Kiwanians Will Collect Books For Children

At last week's meeting of the Black Mountain-Swannanoa Kiwanis club announcement was made that children's books are needed for young patients being admitted to the Western Sanatorium and the club voted to collect and deliver them. The president, C. S. Porter, designated Knight's Drug store and Black Mountain Drug store as repositories for donated books for this purpose. Persons in Swannanoa who care to donate may leave them at Porter's super market or Harrison Furniture store.
 As children grow up many families have children's books that can be put to good use in this manner and we hope the response will be immediate, Porter said.

An increasing number of cases are coming to light in which GI life insurance proceeds must be paid to other than the veteran's immediate family because the veteran failed to keep his beneficiary listing up to date.
 This was reported by Roswell K. Porter of the Asheville VA office, for the benefit of any of the 6,100,000 GI insurance policyholders who should change their beneficiaries in line with recent changes in family status.
 Marriages, divorces, births or deaths are the types of changes in family status which may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings, Porter said.
 In many of the recent cases coming to light, the beneficiaries of VA record were the same the veterans had named when they took out their policies years ago, even though they had since married and begotten families, Porter said.
 VA is required by law to pay GI insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record, whether or not that beneficiary still is in any way connected with the veteran.
 Changes of beneficiaries can be made any time without notifying the beneficiaries, but they must be made in writing over the policyholder's signature and sent to the VA office servicing the policy, Porter said.
 These changes cannot be made in a last will or testament, Porter added; they must be filed by the policyholder with VA directly to be valid under the law.
 The local VA office on the fourth floor of the City building in Asheville will be glad to assist GI insurance policyholders in filing beneficiary changes. Visit your VA office without delay.
