tives from banks throughout Western North Carolina. William Hickey, cashier, and bank employees took each visitor on a personally conducted tour of the entire new building, showing and explaining the various machines which are used. Punch was served from an ice bowl surrounded by a wreath of flowers. Completion of the new and modern bank building on a site leased from the W. C. Honeycutt estate, Montreat road at State street, was announced in the News last week. The bank was formerly located at 202 Sutton avenue. The great growth of the Black Mountain community over the past decade made it necessary that the bank move to new and enlarged quarters.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Jones, other out of town guests included, Mrs. Mary Sue Turner, Swannanoa Bank and Trust co.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Greene, Johnson City, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Potest, Bakersville; Alfred Adams, Boone; Charles C. Rogers and Edwin Duncan, Jr., representing the Northwestern Bank's Home Office at North Wilkesboro; Robin Hood, First National bank, Marion; Miss Dorothy Hill, Marion Industrial bank; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Keener, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Bishop, and Miss Ruth Brown, Wachovia Bank and Trust company of Asheville.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout Troop 51 met at St. James Episcopal parish house Monday, Jan. 28. Miss Sarah Kitchen assisted the group in making puppet heads. After an afternoon of work, water, flour, paper, light bulbs, and scout members were all mixed up together. Although little glue was carried home on our uniforms.

The troop met again on Monday, Feb. 4, to continue work on their puppet heads. Buttons and cardboard noses and shirts were put on them. They are beginning to look like fairy characters. We enjoy having Miss Kitchen with us and hope she will remain until we complete our project. —Reporter, Caroline Aiken Mary Morris sang a solo for us, "The Lord," Sunday night.

The Rev. Mr. Clayton brought us the message Sunday night and we had one from another church for baptism, Daniel Russell.

Our W.M.U. met Feb. 5 at church. After our lesson, "Like a Watered Garden," our hostesses, Ruth Lunsford and Betty Cordell, served refreshments. The following people attended: Mrs. Harry Morris, Doris Jolly, Doris Clayton, Maude Morris, Lucille Morris, Betty Cordell, Ruth Lunsford, Edna Brookshire, Pansy Willet, and Pearl Burnett.

Some of our financial gains in the past few months: We have increased the amount we send to the Buncombe Baptist association, and also the pastor's salary. We have been doing quite a bit of visiting recently.
