GLAMER ROSE!

VOL. 15.

Some weeks ago L. Penn Hunter, former Black Mountain florist, now owner of Hunter Florist, Marion, and McDowell county representative in the General Assembly, came by to talk over a new product he was planning to introduce to the market in North and South Carolina. More interested in the layout of the copy on the ticket than the spelling, he idly sketched in the words "Glamer Rose."

Later checking the layout and copy I asked: "Do you want to spell it that way?" Penn, his mind still on the many details connected with the product, replied: "Yes. Let it go."

We did. And as a result a few weeks ago we delivered ed, folded, and punched rose tickets to Mr. and Mrs. Hunter in Marion.

The observing eye of Mrs. Hunter immediately caught the new spelling and Penn On Evangelism was called to account. He then for the first time recalled our conversation and his okey to "let it go." And go it did. Now the Hunters are glad they did. The words "Glamer Rose" have been good advertising for an item new to the mark-
