BLUE RIDGE ASSEMBLY— From Page 1

Ridge since 1919. Other varied groups which have met at Blue Ridge for extended periods include the Blue Ridge Institute of Southern Community Service Executives (since 1927), the Blue Ridge Bible conference (since 1945), the Institute of Southeastern Juvenile Court Judges (since 1956), and the World Affairs institute (since 1957).

Y. M. C. A. groups, such as the Summer Conference of Y. M. C. A. Secretaries, have been meeting annually at Blue Ridge almost since its founding 52 years ago.

"The year 1958 has been one of the most fruitful and successful in recent years," stated the Assembly's president, Robert H. Spiro, Jr. "By measurable standards, the 1958 operating season has exceeded 1957 by approximately five percent. We are delighted to be a part of the Black Mountain community, and to have a part in the spiritual and cultural life of this area. The thousands of guests who come to Blue Ridge each year come also as guests of this area. They spend a great many dollars locally, and of course the Assembly benefits the bulk of its budget in Buncombe county. Thus our prosperity is shared with the local community."

"We are now making contracts for the 1959 season, which promises to be even larger than 1958," the Blue Ridge president, "and we are making definite plans for 1960 and 1961. As we modernize and improve our facilities, and look forward to a significant building program, we solicit the friendly and prayerful support of our local friends and constituents."

H. D. MEETING HELD AT "INTHEOAKS"

Home Demonstration club had a most interesting meeting at Intheoaks Sept. 22. There were 13 members and one visitor present. The discussion for the afternoon on modern methods of dress making was most ably presented by Mrs. Mary Ray, County Home agent. Her assistant was also with her.

Mrs. Moore reported on the County Council held in Asheville Sept. 3. Three members of our club attended this meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Greenwood was chosen to represent our club at the Civil Defense meeting in Asheville in October.

At the close of the meeting the members enjoyed a tour of the house and grounds at Intheoaks. Our next meeting will be at the Community House of the Lakey Gap chapel.
