SUGAR & SPICE MAKE BREAD A TREAT

Marie Antoinette must have had this Cinnamon Loaf in mind when she said "Let Them Eat Cake." It's a rich yeast-raised bread with a swirl of aromatic cinnamon all sugar coated. It's just the thing to serve thinly sliced and buttered for a tea party, with fruit for dessert, but best of all, any time at all, toasted.

CINNAMON LOAF
 1 cup milk
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
 1/4 cup warm, not hot water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
 1 egg, beaten
 4 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
 Melted butter or margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon cinnamon

Scald milk. Add butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into water (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast); lukewarm for compressed yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add the egg, then half the flour. Beat until smooth. Add remaining flour. Turn dough out on a lightly floured board. Knead. Place dough in greased bowl. Brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover with cloth. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down and turn out on a lightly floured board. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into an oblong about 8" x 10". Brush each lightly with melted butter or margarine. Mix together 1/2 cup sugar and the cinnamon. Sprinkle half of the mixture on each oblong of dough. Roll up each piece tightly crosswise as for jelly roll. Place in greased bread pans 8 1/2" x 4 1/4" x 2 1/2". Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes. Ice top while hot with *Plain Icing. Makes 2 loaves.

*Plain Icing—Combine 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with 2 teaspoons milk and 1/8 teaspoon vanilla extract and beat until smooth.

CULTIVATION NEEDED FOR TREES AFTER PLANTING

Where planted trees can be reached easily with a cultivator, cultivation for two or three years after planting will get them off to a good start and reduce losses, says N. C. Agricultural Extension Service. Slash and loblolly pine are exceptions, since cultivation encourages development of fusiform rust on trunks. In most cases rank weed growth will overtop and smother newly planted trees.

As trees begin to establish themselves and cultivation is discontinued, weeds, grass and brush along the edges of fields and along roadsides should be cut or grazed before they dry up and become fire hazards. Any flammable trash should be cleaned up, and during long dry spells it may be wise to keep out hunters and other visitors. Local foresters may advise plowing firebreaks 4 to 6 feet wide to keep out grass fires.

HOW TO CUT ACCIDENTS

Around the state—across the nation
 Save money—save time—call station-to-station.

You save more on Long Distance calls after 6 P.M. and all day Sunday. And remember—it's twice as fast to call by number.

TO THE MOON AND BACK 47 TIMES! Now that we're getting baby satellites into space, folks are really "up in the air" about space travel and trips to the moon. And the exciting thing is that it all may come true. Right now, if we could get to the moon and wished to put in telephones, we could probably get the wire to reach from earth to moon in pretty short order. In just one year the Western Electric people supplied Bell System companies with cable that contained 23 million miles of wire—enough to reach the moon and back 47 times! That's a pile of wire, but it's only a drop in the bucket compared to that we already have in service and still need to serve all the people who want new telephones every day in the year.
