"BLINKERS" READ FASTER
 Are you a "blinker"? If you are, chances are you're a better than average reader. According to statistics from the Murine company of Chicago, good readers blink more often than poor ones. It is generally believed that the blinks make it possible to ignore non-essential objects, such as punctuation marks and other gaps in the text. Normal persons seem to blink at about the rate of 25 times a minute.

We offer deepest sympathy to the family, relatives, and friends of Dock Jones. He was liked by everyone. I don't believe I have heard anyone speak harm of him. Dock was one of our old time teamsters who spent most of his life holding the checklines. He and his brother used to haul lumber by our house when I was a young fellow, and while his brother drove the team up the long grade, Dock would come by the field where I was plowing to give me sage advice about my courtships.

Minnie was under the weather Sunday morning and couldn't go to church. The Joe Bruners of East Marion came to see us in the afternoon.

Shirley and Harold Ray Davidson are visiting Shirley's sister, Marie, in Kentucky this week-end. Ken couldn't tell me what Marie's married name was, or the name of their town; he was too busy telling me about forgetting to turn the stove off while he tended the store, and burning his hotdogs. He said the odor of scorched canine still lingered the next day. I remember Marie Knupp before she married as having very lovely blue eyes.

The Fred Shooks, Jim McFee, and Kenneth Tucker also visited Minnie Sunday afternoon.

Our W. M. U. circle will meet with Mrs. Eugene Byrd this Friday evening.

Our first meeting in our new place of worship was very inspiring. We had a very good attendance, with a number of visitors. There must have been 75 present. The acoustics seem to be good. Betty Jean gave us both piano and organ music. The sermon was deeply moving. We cordially invite you to visit us.

Emily Wood paid us a visit Friday evening. She and Mr. Wood are leaving for Florida soon.

The Charles Taylors came to see us Sunday night.
