

What's Goin' . . . At Owen

By Nancy DuPuy

"Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?" or "Let me not to the marriage of true minds . . ." are now the familiar phrases among many of the Seniors, as one of the English classes has been memorizing some of the sonnets written by Shakespeare. Now they are beginning the study of the play "Macbeth."

The members of the Junior class have come to the sale of magazine subscriptions and are very happy to report that the sales greatly exceeded the goal and their highest expectations. The highest girl is Toni Taylor; the highest boy, Vernon Hampton. Betty Pollard is the next highest and all three will receive their choice of watches, sweaters or other similar prizes. Susan Thomas, Elaine Martin, and Charles Norton are the next highest and will receive cash prizes. Mrs. Mary Freeman's homeroom led in the sales, and the following will receive certificates of merit: those listed above, Mack Kirkpatrick, Judy Byrd, Rita Shook, Mary Hendley, Charlene Meyer, Mary Stockton, Dorothy Redmon, Jillian Marett, and Wilma Hall.

November 3, operation of the driver-training car began. The car, a new Ford, belongs to the school and was purchased with funds allotted to Buncombe county for Driver Education. The first class has an enrollment of 23, and their instruction will consist of 20 hours in a classroom and 6 hours in the car.

Monday night a group of new teachers and outstanding lay educators met at Owen for a meeting on education. Since the tables would be improved with centerpieces, Mrs. Perley drafted her homeroom and one of her classes to make centerpieces on the theme, "Your Future Goes to School Today." This motto was placed over a miniature of the school.

Each department of the school sponsored a centerpiece which was made by an appointed committee. The Latin department made a "family tree" of the Latin verb. The Math department made a geometrical figure consisting of a five-pointed star with a perpendicular in the middle. From the perpendicular a line went to each point of the star, each point representing a different mathematical concept. The French department made a garden of Versailles with famous French characters showing the cultural contributions of France to the world. The Social Studies department based its display on "understanding our world."

The English department depicted English as the basic subject by making a wheel with "English" as the hub. The Agriculture department made a half globe which was filled with figures that showed conservations, animal husbandry, and others. The Biology department made a box with three levels representing the past, present, and future. The theme was "Biology Paves the Way." The Music department made a trumpet, their notes flowing from the bell. The notes showed the different benefits derived from music. The library made a small model of a library showing the library as the key to education. The Physics and Chemistry department made a set of small keys with a larger master key. These keys open the door to your future. The Office Practice group used a typewriter with pipe-cleaner figures showing the different occupations in business. The Physical Education department used a sports trophy surrounded by three circles. The circles stood for spiritual, physical and mental development.

The whole band has thoroughly enjoyed the football season this year. They have stayed after school and marched so as to perfect their half-time demonstrations. They have spent many hours on their marching and we, the students, feel that they have accomplished more in their marching this year than ever before.

Now that the football season is over they will begin work on their Christmas concert. They will also march in the Christmas parade in Asheville on Nov. 26. They were also invited to march in the Marion Christmas parade but will not be able to participate.

The Future Teachers of America club attended the Fourth Annual State convention Saturday, Nov. 6, on the Wake Forest campus at Winston-Salem. Twenty-eight members of the Owen chapter attended. They were Beth Summey, Mary Stockton, Dana Kelley, Betty Pollard, Judy Byrd, Shirley Moore, Susan Thomas, Ann Perry, Anne Woodcock, Norma Ann Stephenson, Carolyn Hudson, Carol Stafford, Pat Gill, Judy Patton, Betty Patton, Joann Cornwell, Diane Miller, Tommy Blizard, Tommy Wagner, Alan Taylor, Alan Romallo, Carol Norwood, Lloyd Moore, Gwen McAfee, Elizabeth Hall, Helene Nichols, James West and Linda Huneuett.

The main highlights of the day were a speech by Dr. Carrigas from Washington, D. C., the campaigning and election of state officers, a humorous skit and an address by the president of NCEA, Mr. Glenn Robertson. In their free time they toured the campus and had a great time. Miss Nancy Wrenn, the club sponsor, attended with the group.

Church Affairs
Rev. Robert Hughes of Asheville, Missionary for Buncombe Baptist Association, was guest minister in the Ridgecrest church on Sunday morning. Reading from Isaiah 40, he brought a fine message on the subject of true worship.

At the evening hour Chaplain Deyo Williams of VA Hospital at Swannanoa led the service. His sermon about what constitutes greatness was refreshing and inspirational.

Woman's Missionary Society met Tuesday, Nov. 4 in the home of Mrs. Gladys Broyles. Mrs. W. O. Sutherland presented in an excellent way the program on Taiwan, entitled "The Ramsomed Shall Come with Songs." During a pleasant social hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sutherland, served dainty sandwiches and coffee to the twenty women present.

The "covered dish" supper at the church on Wednesday was greatly enjoyed. Business meeting for the month followed the meal. The Prayer Service was conducted by Miss Olive Lawton who showed slides of her work in Taiwan and spoke radiantly of her joy in returning to the island. Early next morning she left for Charleston, S. C. from whence she sailed Nov. 10 for the land she so loves. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Truesdell accompanied her as far as Tigertsville, S. C.

At the latest meeting of Sunbeams some days ago ten little folks gathered in the home of Mrs. Ed Lakey to complete the study of "Carlos and the Green Car." Jean Tipton and young James Lakey assisted the leader with guiding the handwork and serving refreshments to: Jerry Biddix, Joyce Burton, Patty and Judy Bradley, Buster Gray, Jimmy Peek, Glenn Perry, Jack Tipton, Ronny and Karen Turner.

Monday was G. A. day again. The Harriet Lennon Juniors met with Miss Mamie Meeks and studied about Taiwan with the aid of pictures and maps provided by the counselor, Linda Allison, Lynda Synnes, and Helen Johnson were present.

Only the girls of the Dorothy Lawton Juniors managed to get to Mrs. Gallamore's home for their meeting but they had a double program on "Talking about Taiwan" and "Baptists among Buddhists." Martha Allison, Glenda Lakey, and Nancy Weaver were those who enjoyed the afternoon with their counselor.

Six of the seven Intermediate girls attended the Marian Coward G. A. meeting. Jean Tipton presided over the business session. Ann Moore led a program on Taiwan called "Transplanted" in which all the girls took part. Deanna Belcher, Barbara Bradley, Kathleen Phillips, and Sandra Wright were the others present.

The Business Women's Circle met Thursday evening with Mrs. Leonard Biddix for the purpose of studying "Into a New World" by Winston Crawley. Mrs. B. S. Meeks taught the first session, majoring on Indonesia as her subject. Miss Edith Van Duzer was teacher during the second hour, with Thailand being emphasized. Between sessions the hostess served a delicious salad course. Those present were Misses Evelyn Blount and Betty Ruediger, Mesdames John May, Grace Johnson, W. M. Pate, Fred Stinson, and Howard Wright, the teachers, the hostess and her little son Jerry.

Here and There
Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Jolley this week are a niece, Miss Eula Jolley of Newberry, S. C., and Mr. Jolley's sister, Mrs. Cordia King of Brevard.

Mrs. Edith Beam and Miss Mary Ward are spending part of this week in Brevard while Miss Mary does some substitute teaching for one of her friends.

Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Woodbright and little son Michael, of Iva, S. C. spent Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Woodbright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sutherland. On Wednesday Mrs. Sutherland accompanied them as far as Charlotte for a few hours, then went to Greenville, S. C. in time for supper with her daughter, Mrs. John Gillespie and family, arriving in Ridgecrest later the same evening.

W. K. Smith of Winter Park, Fla., arrived Monday to assist his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Craven, in closing up their home for the winter before their departure on Wednesday for Lakeland, Fla.

Paul Harris Sr., Paul Turner and son Bobby, and Jimmy Buckner of Black Mt. drove over to Boiling Springs Saturday evening to attend the Gardner-Webb Wingate football game. Even though the home team was defeated these fans had a good time.

There is a new member of the Bell-Blount household. His name is "Otto Von Brandenburg, I. of Ridgecrest." He is a two month's old dashdand with a long pedigree and pleasing manners.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Weeks left Monday for Durham to attend the Baptist State Convention. Bill Bradley of Chapel Hill spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bradley on Old Toll road.

Miss Precious Greenlee, a senior in the School of Nursing of the Kate Bitting Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem was on last Friday evening crowned Queen-of-the-

This shot from the sidewalk at Black Mountain Precinct No. 1 shows the line extending through the first door and along the hallway to the turn where the corridor runs down to the room where the machines and election officials were located. This picture was made shortly after the one which appears on page 1. It was time for the polls to close but the citizens held their ground and voted, even though it was almost 7:30 before the last ballot had been cast.

Hospital and reigned in that capacity for the week of festivities observed each year by the school. Hospital Administrator William E. Fox placed the crown upon her head. She was one of two students nominated by the faculty for this honor because of scholarship, then elected by the students because of her popularity. On Saturday after the coronation she rode with her attendants on one of the floats in a parade sponsored by the merchants of Winston-Salem. On "hats are off" to this Ridgecrest who has been so signally honored! Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bailey of Burlington spent a couple of days here this week, closing their house for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bunnell of Winston-Salem spent the week end with their daughter, Mrs. Doyle Turner and family. The big building program of the Assembly is really under way. A pile-drive began Monday to sink piles twenty feet deep for foundation work on the new conference building next door to the auditorium. Construction of the Chapel for the Girl's Camp began a few days ago, and the new gymnasium for Crestridge will be begun next week.

Don Turner left Monday night to spend a few days in Miami, Fla. Miss Mary Paschal came home from Hickory for the week end. Mrs. Gladys Broyles got homesick for her little grandson and headed for Ft. Meade, Fla., on Friday a.m. Miss Gayle Newcomb and a friend from Converse College, Spartanburg, were guests Sup. p. m. of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Weeks. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Pate left Saturday for another week of vacation. Their immediate destination was Richmond, Va., to visit Mrs. Pate's sister, but the rest of the trip was indefinite.

Was it a young tornado? At least it was a windy wind which tore shingles and gutter pipes from some houses and split in half a large apple tree in the Sutherland yard on Sunday night.

Ridgecrest Assembly Staff and many other Ridgecrest friends grieve with the family of Baxter H. Chandler because of the death on Sunday evening of this fine young man.

Senior Superlatives
Members of the 1959 senior class of Old Fort High school have elected their class superlatives. They are: Reta Allison and Bonnie Burr, best all-around; Bonnie Burr and Kenneth Carver, best looking; Linda Willis and Kenneth Rhinehart, most intellectual; Elaine Ros and Haskell Davis, friendliest; Carolyn Hendley and Lloyd Porter, most athletic; Betty Lowery and Donnie Souther, most popular; Carrie Padgett and Jerry Kelly, most courteous; Doris Carr and Donnie Souther, neatest.

Miss Anne Trexler is Wed
Odel Trexler of Greenville has announced the marriage of his daughter, Anne Elizabeth, of Old Fort to Robert F. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Wilson, also of this place. The ceremony took place Oct. 29 in Gaffney, S. C. Miss Trexler was dressed in a beige suit with brown accessories. Accompanying them to Gaffney were Mr. and Mrs. Benny Rumliff of Marion. After the wedding the couple left for a trip to St. Augustine and Daytona Beach, Fla.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are 1955 graduates of Old Fort high school. Mr. Wilson attended Presbyterian Junior college prior to enlisting in the U. S. Marine corps. He is now in the Air Force and reported to Lackland AFB in Texas Nov. 7. Mrs. Wilson will remain temporarily in G. Fort.

Miss Nancy Hughes—A Beauty
Word has been received with pride in Old Fort that our Miss Nancy Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vann Hughes, and a sophomore at Furman university, Greenville, is one of 7 lovely young ladies whose photographs have been selected to go in the "Beauty" section of the college annual, "The Bonhomme." Miss Hughes has received other honors at the college. She has been on the Dean's list and was a member of the May court last year. She has also appeared on TV on several occasions in connection with programs sponsored by the school.

Attend Bingo Party
A number of ladies from Old Fort attended the huge bingo party held by the Stanley Co. on Saturday evening at the YWCA in Asheville. Those going over for the fun were Misses Bertha Greene, Linda Carver, Mrs. Harold Martin, Mrs. Ted Carver, Mrs. Sam Stone, Mrs. Kermit Silver, and Mrs. Faye Haney. The Old Fort ladies won several prizes. Miss Greene won two.

Miss Magnant Honored
Mrs. Harold Martin and Mrs. Dan Adams, Jr. were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given at the Martin home on Friday evening in honor of Miss Kathy Magnant, whose marriage to Grant Hunt of Old Fort is planned for Nov. 22. Twenty friends were there. The Martin home was decorated with an appropriate color scheme. After games and stunts were enjoyed, the hostesses served refreshments including a bride's cake. The honoree was the

Howard Fletcher Harrill
Howard Fletcher Harrill, about 70, patient at Arney Nursing home on Spring st., was found dead at 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 8, by Mrs. Harrill and Mrs. Lina Welling, nurse. He and Mrs. Harrill have been patients at the nursing home for some months but his death was unexpected and apparently resulted from a heart attack. The body was taken to his native Shelby for funeral services and burial. Mrs. Harrill will continue to live at the home. Mrs. Welling and John Blalock attended the services in Shelby on Sunday.

Birthdays Feted
A birthday dinner was served Sunday for Herman Chrisman at his home on Sprint st. Nov. 2. Those present helping him celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. James Allison, Rev. A. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. Jobie Johnson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chrisman, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Chrisman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crisp, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lavender, Mrs. Will A. Moore, and J. C. Moore.

Killed by Tractor
James Carroll Toney, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Toney of Fairview road, McDowell county, was killed Saturday in a tractor accident. The boy was riding with his father on a tractor pulling a trailer. The tractor turned over, injuring the father and killing the boy. Mrs. Toney tried to extricate the tractor from the ditch and burned her arm severely on the hot exhaust pipe of the tractor. She ran for help to a neighbor's home. It is reported the child's neck was broken. Toney, Sr., was treated at a Marion doctor's home for shock and bruises.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ola Hunter Stancell of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Columbus Aiken of Woodruff; four grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; two brothers, Eli Stancell of Greer, Jesse Stancell of Burch, Ga.; one half brother, Clifton Stancell of Chattanooga, Tenn.; four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Holder of Piedmont, Mrs. Leona S. Bowen and Mrs. Hubert Aiken of Greenville, and Mrs. Etta S. Hayes of Old Fort.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 11 a.m. at Pointsett Baptist church by the Rev. Carlton M. Robinson, the Rev. Harold Slighter and the Rev. Toy Howell. Burial was in Graceland cemetery. The body was taken to the home at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Thomas McGee Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

ANOTHER HARVEST
Now at the turning of the year, when all the heraldry of autumn is ablaze, We walk in splendor, loath to let Of one leaf mar the fullness of these days. Yet frost will soon bring every banner down To bleak abandonment, and winds will reap Another harvest, in a drift of brown And brittle wastage, not for us to keep. Beyond our sense of winter coming on This knowledge of eventual change can hold More than a seeming loss; earth long has gone Through cycles of recurrent green and gold Bearing us also. Still the seed is cast, And desolate places will again be grassed. Paula Nelson in Candor. Manhattan Branch of Pen Women. Anne Kendrick Sharp, Chr. Poet's Corner, Creative Writing Club.
