

NORTH FORK NEWS
By Mrs. Howard Willet

Sunday school attendance was 116 Sunday morning. The Beginner class had the largest number. Our Vacation Bible school begins June 30 and goes through July 6. All are invited to attend.

Mrs. J. A. Walker is somewhat better. She is able to go into the living room and listen to her special radio program although she is still in bed most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cordell and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Creasman. Mrs. Henry Martin, Mrs. J. A. Cordell, and Mrs. John Creasman visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts, Storie, Douglas, and Jane of Rockingham visited relatives here over the week-end.

The Rev. Fred Byrd and Don Byrd were at church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris, Mike, and Jeff went to Tennessee and Berea, Ky., on their vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Willet, Phyllis, and Kay went to Virginia on their vacation. They went up first night camped at Crabtree Meadows next to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris and family, which was very fortunate since they had taken two coffee pots and not one bit of coffee and not even a match. Then, too, Thomas helped Howard repair the only flat tire they had on the trip. The next day they enjoyed the Parkway Craft Center at Moses H. Memorial park. It was interesting watching the woman weave and tell of days past. They had dinner at Doughton park, later visited the Parklet, home of Olivia Hays Paulett, storied local midwife. The interesting thing about this woman was that of her 21 children not one lived beyond infancy. They visited Mabry Mill which continues to produce water-ground corn meal and blacksmith shop and sawmill.

The second night they camped at Rocky Knob and had dinner at Peaks of Otter the next day. The third night they camped at Sherrando Lake and enjoyed swimming the next day. The fourth and fifth nights they camped at Big Meadows. On Saturday they visited Luray Caverns then went on to Front Royal and visited Mr. and Mrs. Devard Walker, uncle and aunt of Pansy. It happened to be Mrs. Walker's birthday. Phyllis' birthday was the next day so the dinner we had was for both of them. They had a very nice visit. The next day they saw Natural Bridge, then camped at Peaks of Otter the sixth night. The seventh night found them back home.

Sen. Jordan Says:

WASHINGTON — Sen. B. Everett Jordan today said continuing increases in domestic consumption of cigarettes "offer new hopes for farmers," but called for long-range planning to reverse a trend of declining tobacco exports during recent years.

The Senator made his statement shortly after the Department of Agriculture announced that cigarette production during the past year totaled about 446 billion, almost three per cent over the previous year and a new record high.

In the same report, a comprehensive review of all areas of the tobacco industry during the past year, it was pointed out that domestic use of flue-cured tobacco increased about 10 million pounds last year in spite of wider uses of filter tips and reconstituted tobacco.

Jordan called this the most significant part of the report.

"Since 1955, cigarette consumption has increased each year, but until this year, the displacement of tobacco has dropped off a little each year. From all indications, it appears the decline in the quantity of tobacco used in cigarettes as a result of reconstituted and filter tips has been stopped," Jordan said.

The North Carolina Senator expressed the hope that during the coming year "any additional increases in cigarette consumption will be accompanied by corresponding increases in total tobacco use."

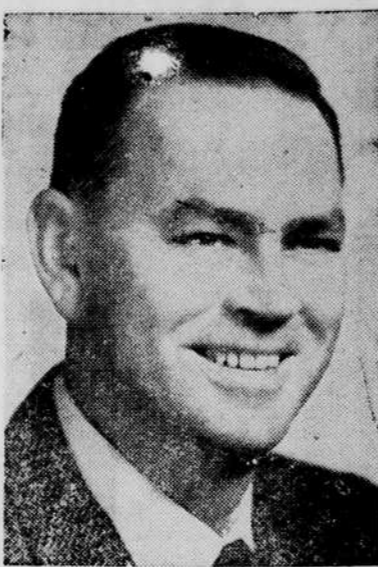

Jordan said the steady increases in domestic cigarette consumption offers new hope for farmers at a time when flue-cured tobacco is bucking stronger competition in world trade.

He said in spite of the fact the overall report is encouraging, the export picture is not bright.

"During the past year, exports of flue-cured tobacco were five per cent below those of the previous year, which is distressing," he said.

The report said last year's flue-cured exports were about 430 million pounds.

Jordan said the decline in last year's exports is small percentage-wise, "but it represents a lot of tobacco sales we are losing to foreign competition. I think the trend in flue-cured exports in recent years merits serious study and reflects a very real need for some

Methodists Name Campaign Leaders

Key leaders were announced today for a $3,000,000 campaign which Methodist churches of Western North Carolina will launch in November for capital funds for Methodist colleges and student activities on tax-supported campuses.

The Commission on Christian Higher Education, after receiving a go-ahead order from the WNC conference session at Lake Junaluska, made the first in a series of appointments for a campaign which will include an every-member canvass in each of the 1,116 churches in the conference area.

Conference chairmen for the campaign include Bishop Nolan B. Haroon, resident bishop of the Charlotte area, clerical chairman; Edwin L. Jones of Charlotte, lay chairman; Mrs. Clarence C. Cranford of Asheville, woman's division; J. C. Cowan, Jr., of Greensboro, advance gifts; Miss Beatrice Cobb of Morganton, public relations; and Richard G. Stockton of Winston-Salem, treasurer.

Parents, for your children's sake, take time to teach them the importance of traffic rules and safe walking habits.

An experienced, well-known agricultural worker has been appointed fieldman for the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation's Western District which includes and is bordered by Henderson, McDowell, Burke, Alexander, Yadkin, Forsyth and Stokes counties.

Lamar Lunsford, a Buncombe county native and former assistant state supervisor of veterans farmers training, will assume his new duties July 1, according to Federation President Randolph Eagles of Macleesfield, who announced the appointment. Lunsford lives in Oteen.

Mrs. Littlejohn Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Mary Littlejohn of Swannanoa died Tuesday, June 24, in an Asheville hospital. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the New Salem Baptist church with the Rev. A. E. Duncan officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Surviving are the husband, Robert Littlejohn; the mother, Mrs. Amelia Lytle; two daughters, Mrs. Carrie Mae Burgin and Betty Ann Littlejohn; three sons, Jimmie Lee, William and Cecil Littlejohn; three sisters, five brothers and three grandchildren.

long-range planning in the entire export field."

Jordan said with the exception of declining exports, the report indicates that "things may be settling down a little" for tobacco, which he said has been "plagued with one crisis after another during the past five years."
