Time to Change

to a modern Electric Range

No time like spring to shuck off the old and look to the new! And there's nothing newer or more modern than the automatic timing controls of a safe, clean electric range.

"Flamethrower" cooking is as dated as that sun dial you see above. This spring, change to the modern way—cook electrically. Trim as your Easter outfit, a new electric range with timing controls can cook entire meals while you're away. No need to worry because it's safe and clean as your electric light.

Balmy days are here, so let the automatic timing of electric cooking help you get outdoors and enjoy a bit of spring fever. Your electric dealer has a colorful array of ranges for your selection. He can help you make the change for the better this spring.

REMEMBER . . .

you get all the hot water you'll ever need with a safe, clean electric water heater. Install it anywhere—no flues, no flames, no soot, no smoke.
