In spite of recession rumors during the spring, Baptist church workers continued to stream to Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly this summer. Following on the heels of the record-breaking attendance of 1957, the trend continued upward as more people registered for the conferences this season than last.

Almost 1,700 people attended the combined conferences which met here the past week. Using the minimum figure of 1,000 for the U. S. Air Force Spiritual Life conference which commences to-

Montreat

Twenty-five thousand have attended summer conference sessions at Montreat this season and although this represents an impressive total it does mark a drop of about 10,000 from other years, officials stated.

Christmout

Thirteen conferences and retreats were held at Christmout during the 1958 season, which began the second decade of this assembly's existence. State, area and national meetings of the Disciples of Christ were included in this number.

Altogether, about 1000 persons attended various meetings at Christmout during the summer. In addition, more vacationers used the cottages and cabins than ever before. For the first time, it was possible to accommodate trailers and several used the space provided.

The road from the entrance to Aldridge hall was widened and will be landscaped when weather permits. A large swimming pool was installed. Two of the original small lakes of the Gustavino estate were cleared out and will be used, one for a lily pool and one for a warming pool for the swimming polo. A new home was completed in August and another will be started soon.

The treasurer's report at the annual meeting was most encouraging and the list of "Christmout Voice" subscribers is growing constantly. Funds for the proposed Fellowship building and for the Memorial chapel are accumulating steadily and more churches are putting Christmout in their budgets.

Cragmont

Cragmont Assembly closes this week, Aug. 30, as far as campers and organized conferences are concerned. In many respects, it has been the best and most prosperous year of its 13 years of operation, J. E. Wooten, business manager, stated.

During the months June-August, there have been 490 registered campers and conferees. This is an increase of about 30% over the enrollment for the same period of 1957. Also, during the year January-August, 610 guests and visitors, individuals and family groups, from ten states have called.

As a young religious institution, Cragmont Assembly, Inc., is growing and making satisfactory progress, directors stated. It is owned and operated by the Free Will Baptists of North Carolina.

Intheoaks

In this first season at the "Intheoaks" since this former estate was converted into a center for the Episcopal Diocese of Western North Carolina, more than 3000 have participated in meetings, conferences, retreats and recreational engagements here.

Fourteen meetings during the summer drew an attendance of 216; seven conferences and retreats were attended by 240; 23 recreational engagements by 1405, bringing the season's estimated total to 3081, reckoning casual visitors to the center as numbering approximately 1220, John Ivanoff, managing director, estimated.

Church members and their friends have used the facilities of the center for a 25-cent fee which covered use of heated swimming pool, tennis courts, gymnasium, two bowling alleys and picnic equipment—with an additional fee being asked for use of the three-hole golf course. The swimming pool, manned by trained lifeguards, has been open daily from 3 to 5 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays, and the possibility is held that the pool may continue to be open into the fall and winter season. Numerous picnic groups have used the center's facilities, with the largest group being the Episcopal laymen's group and their families, totalling 410. Since the center's conversion, sleeping accommodations for 50 have been provided.

Baptist "Forward" Publicity Group Meets Aug. 25

The budget publicity committee of the "Forward Program" met in the educational building of the First Baptist church Monday, Aug. 25, to discuss and formulate plans for publishing the "First Baptist News" and also other means of publicity to be used during the program.

At present, members of the committee are Miss Lizzie Waite, Mrs. O. B. Smith, Mrs. L. G. Barnhill, Dr. F. H. Richardson, Howard Rogers, George Pickering and Charles Rogers. Cecil Nanney is serving as chairman. Other members may be added as the need arises.

CONTRACTORS MEET—

It was stated that the county now conducts inspection of electrical installations in the 21 buildings of the county and city schools by Roy E. Laster, county inspector.

Main points cited in the discussion were a belief that adoption of the ordinance would result in higher expense to the county, and that "standards of electrical work in the city would be lowered."
