SHOPE CREEK

By Mrs. Thelma Buckner
Rt. 2 — Asheville, N. C.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingle Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bud Whitaker and Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sands, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ingle and Dorothy, went to West Asheville to a birthday dinner for Mrs. Ingle's aunt, Mrs. N. J. Rickman, who was 100 years young on Sept. 13. A large crowd attended, including relatives from neighboring states. Mrs. Rickman received many lovely flowers and gifts. She had the misfortune of a broken hip a few years ago but came through fine and is able to maneuver without the aid of a cane. Neither does she use glasses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson and children motored to Mt. Mitchell last Sunday. They report that it was chilly and raining but after a while the sun came out. They also said that they saw the awful wreck at Patton Cove road crossing that killed one man and injured four children.

Billy Fuller, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fuller, suffered a bad cut on his leg when he fell from a tree in the yard at his home. He was taken to the family doctor who sent him to the hospital. It required several stitches to close the wound. He will be out of school for a few days.

Wilbur G. Cressman has re-enlisted in the Navy. He went to Columbia, S. C., Tuesday for his physical and reported for active duty Sept. 20.

Wayne Nicks celebrated his birthday, Sept. 14, by having a few friends in for supper.

Another Stanley party was given Saturday night with Mrs. Evelyn Fuller as hostess. Thirteen women were present and were served doughnuts, coffee, and hot chocolate.

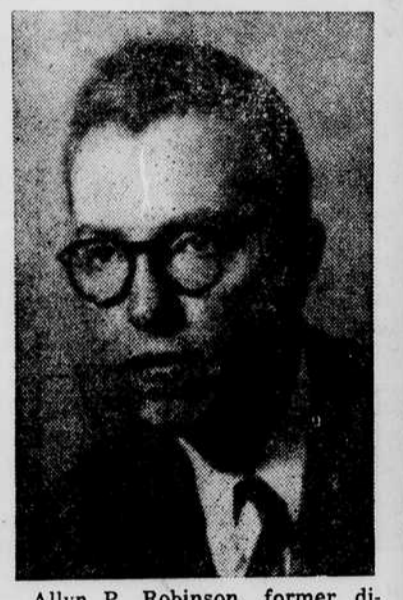

Those in the camping party that went to Carolina Hemlock Friday night were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shope, C. W. Shope, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cressman and Wilbur, Ronnie and Cathy King, Mrs. Anna Gregg and Thelma Buckner. The weather was perfect and the crowd jolly. We brewed coffee and roasted wieners and marshmallows until the wee hours of the morning. Then with the gentle zephyrs whispering in the tree tops above us, some of us slept, some didn't.

There is plenty of eye appeal along the mountain side. Besides the coloring of the leaves, there is the mountain ash with its clusters of crimson berries, very beautiful indeed. Even the scraggy, gnarled old trees have an attraction for the passersby. All of the beauties of nature are enthralling. Mrs. Anna Gregg and Mrs. Thelma Buckner have as their guest this week, Mrs. J. W. Buckner of Arden.

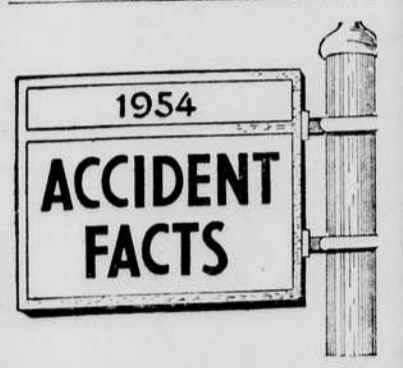

We attended the old folks day at Riceville Sunday. We don't see as many of our dear old people out now as used to attend. I can remember a time when a special corner was reserved for them, but they have all passed on to their reward.

Piecing quilt blocks is a very good winter pastime. My mom and I pieced several last winter. I pieced one called the little bow tie. The blocks are about two inches square and there are 753 blocks in the quilt. These two set together with about as many solid yellow squares. It was quilted last week and now I can show you the finished product.

Saturday morning before leaving camp, Mrs. Anna Gregg happened to a little accident. She fell, striking her head against a log, cutting an ugly gash.

Allyn P. Robinson, former director of the Commission on Religious Organizations of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, has been named Director of the Greater New York Area office of the organization it was announced Saturday, September 17, by Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, NCCJ president. Mr. Robinson is a summer resident of Black Mountain.

RALEIGH — Licensed Tar Heel drivers were involved in most of the state's fatal auto wrecks last year says the Motor Vehicles department. There were 871 North Carolinians involved in fatal accidents, 42 were state residents but had no license, 115 were licensed out-of-staters, and 10 were unlicensed out-of-staters. And most of the fatal accident car drivers resided in rural areas. Also most of the accidents occurred within 25 miles of the driver's home.
