What's Goin' . . . At Owen

By Lynda McGraw
 On Friday morning, Mar. 28, 21 girls in the FHA left by charters to attend the state convention in Raleigh. They were Helene Nichols, Pattie Talbot, Peggy McElrath, Daphne Jolly, Dot Redmon, Sue Penley, Frances Robinson, Joyce Swafford, Jackie Huscussion, Donna Bass, Nora Rankin, Brenda Garland, Wanda Lunsford, Barbara Hollifield, Elaine Garris, Janice Burch, Carolyn Dotson, Anne Woodcock, Dianne Nesbitt, Nancy Dupuy, Betty Patton, and one of the sponsors, Mrs. Jacqueline Taylor.

On their way to Raleigh they visited the campuses of Wake Forest, Duke, and the University of North Carolina before settling down at their motel. That evening they attended a "Platter Party" at the State college and had loads of fun. The main speaker at the rally the next day was Mrs. Bernice McCullar from the State department in Georgia. She talked to the girls about the standards by which a teen-ager should live. There was also the installation of state officers and a skit which compared the growth of a teen-ager to that of a rose.

As far as we here at Owen are concerned, the most important part of the program was the awarding of the State Future Home-makers of America degree which is the highest honor that can be held in the club. No one from this valley has ever received this award; however, this year, out of the 15 from this county, four were from Owen High school. They were Anne Woodcock, Dianne Nesbitt, Betty Patton, and Nancy Dupuy.

By recording, these girls were also on WLOS Saturday morning, Mar. 29, where they told what they did to get this award. Nancy Dupuy's picture was on display at the Carolina Power & Light Co. in Asheville. From all of us to all of you—Congratulations!

On Tuesday, April 1, a county 4-H talent show was held at Erwin High school. Owen was represented by 11 girls who presented a pantomime on "The Birth of the Blues." They were Carol Stafford, Carolyn Bryant, Martha Ferguson, Margaret Mashburn, Mary Martin, Patsy Lee, Jackie Huscussion, Linda Allen, Pattie Byrd Talbot, Annette Hall and Elaine Stafford. Since they placed in the blue ribbon group, this entitled them to participate in the district contest at Erwin on April 26.

Last Wednesday was observed as French day by the French club. At this time all the members of the club had to speak French to each other. Each one was fined 5 cents a day, time he spoke English and 50 cents for not speaking it at all. Everyone had loads of fun, and from now on each Wednesday will be observed as French day. The fines will be used to give another party like the one they recently had. The two intra-mural games this past week were played by the sophomore teams and the freshmen teams. The winner of the sophomore group was the team made up of boys from Mr. Strauch's, Mr. Taylor's, and Mrs. Leinster's home-rooms, with Steve Luckadoo coaching. The team that came out on top in the freshmen group was that from Mr. Kyker's, Mr. Ditt's, Miss White's, and Mr. McAllister's home-rooms, with Robert Spitzer coaching. Next week will probably be the semifinals.

The dance that was to have been held by the Student council a number of weeks ago was given last Thursday night in the school lunchroom; the title, "The Bunny Hop." Besides the home-rooms dancing, round dancing, and hop those who came were royally entertained with a floor show which was scattered throughout the evening. The first was a pantomime, done to the music of "Lollypop," and Mr. McAllister's home-rooms, Carolyn Epley, Joe Robinson, Bill Morgan and James Moyers. Later, this was followed by a very cute pantomime to the music of "Tambourine" by Melba Riddle, who was assisted by the Student council sponsor, Y. L. Medlin. The next act was the pantomime mentioned above that a number of the 4-H girls worked up. The last bit of the entertainment before the grand finale was a piano duet by Peggy Cooley and Jane Bowness. Following the refreshments the finale was presented in the form of Mr. Medlin singing "My Wild Irish Rose" (impromptu). Keevie Ballard and Dianne Nesbitt were in charge of refreshments; Joan Connet and Mary Bannerman, decorations; and Nana Owenby, advertising.

Our teacher this week certainly needs no introduction to the people in this valley, having become well-known in the capacity of girls' basketball coach. Eugene Byrd was born and reared in Black Mountain. Majoring in history at State Teachers college, first in his class. Following this, he taught English at the Black Mountain Grammar school for three years, and then another four in the Piedmont section of this state. In 1940 he was ordained a minister. He was also married in the same year and is now the proud father of two daughters, Judy, 15, and Jackie, 5, and a son, Robert, 14. He settled in Black Mountain, where he is now living, and began teaching at Black Mountain High school. He taught there until the two schools were consolidated, when he came to Owen. This year he is teaching three classes of U. S. history and one class of economics-sociology. He also has a study hall. From 1945 to 1949 he coached all athletics at Black Mountain (his football team won two county championships); then he became the girls' basketball coach and has so remained these past years. Outside school and basketball Mr. Byrd enjoys gardening. He is at present pastor of the Lakewood Baptist church, and for the past seven years he has been in charge of the Youth center held at the old Black Mountain High school building each summer.

High school seniors, preparing for their graduation, had ordered their caps and gowns and chosen as mascots for commencement exercises Carol Guy and Bobby Byrd. The Black Mountain News was reminding the community that this area has an ideal summer climate, the town is the summer capital of the South, our water the softest and among the best to be found anywhere and that a visitor can spend a month here without exhausting the dozens of side trips which attract thousands of motorists each year.
