REFLECTIONS

Gordon Greenwood

Thank you, Very Much!

I should write a long note of thanks to all those loyal friends who turned out to vote in the general election. It was cold as ice and the day and uncomfortable for those standing in line. That many stuck it out and waited greatly appreciated.

As the closing time drew near the lines moved outside and all the way back to the sidewalk, a great number found it impossible to wait and left. Many drove by, saw the "mile long" line and didn't even bother to get out of their car.

When the precinct chief Daniel Hannay stepped out at 6:30, declared to all within earshot that the Black Mountain Precinct No. 1 is hereby closed as of Nov. 4, the man was still too long for comfort.

Just to make sure that no one slipped into line, Claude Gilreath, a deputy sheriff with many years of experience as a law enforcement officer, was placed at the back to maintain the status quo. All those who are in line when the polls close are entitled to vote. It was close to 7:30 before the last ballot had been cast and the halls cleared at No. 1.

The turn out was excellent for off-year election. More than 600 ballots were cast in the two Black Mountain precincts. Voting was equally heavy at Swannanoa, Broad River, and others.

As I said in the beginning, I could take typewriter in hand and in a long note of appreciation, but after all is said and the last is crossed all of you will know mean it when I say—Thank you very much.

Musing Incidents

Many amusing things happened during the primary and the election that I may tell about if and when time permits. I met friends I hadn't seen in years, and relatives—"kissin' cousins"—that I had never seen. Some said they'd vote for me, others were non-committal. I didn't blame them for they preferred to ride an experienced horse.

It has been a great experience. I enjoyed most of all seeing old friends again and recalling happenings of a few years ago before all entertainment was on TV and you made your own. Some we made doesn't bear repeating.

One old timer whom I hadn't seen in several years was a very surprised potential voter when I talked in. He stammered: "What are you doin' back here, thought you got killed in the war?"

He had his feet placed for a set get away. If I had jumped at him and yelled "Boo," he would probably have torn the

Operation Youth Donations Reach Mark of $3,000

Operation Youth to-date has received donations in the amount of $3,000.00. It still needs $4,500 in order to get the project underway. If this is really the "valley of religion," surely this is a small amount to raise to provide a playground for our youngsters.

This reporter was talking with one of the high school teachers about their recent tour of industries and business houses in this area. At each plant, he said, they asked what the schools could do to better prepare their students for employment. "Teach them to get along with people" was the universal comment. I am sure the comment did not mean for Baptist to get along with Baptist, Presbyterians with Presbyterians or Methodist with Methodist. These employers meant that youngsters should learn sportsmanship, the Golden Rule and understanding of others regardless of church affiliation.

What better can we do than provide facilities and leadership for them to learn these fundamentals. Scouting, 4-H clubs, baseball, football and many other outdoor activities teach these in a practical way and supplement the work our teachers are doing.

Can we afford not to provide for these things in a community such as ours?

Operation Youth is dedicated to this objective and needs the help of everyone, not just the few who have made generous contributions. It is a Finer Carolina project.

And still they came. It was cold, it was dark and unpleasant but these hardy voters at Black Mountain Precinct No. 1 refused to be discouraged and held their ground to cast their ballot in the general election last week.

At the time this picture was made it was almost time for the polls to close (6:30 p.m.) and the line stretched from the registrar's table down the halls, out alongside the school building to the sidewalk.

Voting was brisk all day but the closing of the plants and institutions in the area brought a last minute flood of voters to the polls. This caused someone to suggest that at the next election some provision be made, by the co-operation of the plants, to stagger the voting to avoid the last minute jam.

Most of those in the picture waited it out but many left the lines and others drove by but didn't bother to get out of their cars to join the waiting lines.

Warhorses Flatten Waynesville; Lions To Fete Team Thurs.

CROWNING OF KING, QUEEN TO FEATURE FALL FESTIVAL

The king and queen will be crowned, cake walks will be in full swing, and the country store in full operation at the fall festival at the Black Mountain Primary school Saturday evening.

The festival will open at 5:30 with a turkey dinner which will be served until 7:00 at $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for children. Mrs. Frank Watkins will be in charge of the activities which will open in the gym at 7:30. Those participating in the talent show will all be from the community.

The contest to select the king and queen of the festival is now in progress. Each room has a candidate for each position. The winners will be determined by the number of votes which are one penny each.

Members of the 1958 Owen High school football team and the coaching staff will be honored at the annual banquet sponsored by the Black Mountain Lions club at the Monte Vista Thursday evening, Nov. 13, starting at 6:30.

A speaker of national reputation will bring the main address. The arrangement committee is composed of N. C. Shuford, Guy Birchfield, and T. W. Nesbitt. John J. O'Connor, Lions club president, will preside.

The rapidly improving Warhorses hammered out an impressive 33 to 13 victory over the Waynesville Mountaineers in the Haywood county seat last Friday night before a chilled audience.

Coach Kyker and his staff took the wraps off Howard Lewis and the young Warhorse kicked up his heels and rolled over for four touchdowns during the rout.

He scored on a seven yard dash in the first quarter. Waynesville tied it up and kicked off to Lewis. This proved a fatal mistake. He tucked the ball under his arm on the 10 and zig zagged through a broken field for the second touchdown. When big Joe Robinson bulled over for the extra point, it was 14-7, Owen, and it wasn't close from there on.

Lewis raced 20 yards in the second period and Fred Newton slipped through for the extra point. Bobby Peterson, hard tackling end, recovered a fumble in the Waynesville end zone before the half was over and the Owen High eleven went to the dressing room with a 27 to 7 advantage.

The Owen team coasted in the second half and held the home team scoreless in the third and then matched touchdowns with the Mountaineers in the fourth. The Owen TD came on a 46 yard pass, Bennett to Lewis.

Morgan Child Is Victim of Freak Accident

Robert Andrew Morgan, Jr., 34-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrew Morgan of Black Mountain, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 4, at the trailer home of Ray Revis, three miles off U.S. Highway 70 on Curtis Creek road, Old Fort.

Young Morgan and a playmate, Allen Revis, 2, were playing in the yard. An uncle, Carl McPeters, 19, of Old Fort was backing the pickup truck to a generator which furnishes light for the trailer. The two boys dashed behind the truck. McPeters, hearing a scream, stopped immediately but it was too late. Young Morgan's skull was crushed. No charges were filed in the accident.

Black Mountain Couple Killed In Car Accident

Last rites for Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Childers were held Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9, in the Black Mountain Church of God.

Mr. and Mrs. Childers were killed in a traffic accident Thursday afternoon at an intersection some 16 miles north of Forest City. Oakley Buchanan of Bakersville, route 4 was also killed in the accident. Mr. Buchanan's brother Claude of Bakersville, route 1, was admitted to Rutherford County hospital.

The Childers couple had attended the funeral of Mrs. Carrie Elliott, 87, of Polkville, at Big Springs church in Rutherford county just prior to the accident.

The Rev. Carl Winstead and the Rev. G. A. McCurry officiated and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery at Marion.

Surviving Mr. Childers are a son, Johnny, and a daughter, Shirley; two brothers, Raymond of Rock Hill, S. C., and Cole of Gaffney, S. C.; and two sisters, Mrs. Carl Bishop of Lockhart, S. C., and Mrs. Raymond Smart of York, S. C.

Surviving Mrs. Childers in addition to the two children are three brothers, Monroe Duncan of Granite Falls, Theodore of Baltimore, Md., and Sam of Marion, and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Woods of Tuckasee.

The Black Mountain Lodge will confer the entered apprentice degree on a class of candidates on Friday evening, Nov. 14, at 7:30 in Lodge hall.

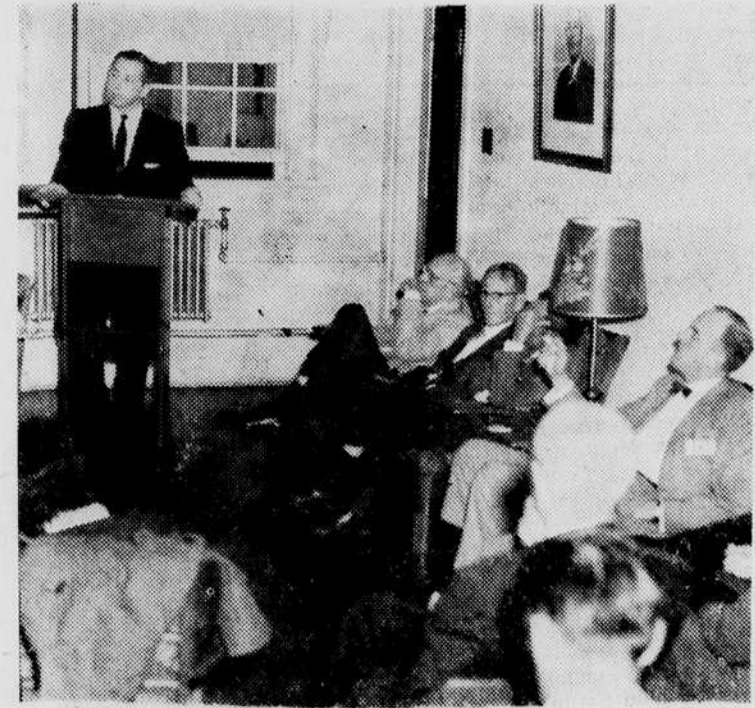

WM Carl Crisp has invited all Master Masons to attend.

Hunters Shoot Game In Yards As Owners Quake

Complaints have been made that hunters have been shooting too close to thickly populated areas, and in some cases have shot rabbits and squirrels in the yards of occupied homes. Many have paid no attention to "no trespassing" signs but have invaded private property without regard for the safety of the owners.

One thoughtless hunter shot a squirrel that fell practically on the porch of a home, and another fired a shot at a rabbit and hit instead a highly prized and valued dog in the yard of a home.

This is dangerous to animals and to children who are playing in the leaves at this time of year. Be careful where you shoot. The life you save may be that of a child or a grownup minding his own business in his own yard.

27 New Novels Now Available At B. M. Library

The Black Mountain Public Library announces that 27 new novels were purchased in October. These were:

Call Down the Storm, West of the Law, Sagebrush Swindle, President's Wife, Admiral Hornblower and the West Indies, Shadows on the Water, Cocktail Time, And Four to Go, Love Calls the Doctor, Beloved Intruder, Lookout Lady, Cordelia, Dr. Jane's Mission, Cover Girl, Focus on Love, Cat in the Hat, Pumpkin Summer, Henry and the Paper Route, Eddie Makes Music, Ride the Wild Waves, Mystery of the Hidden Cat, Never Call Retreat, Undersea Explorer, Tomorrow Is Forever, Give Me One Summer, and When Hearts Are Light Again.

Miss Ruby Hall, librarian, says that the Black Mountain Public Library may now borrow for any one, any reference book from any public library or state supported college in the state. This is a much enlarged service available this year for the first time and a great help to small public libraries like that in Black Mountain, where non-fiction books are necessarily very limited. Among the non-fiction books at the library is a large collection on gardening, flower arrangement, landscaping and allied subjects presented over the years by the Black Mountain Garden club.

Fall library hours are: Monday evening 6 to 8; Tuesday and Saturday 3 to 6 p.m.; and Friday 10 to 12 in the morning.
