KIDD BREWER'S Raleigh Roundup

(Thursday, Jan. 26)

THE SEASON. — The old farm almanacs used to advise you for this month to cut back your grapevines, clean up your hedgerows, complete your plant bed, and prune your apple trees. Sap-rising time was just around the corner.

Over a political column carried last week, one of the dailies in North Carolina ran the headline: "Sap begins rising in N. C. Politics."

That's pretty good headline-writing . . . and it tells a story. And, even though every member of the 1955 Legislature lost a minimum of $1,000 in cold cash through participating in the State's longest session, the majority of those who were here last year plan to run again for the office.

Each day you pick up the paper, you see about somebody else announcing. Of course, because of rotation among the counties of the districts, a whole passel of the fifty senators will not be back—and we are losing some good men because of that—but the majority will . . . and it's in the House where you have 120 members.

That old veteran, Jim Vogler of Mecklenburg, announced last week . . . and the only female member of the 1953 and 1955 sessions—Mrs. Grace Taylor Rodenbough of Stokes County—announced she would be a candidate to succeed herself.

There will be many a frost-bere Primary day—and the winter still hovers over us—but the political sap is rising and interesting announcements are in the offing.

WHY?—Why do they want to come back to Raleigh, when only seven months ago they were up-and-down they would never be back? The answer is that they want to be a cog in the wheels of State Government, they like the prestige of the office, they enjoy being a part of the making of laws, and they get a kick out of renewing acquaintances with the most prominent people from all over North Carolina.

Those who have served in the Legislature will tell you that there is "something fascinating about it." Most of the members frankly enjoy living in Raleigh—and a large number of former legislators live here—and, when the time comes for announcing, they get a few words of encouragement, so they're gone again.

The 1957 session of the N. C. General Assembly may not be as long as last year's—but in many, many ways it could be a thousand times more interesting.

BIG INCREASE.—Figures just released by the N. C. Department of Motor Vehicles show that 34,789 more new cars were sold in this State during 1955 than in the preceding year.

It's easy to believe. Every time we get out to one of the basketball games at Reynolds Coliseum here, we are impressed at the number—and widely varying colors!—of new cars.

It's getting so you seldom see one of these black jobs any more. Understand a dignified gentleman went in a Raleigh agency the other day and wanted to look at a black car. They were pretty well taken aback at the request. After some consultation, they found that neither they nor any of the dealers in the umpteen-mile radius had a black car in stock.

They ended up ordering him one.

ONLY ONES.—Frankly, about the only black cars we still know of in Raleigh belong to the Governor's Mansion, to the funeral homes, and to the Brewers. Black is a more conspicuous color than red on the highways these days.

SECOND YEAR.—For the second year, according to figures just released by the N. C. Dept. of Motor Vehicles, Ford led Chevrolet in new car sales in North Carolina in 1955.

Chevrolet sold 32,925, with Ford going to 34,341.

In 1954, Chevrolet totaled 27,110 new car sales in North Carolina.

lina. But Ford was first with 27,623. For year after year Chevrolet led Ford in this State. We hear that it is nip-and-tuck now in every state in the nation between these two makes, with first one, then the other—and sometimes both—claiming first place.

QUICK THIRD.—The race to watch this year—not only in North Carolina, but throughout the U. S.—is between Plymouth and Buick. Until the Chrysler lines took on the boxy look several years ago, Plymouth was always third and for one time was thought to be nudging at Ford for second place. Now Buick in its big advertisements refers to its third-place selections.

In North Carolina last year, Plymouth really moved. It went from 6,523 in 1954 to 10,781 in 1955. Buick sold 8,086 in 1954 and 11,809 in 1955.

OTHER CARS.—Cadillac sold 1,953 in 1955 as compared with 1,634 in 1954; Chrysler and Imperial, 2,720 for 1955 and 1,479 for 1954; DeSoto, 2,041 and 1,160; Dodge, 4,384 and 2,579; Ford, 34,341 and 27,623; Henry J., 3 and 18; Hudson, 574 and 375; Kaiser, 14 and 89; Lincoln, 512 and 417; Mercury, 6,028 for 1955 and 3,639 for 1954; Nash, 1,105 and 925; Oldsmobile, 9,874 and 6,268; Packard, 678 and 537; Pontiac, 10,419 and 6,735; Studebaker, 1,534 and 1,448; and Willys, 201 and 327. A half-dozen other makes—mostly foreign—were sold, but are not listed here.

TOTALS.—A total of 25,562 new trucks were sold in the State in 1955 as against 22,452 for 1954. We sold 34,789 more new cars last year than in 1954—or a total of 131,923 new autos sold in North Carolina in 1955 as compared with only 97,134 for the previous year.

JONESVILLE AGAIN?—Last week while Tarheels were getting another look at Dickie Hemric via television and in a game at Charlotte's Coliseum, knowing basketball coaches were watching with keen interest the carryings-on of a Johnson fellow who is knocking them loose for Jonesville High about like Hemric did six and eight years ago.

JUSTICE.—The line forms on the right. Meantime, Hemric—this State's first native-born basketball All-American—seems to be holding his own with the best pro's in the game. Charlie (Choo Choo)

E. A. "Al" Resch, Siler City newspaper editor and publisher, has been named chairman of the University of North Carolina Committee on Public Relations. This committee is an advisory committee to the University Development Council.

Justice is going with Phillips 66 franchise in the Hendersonville area.

NOTES.—Speaking of basketball—as who isn't these days—the best brand in the whole country is being played here within a 30-mile radius of Raleigh where State, Carolina, and Duke are in the top 15. Carolina has beaten State and Duke . . . State has beaten Wake Forest and Carolina . . . Duke has defeated State . . . and Wake Forest has downed Carolina and Duke. . . Congratulations to J. Jordan, YDC leader, Jaycees Man of the Year here for '55 . . . and apparently is very happy with his business . . . from Florida vacation last week, he hit Raleigh only a glancing blow and was in Chapel Hill for the Press Institute . . . and then he spoke to the State Fair Association in Raleigh . . . and was off to New York . . . This past Monday he was on the platform in Greensboro, Morganton, and Salisbury the same day . . . in Greenville Wednesday . . . Raleigh on Thursday . . . special engagement here again on Friday . . . and in Wilmington on Saturday . . . Not even a candidate for Governor could do more getting around than our Tarheel Head Man Luther H. Hodges.

CP&L Announces Changes In 1956 Contest Rules

A plan to reward effort behind individual projects undertaken in the 1956 Finer Carolina contest was announced today by Carolina Power & Light company, sponsor of the annual community self-improvement program.

This is the major innovation of several rule changes of the new year's program as revealed by E. N. Pope, CP&L's advertising director, even as the 1955 contest neared a climax.

Pope said judging of the 1955 Finer Carolina entries should be completed and winners announced by the middle of February. Being evaluated are a total 906 projects undertaken by 154 towns as their contributions toward helping build a finer Carolina.

He outlined the 1956 rules as follows: In each of three population classifications the town selected by impartial judges as having done the best job of community development will win $1,000 cash prizes. But $250 of this will be awarded the organization or agency which sponsored the outstanding project in the community.

There will be in each population group a $500 second prize, $150 of it going to the sponsor of the outstanding project. Of the $250 third prize for each classification, $100 will be awarded the outstanding project sponsor.

The remainder of the grand prize will be presented to the steering committees of the winning communities for disposition as they see fit.

In addition, the judges will select in each population group the single outstanding project from the towns which do not win a grand prize. To the sponsor goes a prize of $250. There will be a second prize of $150, and a third of $100.

The cash awards will total $6,750. Also new, a plaque will be but deserve honorable mention. mountain ranges and peaks, bays, bays and islands are named for males. Now On Highway To Swannanoa, N. C.
