Latest contribution to From the things I have heard about him, it makes him seem very close. He was the organist at the old church and would get up each Sunday morning and walk to church and get there by 9 o'clock. He lived down on Lake Eden road. One can easily walk *it in that length of time, for I have done it myself. I can almost see Uncle Grover playing the old hymns and praying before church services. I have found that the best way to commune with God is playing and praying in an empty church, just as Uncle Grover did before the services. It gives me great pleasure to go to a small country church on Sunday afternoon to play and pray and walk about in the cemetery. There are a few churches without locked doors. Mrs. Douglas Jones, chairman of the club's American Home committee, arranged the program which was carried out with the aid of Mrs. Max Woodcock, Mrs. Frank Buckner, Mrs. L. C. Jumper, Mrs. Stanley Garland, Mrs. Edna Wall, Mrs. M. E. Head and Mrs. W. E.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Anne Sharp Harrison, district president, of the approaching Mar. 19 District Fine Arts luncheon. This will be at 12:15 at the Battery Park hotel, Asheville, when prizes will be awarded to boys and girls chosen as winners in the fine arts annual competition in the fields of painting, poetry and music. Reservations should be made by noon, March 17, with Mrs. Walter Burgess. Mrs. Bill Phillips is district chairman of the department of fine arts.

Mrs. John Benedict, chairman of the local club's fine arts committee, reminded that the coming March meeting will take the form of a style show with "surprise' features, to be presented at the Monte Vista hotel.
