs. Pinkney Riddle spoke on "All Roads Lead to London", bringing out interesting points of the program. The hymn, "All Hail the Power", was used in the program. During the business and social hour that followed the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Lee Kerlee, served lovely refreshments to those present. Mrs. Pinkney Riddle, Mrs. M. G. Bradley, Mrs. Walter Bartlett, Mrs. Pat McMahan, Mrs. O. Q. Surratt, Mrs. Roy Burgin, Mrs. Cordie Bartlett, and Mrs. C. E. Cordell.

ANTARCTIC COLOR

The Antarctic Continent, which according to scientists has been barren of color for millions of years, will blossom out during the coming Antarctic Summer in brilliant orange, blue, scarlet, green, and even black. The occasion for the new coloring will be the appearance of the U. S. Navy's Task Force 43 scheduled to arrive at Little America in late December (mid-summer in the Antarctic). Personnel of the Task Force, officially dubbed "Operation Deep-freeze", will don outer garments of brilliant, contrasting colors for protective and psychological measures.
