PRE-CHRISTMAS PARTY AT MILLS CHAPEL CHURCH
A pre-Christmas party was given at Mills Chapel Baptist church dining hall Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, by the Friendship Club No. 1 of Black Mountain for all children of the community and the consolidated school area.

Thirty youngsters braved the cold wind and snow to attend. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Asbury Gragg, president of the club, assisted by Mrs. Wilbert Lytle, Mrs. Raymond Stepp, Mrs. William Daugherty, Mrs. Robert Lee Stepp, Mrs. Nelson Daugherty, Mrs. Charlie Brown, and Mrs. William Hamilton. The children sang carols and a good time was reported by all who attended.

Mrs. C. I. McDougle was pleasantly surprised Thursday night when a group of friends honored her with a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mashburn. Jane Callison, George Joyner, Jimmy Uzzell, Jimmy Buckner, David Longoey, and Celeste Sabiston, all students at Cullowhee, were home last week end.

Dr. S. M. Bittinger and Dr. J. H. Williams of Asheville spent several days last week hunting at McCain, N. C. Last Sunday Michael J. Ledbetter visited his father, Horace Ledbetter, who is convalescing at home after a four weeks' stay in a U. S. Naval hospital.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson entertained with a party last Saturday afternoon, Dec. 3, to honor the third birthday of her daughter Sandra. Misses Pat and Sara McDougle and Ossie Osteen of High Point college were home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Martin had as week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin and daughter Vernay of Hayesville. After returning to her home, Miss Martin will report to the W.A.A.F. base at San Antonio, Texas.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Hardin had extra reason for happiness on Thanksgiving Day when 27 friends from Morganton brought dinner baskets and came to spend the day with them.

Miss Bessie Wilson of Montreat is spending some time with relatives and friends in Atlanta and south Georgia. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strickland have moved from North Fork to a cottage in Lake-wood.

Monroe Fortune has gone to Long Beach, Calif., to spend the winter with his family. Mr. and Mrs. William Fortune and children, Mary Lou, Esther, and Melinda, are living in the Monroe Fortune house while they are gone.

Eddie Gibson
Mrs. Eddie Gibson and daughter, Sandra, returned to Detroit after funeral services and burial in Sunset cemetery, Biltmore, for Mrs. Gibson's husband. Mrs. Gibson is the former Edna Mae Morehead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Morehead of Black Mountain.

GARDEN TIME
by M. E. Gardner
This may be a good time to pass along answers to a backlog of questions which have been submitted.

Q: I have several big crepe myrtle plants growing in full sun in my yard. They bloom sparsely and I am tempted to cut them back waist high. Would this be advisable?

A: The crepe myrtle responds to frequent pruning because new growth is produced which usually results in profuse flowering. While this plant will withstand heavy heading back, I would advise against this practice due to its dwarfing effect.

Q: What plants can I use to prevent soil washing down a slope?

A: Common periwinkle, pashysandra, English ivy, creeping juniper, sedum, myrtle, lily-turf (Liriope), or dwarf lily-turf (ophiopogon). It is understood, of course, that these plants must become established before soil erosion is stopped.

Q: When should I harvest my gladiolus corms?

A: It is desirable to lift the corms each year. This should be done about four to six weeks after blooming or just before the first killing frost.

Place the corms in a well-ventilated place and let them dry thoroughly. After drying, clean by removing the old, dried, mother corms and any old roots that may be attached to them.

After cleaning, dust with five per cent DDT for protection against thrips. Store the corms in shallow trays, or other convenient containers, not more than about four inches deep. Store at a temperature of 50 degrees, or as near this as possible. Keep from freezing.

Q: Which is the hardest of the ivies?

A: Baltic ivy (Hedera helix baltica). It is similar to English ivy but the leaves are smaller.

MEREDITH COLLEGE WILL BUILD NEW DORM ON CAMPUS
The Meredith college president, Dr. Carlyle Campbell, announced this week that plans for a new dormitory to be built on the campus were approved by the executive committee of the board of trustees at its November meeting.

Because of the fact that the pressure for college admission is so great in the State, said Robert G. Deyton, Meredith vice-president, the officials will proceed immediately with plans for the 200-student dormitory on the east campus.

Meredith college, supported by the State Baptist Convention, is one of five four-year colleges for women in North Carolina.

Interest In Science Is Burning WNC
The Science department of Appalachian State Teachers college has figuratively lit all Bunson burners to fire up student interest in science in Western North Carolina.

Dr. F. Ray Derrick, head of the biology department, announced that two grants have been applied for from the National Science Foundation to further scientific study in Western North Carolina.

One application is to support a course for high school science teachers and the other is for courses for high school students. Both are for the 1960 summer school session.

—If your car is stolen in North Carolina chances are good it will be recovered through the Motor Vehicles Department's Theft Bureau. Sleuths discover and restore to owners about 98 per cent of the vehicles stolen.
