What's Goin' . . . At Owen

by Tim Spiro

Cheerleaders . . . One group of girls who have done much this year to keep school spirit at the games high is the Owen cheerleaders. These girls practiced at least once each week from the time school started until this week. Actually, they started practicing before school started. They have achieved precision in leading the student body in cheering football and basketball teams alike. The following girls are the Owen cheerleaders: Patricia Bird Talbot, Padhee Massey, Beverly Bryan, Peggy McElrath, Joan Barnwell, Brenda Garland, Sandy Cook, Ann Moore, Judy Evans, Barbara Solesbee, and Mitchell Farr.

Congratulations, Bill Horne, for the honor of being on the All-WNC high school basketball team. Bill has gotten a position on the first five of this all-star team, and he is first in the scoring per cent-

Senior Superlatives . . . The senior class is in the middle of electing the Senior Superlatives. There will be a girl and a boy for each superlative. The superlatives include: Best School Spirit, Best Personality, Wittiest, Friendliest, Most Talented, Most Dependable, Best Looking, and Most Likely to Succeed. Tune in next week for the results.

Season Over . . . The basketball season is now over; the teams played Bethel last Friday night here to close out the regular season. This week they are engaged in the Buncombe County tournament in Asheville.

A section of the high school band played at the half of the girls' game Friday, and be-

Better Living Exposition To Be March 1-4

Brighter, better living in the "Fabulous Sixties" will be the theme of the Western North Carolina Better Living Exposition to be held in Asheville at the City Auditorium, March 1, 2, 3 and 4, between the hours of 4 p.m. and 10 p.m.

The Exposition will occupy both floors of the Auditorium and embrace a wide variety of displays by some 90 Western North Carolina firms in 125 exhibit booths, and over $5,000.00 in valuable prizes will be awarded those attending.

Among the attractions will be a model of a pre-cut home, an operating model of a heat pump to supply summer cooling and winter heating, complete kitchens of newest design, modern household appliances, automobiles, furniture and a galaxy of other new things and new ideas.

Fontana Village will have an exhibit depicting their vacation facilities and many of the exhibitors bringing displays never before shown in the South.

Miss North Carolina, Judy Kumpf, and Miss Asheville, Dorothy Wilson, will participate in the formal opening at 6:30 p.m., March 1, along with Asheville's Mayor Earl Eller and E. Bunnelle, publisher of the Asheville Citizen and Times.

OLD FORT NEWS

MRS. BONNIE S. REYNOLDS
PHONE NO. 155
Old Fort, N. C.

Old Fort Wins McDowell County Girls' Tourney . . . Pleasant Fort girls defeated the Old Fort girls in the Pleasant Fort girls' tourney night for the McDowell County Tournament championship. Kaye Burgin scored 15 points to lead the winners. Judy Hyatt hit 15 for the losers.

In consolation bracket games the Glenwood girls downed North Cove 61-47 and the Nebo boys whipped North Cove, 44-36, moving both winners into consolation finals.

Monday's feature game will be the 9 p.m. boys' championship finals pairing Glenwood against Old Fort. At 6 p.m. Nebo and Pleasant Gardens clash for the boys' consolation title. At 7:30 Glenwood and Nebo girls meet for the girls' consolation title.

Old Fort Boys Take McDowell Championship
The Old Fort boys went ahead from the first Monday night to take the championship by downing Glenwood by the score of 51-35.

Eddie Rhinehardt and Jim Smith dumped 15 and 13 points respectively to pace the winners.

Old Fort led at the half by 25-18.

Suttles Is Morehead Nominee . . . Floyd Ray Suttles of Old Fort, student at Gardner-Webb college, is one of the nominees from junior colleges who will be competing for a Morehead scholarship to University of North Carolina Saturday.

Fifteen junior college students will go to Chapel Hill on that day to be interviewed by the Morehead scholarship central committee. That committee will interview high school finalists in the Morehead competition February 26, 27, and 29. There are 42 high school finalists and 27 prep school nominees.

Final selections of Morehead scholars will be made by the trustees of the Morehead Foundation on March 1 and they will be announced on a statewide television hook-up at 5:30 p.m. that day, an announcement from UNC states.

Recipients will enter the University in September, 1960.

Of the three high school students in McDowell who were county nominees to compete at district level this year, one was named a district alternate. He is Robert Harris, Old Fort High school senior. Each scholarship provides $1,250 yearly to cover expenses for four years' study at UNC.

Woman's Society Meets
The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Old Fort Methodist church held its February meeting in the church fellowship hall on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kimball Miller presided and the meeting was opened by tribute to the memory of her beloved members, Miss Gertrude Dula and Mrs. C. F. Noblitt, who died in December, 1959.

Personal experiences of their association with "Miss Gertrude" as she was familiarly called, were given. Her outstanding characteristics were friendliness, courage, and her determination to use her many talents for the betterment of herself and her community.

Of Mrs. Noblitt, it was said that ready smile and disposition endeared her to everyone who knew her. She was a devoted mother and rarely missed a church service.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Miller, using quotations from Psalms 118.

Carrying on with the theme, "This is the Day," Mrs. Gladys Kanipe gave a program centered around the missionary work of the Philadelphia Methodist Deaconess home.

Mrs. Rena Noblitt gave a report on the work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in old Untali, Southern Rhodesia.

Mrs. Miller announced that the mission study on Africa will begin in April. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Belle Williams and Mrs. Myrtle Hunt served refreshments.

Birth Day Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allison delightedly entertained a host of friends and relatives at a birthday dinner in honor of their son Jack Saturday evening at their home in Old Fort. Those present were: Mrs. Jack Allison, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Padgett, Minnie Padgett, Ervin Allison, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Allison and children, Jeff and Maria of Morgantown.

Old Fort Man Hurt In Wreck at Swannanoa
The manager of an Old Fort Finishing Plant was injured about 6:35 p.m. last Monday when his automobile and another vehicle collided on U. S. 70 about 100 feet west of Swannanoa traffic light.

D. G. Vander Voort, 36, of Pine circle, was given dispensary treatment at Memorial Mission hospital for scalp lacerations, abrasions of the legs and contusions of the left elbow and back, suffered in the wreck.

Trooper W. A. Kincaid of State Highway Patrol said that John Lasen, 45, of Swannanoa, listed as driver of the other car, was attempting to make a turn into a service station while his vehicle swerved into the path of the Vander Voort car.

Lasen was charged with making an improper turn, Kincaid reported. Both cars were damaged extensively, the trooper said.

Mother and Child Killed In Wreck Near Old Fort
A Charlotte mother and her nine year old son were killed about 2:15 p.m. Sunday afternoon, when their small four-wheeled car skidded on ice-coated U. S. highway 70 between Old Fort and Ridgecrest, and plunged 500 feet down a steep incline.

Mrs. Veri Goin, 30, driver of the car, and her son Clay were thrown from the auto as it plummeted down the cliff, some three miles from Old Fort.

Slightly injured in the wreck was Mrs. Goin's husband, Wade C. Goin, who was asleep in the back seat. He rode the vehicle all the way to the bottom of the 500 feet cliff.

Goin was taken to Marion General hospital for treatment of shock and bruises.

The bodies of the mother and child were taken to Harrison Funeral home, Black Mountain. They were shipped to Morristown, Tenn., for funeral services and burial.

Hoegh Says Every Family Needs A Fallout Shelter

Civil and Defense Mobilization Director Leo A. Hoegh says "everyone, even a likely target, would need shelter from fallout" in the event of an enemy attack.

In the introduction to "The Family Fallout Shelter," a publication of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, Mr. Hoegh says: "In an atomic war, blast, heat and initial radiation could kill millions close to ground zero of nuclear bursts. Many more millions—everybody else—could be threatened by radioactive fallout. But most of these could be saved."

Mr. Hoegh pointed out that the Federal shelter policy is based on the knowledge that most of those beyond the range of blast and heat will survive if they have adequate protection from fallout.

The OCDM booklet contains building plans for five basic fallout shelters. One is a do-it-yourself project with solid concrete blocks. Cost of the shelters ranges from $150 to $1500.

Copies of "The Family Fallout Shelter" may be obtained from local civil defense offices or by writing: Box Home Shelter, Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Otty Leeman has been confined to her home with illness for past two weeks.

AND SOCIAL SECURITY

By D. C. Nichols
Field Representative

"If I should get disabled, and meet both the work and disability requirements—how much would my disability benefits be?"

They're based on your average monthly earnings—the same as though you had reached retirement age.

The Social Security Administration has a booklet (Number 30) which contains benefit tables from which you can estimate closely what the payments to yourself and your eligible dependents or survivors would be. We also have a booklet (Number 35) which gives general information about social security. You may write to the Social Security Office, 40 North French Broad, Asheville, N. C., for these booklets. And you may write to or call at the Asheville district office any day Monday through Friday between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to get any further information or to file a social security claim.

The people in the social security office are always ready and willing to help you with any question or problem concerning social security.

Serviceman Is Named Pioneer

Louie E. Gibson, customer serviceman for Carolina Power & Light company in Asheville, has been elected to membership in CP&L's Pioneer club, an organization of veteran employees with 25 years or more of service.

Gibson joined CP&L in 1934 as helper in the Asheville line department. He later served four years as serviceman in Spruce Pine, three years as lineman in Asheville and in 1946 was promoted to the present post.

He is a native of Westminster, S. C., and was educated there and at Biltmore High school. He worked with CP&L on a temporary basis in 1929 during construction of the Canton-Elk Mountain transmission line. Just prior to full-time service with the company he was employed by
