

Give Once - for All through your
UNITED APPEAL
GIVE GLADLY — GIVE GENEROUSLY

BLACK MOUNTAIN NEWS

YOUR COUNTY NEWSPAPER

Weather

	High	Low	Prec.
Sept. 30	65	64	T.
Oct. 1	54	50	1.37
Oct. 2	49	42	.11
Oct. 3	57	45	.07
Oct. 4	71	52	.18
Oct. 5	77	41
Oct. 6	62	44

VOL. 14.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1958, BLACK MOUNTAIN, NORTH CAROLINA

12 PAGES TODAY

NO. 6.

REFLECTIONS

Gordon Greenwood

While touring Europe this summer with the Methodist Youth League, James Northcott was introduced to several new foods, including horse meat.

He haven't had an opportunity to find out whether he liked Dobbin not. My guess is that he didn't. It really isn't too bad until you discover that the blood-red, stringy steaks you've been consuming aren't what you thought at all. They may have come from the worms that ran last in the derby seasons back. Then you sort choke up and the small bit of fat in your mouth gets bigger and bigger.

Horse steak isn't too bad — unless you find out what it is. "Warehouses" in Mississippi Henry T. Ware, who formerly headed at Blue Ridge, is now director of education for the First Methodist church at Biloxi, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Ware have named their home at 111 Jeff Davis Avenue in Biloxi, "The Warehouse."

Latest information is that The Warehouse is full of Wares.

The July-August issue "The National Sheriff," publication of the National Sheriff's association, has picture of Laurence E. Brown, Buncombe county sheriff, on the cover.

The caption reads: "High Sheriff Laurence E. Brown is 1958-59 president of the association. Job applicant: 'That's right, vice—I don't smoke; I don't drink; I don't like women.' Personnel manager: 'That's amazing. You have no vices whatever.' Applicant: 'Oh, yes, I tell you.'"

The staff at the News did better in all right during my vacation and out of the hospital. In fact they did so well that the day I came back in for my first visit almost a month, Lib Dinwiddie and Dorothy Mattison looked at another and then asked Roy Sell and Andy Milovitz: "What that stranger? Does he work and here?"

That convinced me that I had better stay on the job and stop strolling around. With the help of medicine I promise to do that.

In the Hospital World it's a small world.

A short time after I had been admitted to Memorial Mission Hospital, the nurse arrived with my roommate. A few minutes later, the stranger, whom I had never seen before, and I had established that our cousins were cousins and that somewhere back along the line we were bound to be related. By mutual consent, we stopped the investigation.

Many amusing incidents always occur around a hospital. The morning a smiling young lady came in and started giving me shots and kept it up until sometime later when a guy came in with a little bed into the room and invited me to mount, I could hardly roll downhill.

Down in the operating room, a gentleman with a nice voice introduced himself and volunteered the information that he was going to give you your anesthesia.

While preparing his needle he asked, just to be sociable, how does your head feel? Before I could answer—the lights went out.

The next thing a nurse was doing my face and asking: "Are you ready to go back to your room?"

I was ready and went — with some help. But one thing has worried me. I never did tell the doctor in the operating room how my head felt. I wonder if he really wanted to know.

New News Desk Plate I am indebted to Richard Mahan for the very fine desk plate which has caused so much comment.

Carved all from one piece of wood you won't believe it possible you see all the fine details. It is complete to the last detail. The artist editor is standing by his desk ready with red pencil to run every body's story. It is furnished by a goose-necked fixture over the desk. It takes a great deal of patience and a steady nerve to complete a job of this kind. Mr. Oulahan has

TRAINING OFFERED FOR CUB MOTHERS CLUB SCOUTING

Present and future Cub Scout Mothers are offered an opportunity to learn crafts, games and other things for Cub Scouts. A Den Mothers' workshop will be held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Brake's office and Dr. Brake's office Saturday, Oct. 11. The workshop is from 7-9 p.m. If you need a ride over, call Mrs. William Styles, NO 9-6081.

Building of modern new A&P Super Market, which opened Tuesday at 106 Montreat road near Highway 70, in the heart of Black Mountain's shopping district, involved an investment of more than $250,000. The store comprises about 8,500 square feet, fronted by a 53,000 square-foot parking lot. (For additional details see features on pages 3, 5 and 6.)

Two Enlist Here In Marine Corps

Using the Marine Corps "buddy system," two Black Mountain youths joined the U. S. Marine Corps last week, stated Sgt. Bob Jones, Marine Corps recruiter for this area. Bobby R. Ammons, Blue Ridge road, and James B. Reid, Jr., 304 State street, Black Mountain, are the new Marines, said Jones. Both men wanted to continue their close association and both 18-year-old men enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps for four years.

"This present Marine corps policy," stated Sgt. Jones, "authorizes us to enlist a maximum of five."

—Turn to Page 6

Garden Club Will Meet Friday Night

A covered-dish supper at the Community club at 6:30 will precede a meeting of the Black Mountain Garden club tomorrow (Friday) night. Mrs. Grace Merlino has compiled a report on the culture of berry shrubs, and these, with a discussion of transplanting, will be presented by John I. Ivanoff. Mrs. William Styles will preside.

Interest Mounts As Election Nears

With the general election only 26 days distant, political interest in Buncombe county and the 12th district is rapidly mounting. Two more Saturdays remain for registration prior to the election, these falling on Oct. 18 and 25. "Challenge Day" will be Nov. 1, according to announcement by Clyde Bradley, chairman of the Buncombe County Board of Elections.

Local voters will be among those balloting in the following contests: For chairman of County Board of Commissioners; members of County Board of Education; Commissioner of Public Institutions; Commissioner of Public Utilities; for sheriff; for Clerk of Court; for tax collector, Judge of County court, solicitor of County court, constable and county coroner. Major contests include choice of a U. S. Congressman; Judge of Superior Court; solicitor of Superior Court, and for a state senator and three representatives.

Woman's Club Aids Bulb Culture

The Black Mountain Woman's club met on Wednesday, Oct. 8, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Davis of Christmount. Mrs. W. M. McMurray, president, was in charge.

Following a business session Mrs. Willard Weeks, chairman of programs, introduced Mrs. W. D. Chambers of Asheville, district chairman of Federated Garden Clubs. Mrs. Chambers spoke most interestingly on bulbs, when and how to plant them and how best to cultivate them. This timely subject was appropriate not only to the season, but to the "Finer Carolina" project of beautification of Black Mountain that is prominent on all club programs this year.

RUMMAGE SALE OCT. 11

The First Christian church ladies will hold a rummage sale in the vacant lot between Eckles Real Estate office and Dr. Brake's office Saturday, Oct. 11. The committee in charge suggests that you attend in charge suggests that you attend in charge and see the good buys they are offering.

Demo. Speaker

John D. Larkins, Jr.

Principal speaker at a Democratic rally Oct. 25 at Owen High school will be John D. Larkins, Jr., national committeeman for North Carolina. His address will follow a free barbecue supper to be served from 6 to 8 p.m. Mr. Larkins will speak at 8. Candidates for office in the coming Nov. 4 elections will also appear and will be introduced by Judge W. K. McLean.

Lamar Gudgeon, president of the Young Democratic club of Buncombe county, will introduce the speakers: Roy A. Taylor, director of the Democratic campaign in Buncombe county, is chairman of the program committee, and Mayor Richard B. Stone of Black Mountain, is general chairman. Rev. W. A. Huneycutt will give the invocation.

Mr. Larkins, member of the Democratic National committee, will come here, he said, in the course of his duties to "represent the Democratic party of North Carolina, including the Young Democratic clubs, in the manner and tradition of my predecessors." Contributions for helping to underwrite the dinner may be sent to the Black Mountain News or to T. K. Brown, Route 1, Black Mountain.

—Your chances of arriving alive when your drive are increased many times when you know and obey traffic laws.

B & P W Honors Miss Sanchez Mott as "Woman of the Year"

AWARD JUDGED BY LOCAL WOMEN'S CIVIC GROUPS

Announcement of the selection of Miss M. Sanchez Mott as "Business Woman of the Year" and an address on the United Nations by Mrs. Mary E. Aleshire at a dinner meeting of the Black Mountain Business and Professional Women's club at the Monte Vista hotel on Monday night, featured the current week's observation of "National Business and Professional Women's Week" and also was a forerunner of "United Nations Day" on Oct. 24.

The week will be furthered at a reception tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Laura O'Connor, 207 Church street, from 8 to 10.

In the judgement of a committee representative of women's civic organizations in the community, who tallied votes for the "Woman of the Year," Miss Mott was selected as "one who has given generously of her time and energies in the interest of her community."

Mrs. O'Connor announced the award and honored Miss Mott with a corsage on behalf of the hostess club, of which Miss Mott is a mem-

Local Civic Council Elects Officers

Members of the Black Mountain Civic council, comprising representatives from civic clubs in the community, last week elected officers. The new president is Aaron (Bud) Belt; vice president, Mrs. S. S. Cooley; secretary, Mrs. Ruby Wheelon, and treasurer, Frank Watkins.

The council is currently sponsoring the annual United Appeal here in conjunction with the Buncombe County United Appeal which serves this area. Volunteers from civic clubs in the council make up a corps of volunteer solicitors seeking funds for support of the various social services which serve Black Mountain, Montreat and Ridgcrest.

Cotillion Club Elects and Sets Oct. 18 Meeting

The Tween-Age Cotillion club held its first meeting of the season Saturday night at the Black Mountain clubhouse. The 13 couples who attended enjoyed square dancing under direction of Vernon Johnson.

A business meeting was held with new officers being elected. They were M. J. (Dick) Wyrick, president; Dr. R. E. (Bob) Schell, vice president, and Lawrence Stoker of Asheville, secretary and treasurer. Roy Taylor is the outgoing president.

A meeting of the club will be held each first and third Saturday night of the month. Members are urged to bring a guest couple to the next meeting Oct. 18. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS EACH MONDAY NOON

The Black Mountain-Swannanoa Rotary club meets each Monday at 12:15 at the Monte Vista hotel. All visiting Rotarians are invited to attend. Ross Taylor is president.

RUMMAGE SALE CONTINUES

The Tea and Topic club will continue its rummage sale Friday and Saturday on Cherry street. Committee members in charge state that "there are still wonderful bargains for the whole family. Come in and take advantage of these good buys," they suggest.

Kiwanis Elects Head President

The Black Mountain-Swannanoa Kiwanis club recognized "National Newspaper Week" at its last luncheon by having as speaker Gordon Greenwood, owner and editor of the Black Mountain News.

Mr. Greenwood explained the difference between the functions of a big daily and a small weekly newspaper, some of the legal aspects of the publishing business and the reasons why everything a paper receives for publication cannot be published.

"The publisher of a weekly," he said, "must be a part of the community he serves." Several members of the club paid tribute to the speaker's loyalty to and wide interest in this community and its activities.

The club elected M. E. Head as president and D. W. Harrison as vice president for the coming year. Guests were Dr. Cyrus H. Sharp, Orlando, Fla., Sam Fox of the Asheville club, and Mr. Greenwood.

More Money Gifts Needed to Assure of Youth Center

The "Operation Youth" campaign for funds continues. When you see Rev. W. A. Huneycutt and Rev. John L. McWhorter strolling together you may assume that they are talking about the proposed youth center and what it will mean to our youngsters. One business man was heard to say "It does your heart good to see those two preachers working together on a project of this kind and they seem to be enjoying the experience."

Rev. Kenneth Donald is also working on the industries campaign committee and it is reported that he is not letting grass grow under his feet, either. "Operation Youth" is grateful to these gentlemen for their efforts.

Funds are still coming in, but there is much to be done before the needed $7500 is realized, a spokesman reported.

This is a "Finer Carolina" project.

Swannanoa Men's Club Endorses Training Center

A new industrial educational center, which has been approved for the Asheville area, was endorsed by the Swannanoa Men's club at the regular meeting in the community clubhouse this week.

Speaker for the meeting was Fred Gehres, assistant state supervisor of trade and industrial education. He explained the importance of a center of this type to the economy of the area and explained the type training which would be offered.

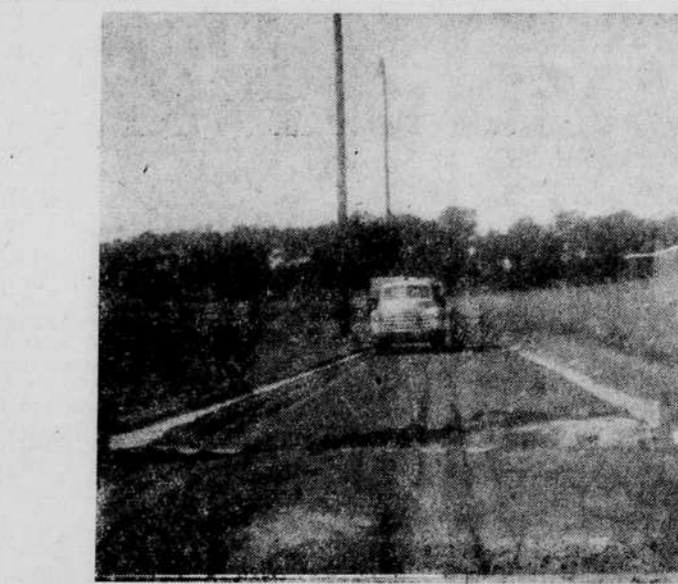

The plan, which was approved by the last General Assembly, made provisions for 17 training centers.

—Turn to Page 12

SWANNANOVA PTA WILL MEET OCTOBER 16

The Swannanoa PTA will meet Thursday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

O. M. Alexander, safety representative of the State Highway Patrol, will give a short talk and show a film on "Safety." William J. Wright, president, will preside. All parents are urged to attend.

Work has been started and is going forward on the new field house at Shuford Field. Members of the Booster club, which is sponsoring the project as part of the "Finer Carolina" program for the year, hope that it will be ready for use before the end of the football season.

In the picture above, a truck is shown unloading cinder blocks to be used in the foundation and walls. Grant Ballard, president of the Booster club, has appointed Maurice Jones to head this project.

In order to raise funds for the field house the Boosters will operate the concession stand for all athletic events through the basketball season. The membership drive is just getting under way and leaders have pointed out that all of this money will be used for the field house.

The new building will consist of shower rooms for home and visiting teams, a much needed press box, and other facilities. It will be located on the north side of the field, just inside the fence and behind the north stands.

Camp Director

Wayne Chastain of Jacksonville, Fla., is the new director of Camp Ridgecrest for Boys. He replaces Harry McCall, who has returned to Miami, Fla., to teach school.

Mr. Chastain will complete his fall semester at Southeastern Baptist seminary, Wake Forest, and then with his wife, will move to Ridgecrest the middle of January. He will visit churches and colleges on week-ends in the interest of staff and campers.

Mr. Chastain is a graduate of Stetson university, member of Pi Kappa Phi and Sigma Pi Kappa, and listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

In the U. S. Navy he was pre-flight battalion commander. Last year he taught at Fork Union academy, Fork Union, Va. He was a tribal leader at Camp Ridgecrest for Boys this past summer. His wife was a bookkeeper for the camp. He has had wide experience with boys, having organized a Royal Ambassador chapter in his church; managed junior league baseball for three summers; served as counselor for several summers at church camps; sponsored a school club at Fork Union Military academy; participated in Boy Scout work two years; and been active in all sports including football, baseball, basketball, softball, wrestling, weight lifting and boxing. Mr. Chastain is a licensed minister.

The Waste Basket

(INTO WHICH A GOOD IDEA SOMETIMES FINDS ITS WAY)

By Dorothy Mattison

Ye Editor isn't the only one to whom the matter of dieting is of concern—not after this department spent a week on a South Carolina beach—sunning, mostly, and subsisting upon cooking other than her own.

Result: seven pounds gained in seven days. This despite the onerous business of being "evaporated," as one waitress commentator put it, from Pawley's Island in the face of ominous newscasts which forecast for Hurricane Helene even more disastrous results than accompanied Hurricane Hazel of several years ago, which did widespread damage.

—Turn to Page 7

Laymen Lead in Forward Program

Sunday, Oct. 5, was "kick-off" day for the "Forward Program" in the First Baptist church. The choir introduced the theme song, "Higher Ground," followed by a sermon by Rev. W. A. Huneycutt on "Forward-March."

"Laymen's Sunday" will be observed in the church Sunday, Oct. 12. Laymen will occupy the choir, conduct the services, and preach the sermons. At the morning hour, Shelby Horton, Asheville attorney, will be the speaker, on the subject of "Christian Discipleship." The Brotherhood, of which Ben Ivey is president, will sponsor this program.

Red Cross Chapter Elects Mon. Night

The Black Mountain-Swannanoa Red Cross chapter will hold its annual meeting for election of officers at Black Mountain City hall Monday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. All Red Cross members are invited to attend.

N. C. Art Society Officers to Visit Here October 13-14

To personally meet the exhibiting artists of District No. 12 of N. C. Mrs. J. H. B. Moore of Asheville, membership chairman, and Mrs. R. R. Sermon of Raleigh, secretary of the N. C. State Art society, will be house guests Oct. 13 and 14 at Oak Knoll Studios of Mrs. Mary E. Aleshire, who is vice president.

Dr. Lee H. Humber of Greenville, is the state president of the Art society, which manages the State Art Museum in Raleigh.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 14, Mrs. Aleshire will hold open house honoring her guests and allowing

—Turn to Page 7

Swannanoa "Y" Program Provides "Ladies' Day Out"

A morning of fun and relaxation while learning new skills is offered Swannanoa housewives in a Y. W. C. A. program series for every Wednesday morning at 9:30 from Oct. 15 to Dec. 3.

The programs open with coffee and at 10 offer class programs in hat remodeling, crafts, turning old into new in house-hold furniture and fixtures, Christmas cards, etc.

At 11:15—"Slimastics" are led by Mrs. Peter Muffat. From 9:30 to 12:30, a supervised nursery is conducted for children of 2 years and up by Mrs. Adrian Standart.

Fees are: $3 for the general program; $3 for "slimastics"; $2 for membership (required); $3 for first child in nursery; $2.50 for second child in nursery.

BLACK MOUNTAIN PTA MEETING OCTOBER 16

A panel discussion of school problems from the administrative and teacher viewpoint will highlight the regular meeting of the Black Mountain PTA at the school on Oct. 16. Joe Scannell is program chairman.

Prior to the regular program the group will hear a speaker from Asheville outline the proposed expansion program of Asheville-Biltmore college. He will make a 10-minute talk on the bond issue which will be voted on at the general election on Nov. 4.

AF. & A.M. LODGE SCHEDULES SESSION

Black Mountain Lodge 663 A. F. and A. M., will hold an emergent communication to confer the second degree Friday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

All Master Masons are cordially invited, Carl O. Crisp, Worshipful Master, stated.

A revival is now in progress at the East Black Mountain Free Will Baptist church. A song service is being held each evening at 7:30. The Rev. John Canler, pastor, is delivering the messages and invites members from all of the churches in this vicinity to attend.

—Turn to Page 12