methods by experts in the field. But it will not be all work. Frank Wade, in charge of entertainment for the convention, has invited the families to take part in a motorcade to Mount Mitchell on Friday afternoon starting at 1:30. A hamburger fry will be held atop the highest point in Eastern America by the group at 5:30. Entertainment Saturday will include a motorcade to Cherokee, a chicken barbecue at the 4-H club at 6:30, and an old-time square dance in the evening.

REFLECTIONS

11. Line up a couple of outside positions to jump to in case you tire of your present post.
12. Don't bother to find out specifications for your job; never measure your performance.
13. Keep subordinates in the dark on what's expected of them.
14. Develop techniques for looking overworked.
15. Be arrogant, haughty in your manner.
16. Overwork; never relax. Gets you stale on the job and slows you down.
17. Milk your position for social prestige.

YOUTH CENTER

tience it must take to keep youngsters clean.
Found: About one hundred fifty of the nicest youngsters imaginable attending our Youth Center program this summer.
Found: An intermediate girl that thinks Bobby Bartlett looks like Billy Graham. Wonder if that is what some of the opposition thought when Bartlett was playing rock-em sock-em football under Buffalo Humphries a few years back.
Lost: The problem that kept Patty Tyson from being a great jumper in high school. Finder will please keep.
Observed: Luckadoo and Gardner looking very chic in Bermuda shorts. Bastarache looking very lonely in the back seat of a yellow convertible.
Remarkd: The patience of who deciphers this column and the promise of only one more.

SHOPE CREEK

By Mrs. Thelma Buckner Rt. 2 — Asheville, N. C.
The finance committee of Berea Baptist church will meet at the church on Wednesday at 7:30. All members are urged to attend.
Being a native of McDowell county, Mrs. Anna Gregg (Mom) always finds the Old Fort news column of Black Mountain News interesting. Last week she read an item of special interest, one that reached back into the past. "The Blackwelder swimming hole." As a girl she crossed Curtis Creek many times and visited in the home of the Blackwelder family some 60 years ago.
The katydids are letting themselves be heard now on these mid-summer nights. According to tradition it's only six more weeks till frost.
W. B. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robinson, Wayne and Dennis of Miami, Fla., are visiting members of their families here.
Mrs. Anna Gregg is confined to her bed with a cold and sore throat.
Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cressman gave an outdoor supper Saturday night at their home in Jones Cove. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fuller and children, Mrs. Omie Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Bartlett and children, Wilbur Cressman and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gregg.
The Nichols family, including Mrs. Mary Nichols, Fred, Zeb, Ray, Harold, and their families and Mrs. Julia Nichols Candler enjoyed an outing at Rhododendron Park in West Asheville Sunday. It was a celebration of Fred and Zeb's recent birthdays. Eighteen members of the family were present for the occasion.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson and children and W. B. Robinson attended the decoration services at Burnsville on Sunday.
