Our pastor, the Rev. Eugene Byrd, as you probably know, spoke at the Burnett-Shope reunion on Bee Tree. Minnie went on as he did, and as soon as I got out of church I fired up the Chevvy and breezed down in time for lunch. The afternoon was given over to singing with W. C. Shope as master of ceremonies. It's been a long time since I heard so many top singers and musicians together in one place. It was one of those programs that one remember for lifetime.

When the crowd started to leave, we went up to the Bee Tree dam, and had a cozy visit with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reese.

doing very well with it. Several years ago a friend of ours, a young lady in her early twenties, married a man that must have been past 60. As one would expect he was fairly "well fixed," although, she did not "marry for money." There was a deep and abiding need for each other that some people couldn't understand. It was our pleasure to spend time with this couple recently, the girl had grown more beautiful, they seemed to be extremely hap-py. We asked them candidly how sured us that their years together had been exceedingly pleasant ones and one could tell that it was so. Yes, girls, it is sometimes better to be "an old man's darl-
