Sunday Services At Blue Ridge For Mrs. Weatherford

Mrs. W. D. Weatherford of Blue Ridge died Friday, Oct. 4, at her home after a long illness. Born on a cotton plantation near Greensboro, Ala., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Hood McCrory, she attended the Dumopolis (Ala.) School for Girls and Agnes Scott college, Decatur, Ga.

Julia McCrory became the wife of W. D. Weatherford on May 27, 1915, moving to Nashville, Tenn., where her husband was in charge of Y.M.C.A. work for the south. Later he was president of the Y.M.C.A. graduate school.

Mrs. Weatherford's experiences before marriage as Y.W.C.A. secretary at Alabama College for Women and as Y.W.C.A. secretary at Winthrop college, S. C., eminently fitted her for the important places she served as hostess during her husband's long and colorful career as a church man, executive and minister.

Their home at Blue Ridge has welcomed students, ministers travelers and foreigners with an unbounded hospitality. Although paralyzed in body for many years, Mrs. Weatherford presided over the home, assisted her husband in his many duties, giving courage, inspiration and spiritual guidance to the many who sought her counsel.

A woman of rare beauty, intellect and charm, she amazed people of every walk of life by her spiritual vitality. Her nurses and servants are among her most ardent admirers. Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 6, in Lee Hall, Blue Ridge, by the Rev. Mr. John McWhorter, pastor of State Street Methodist church, and the Rev. Mr. George Culbreth.

She was lovingly laid to rest, the first to be buried in the new memorial park on the Blue Ridge Assembly grounds, Sunday afternoon of the institution which she so ably assisted Dr. Weatherford in developing as the Y.M.C.A. Assembly grounds of the south.

Dr. Bell Urges UN Bar to Red China and Russia

Themes for monthly meetings of Owen High PTA for 1957-58 were announced at the opening fall meeting last Thursday night, at which Dr. L. Nelson Bell was the initial speaker of the year.

Mrs. Latt McMahon presided. Ronald Finch, presented by Gordon H. Greenwood, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Dr. Bell expressed his belief that "nineteenths of the trouble in the world today stems back to recognition of Soviet Russia in 1931, as a result of which, he said, "The Russian embassy is a hotbed of intrigue, while enjoying diplomatic immunity. Russia has grabbed many countries, and will try to continue to do so," he forecast. "Their aim is world domination. Since 1931, Communism has spread all over the world." He urged that the United Nations not recognize Red China.

Dr. Bell, former medical missionary who served in the Far East for many years and has visited numerous countries all around the world, stated his belief that "Arab fear of Israel is the key to the situation in the Middle East, for the Arabs fear Israel more than they do Russia. Division of a country is bound to bring great tension; witness the situation in East and West Berlin, where the difference between two ways of life is the difference between day and night."

'57 Enrollment At Montreat Shows Increase

An announcement today by George A. Anderson, acting president of Montreat college, showed an increase in the college's enrollment from 186 last year to 191 this year. Of this total number for the 1957-58 term 163 are women resident students; 18 are day students, and 10 are men students. In addition to this total, there are 23 extension students at Oteen, and five student nurses at Memorial Mission hospital, who, upon completion of their course of study, will receive their B. S. degrees in nursing.

Students are from 15 states, 12 southern states plus Pennsylvania, New York, and Connecticut. Five students represent two foreign countries, Cuba and Korea.

According to the registrar, Miss Mary Wells McNeill, classification of students is as follows: 24 seniors, 34 juniors, 65 sophomores, and 64 freshmen.

Montreat college offers B. A. and B. S. degrees in the fields of Bible and Christian education, elementary and secondary education, music, and business. Too, Montreat offers a two year secretarial and business course, and a pre-nursing course.

Site Purchased For Legion's New Permanent Home

The Waycaster McFee Post of the American Legion has purchased three and three-tenths acres of land off Blue Ridge road as a site for a permanent home or clubhouse soon to be constructed.

Final approval was given the purchase plans at the last meeting of the Legion. The title, now being cleared, is for property purchased from A. J. Magnant, adjacent to land he is developing for building purposes. The Legion tract lies between Blue Ridge road and Lakey Gap road, and will have available power, light and water facilities to be brought up to the boundaries of the property by the development owner, it was stated.

Ultimate plans call for a clubhouse, adequate parking area and a recreation park for the benefit of the community, Commander John Wiltshire announced. He said he "sees great possibilities for the undertaking if all concerned get behind the project and lend a helping hand."

Commander Wiltshire also announced that a picnic supper, to which the ladies of the Auxiliary will be invited, will be held on the new site Nov. 5 instead of the usual meeting for that month. This was announced as a "sort of pep rally" in connection with the Legion's program for the year ahead.

Northwes'n Bank Adds Link In Growing Chain

Addition of the Peoples Loan and Savings bank of Statesville as the 23rd link in a chain stretching from the mountains to the Piedmont section of the state has been announced by Edwin Duncan, executive vice president of the Northwestern bank.

The Northwestern system extends from Sparta and West Jefferson on the northwest to Black Mountain in the west and to Statesville in the east.

"Purchase of the Statesville bank was undertaken in order to bring to the people of Statesville and Iredell county a bigger bank with more resources and facilities to serve better the growing and expanding economy of the Iredell area" the full page announcement which appeared in the Statesville Record on Oct. 1 explained.

Resources of the Northwestern bank system, one of the largest in number in the state, is $67,679,901.41. In January, 1947, the resources were listed at slightly more than $32,000,000.

The chain was organized in 1932, but it includes the old Bank of Sparta, chartered shortly after the turn of the century, which operated throughout the depression years.

William Hickey is cashier here at Black Mountain. Mrs. Madge Milovitz is assistant cashier and Paul Richardson is in charge of the Old Fort window.

Final Date Set This Saturday For Horse Show

Sponsors of the Black Mountain horse show, thrice postponed because of wet weather and field, announced "the show will go on Saturday, Oct. 12, provided the weather permits." In event of bad weather again, the show will be cancelled.

However, the committee was hopeful for bright skies permitting plans for this Black Mountain P.T.A.-sponsored "Finer Carolina" project to be carried out. The show is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m., with 13 classes for showing, all of them post entries. The event is to follow a noon-time parade which will form at 11:30 a.m. near the Monte Vista and will include all who wish to ride or drive in the cavalcade.

Title To College Property Passes To Edén Rock Park

Charles Olson, serving as trustee for Black Mountain college, spent last week here winding up business affairs of the college which was founded in 1923.

Last week marked the official close of the college, as title to 282 acres passed to Edén Rock Park, Inc., operators of Camp Rockmont for Boys, now on the former college site. It was announced that the camp operation will expand and that development would be made of a portion of the Lake Edén property as a real estate subdivision.

Mr. Olson said, "we regret the closing of Black Mountain college—but of course it will live on through its graduates and through the influence it has had on the curricula of other educational institutions."

George W. Pickering, president of Camp Rockmont, Inc., and secretary-treasurer of the Edén Rock Park company, announced purchase of the land and buildings for the sum of $110,500. The Edén Rock corporation took over 205 acres of the college property two years ago under a lease-purchase contract. Last week, it took over in fee simple the 205 acres and an additional 77 acres. At one time the college owned 600 acres, but 300 acres of the Edén site (to which the college moved from Blue Ridge in 1938) were sold as farm land several years ago. Thirty-eight buildings are on the site taken over by the new ownership.

Mr. Olson explained that telephone, secretarial and mail service for the college would be maintained, in order that graduates and former students needing to refer to the college on matters pertaining to school or job records or applications may be served as long as necessary. He forecast that this service, covering college records of the past 23 years, would be required for "at least the next 10 years or longer." Address of the college is P. O. Box 163, Black Mountain.

Signs bearing the name of the college were last week removed

Young Volunteer Recruits Are Needed By B. M. Fire Department

A tribute to the more than 20 volunteer firemen who already are aiding the Black Mountain Fire department, plus a request for young new recruits to help in this community volunteer work were contained in an announcement by Chief Lawton Allen this week in local observance of "National Fire Prevention Week."

The Fire department this week is aiding in distribution of posters urging proper precautions for fire prevention. This is in co-operation with the Black Mountain, Swannanoa and Owen High P.T.A.s, sponsors of the local observance.

The need for new volunteers is for young men from 18 years of age up, Chief Allen said. He said "this young group learns fast." He commended the "good, faithful service of our regular volunteers," stating that they are "a lot of help to us and to the town." The volunteers, including a group of about 10 who seldom miss any fire in this locale, are on 24-hour
