

MONTREAT

Miss Julia Stokes

The Woman's Conference is meeting in Montreat July 20-26. Many interesting things will take place during the conference. The new leader, Miss Evelyn Green will be installed as the new executive secretary during the Woman's conference.

The preacher for Sunday, July 24 will be Dr. John A. Redhead, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. in Anderson Auditorium. Dr. Massey Heltzel, pastor of the Ginter Park Presbyterian church, Richmond, Va., will be the Bible hour speaker.

The next club meeting is in the club house on Lookout road at 3:30 p.m. All women are invited to join. Interesting programs are given at each meeting and a social hour is enjoyed. A good way to meet old friends and make new ones.

The Cottage Owners Association held a most interesting meeting on Friday, July 15, in the room in rear of Anderson Auditorium. Dr. C. Grier Davis was the speaker. Business of importance was discussed. The president, Dr. Frank P. Anderson, presided.

The picnic will be held August 12 at 5 p.m. in Gateside Park. Dr. Karl Snyder is conducting many interesting nature hikes and told something of these hikes. He also told of the work that is to be done in the Gateside Park and for the improvement of that park by the Garden club.

The Cottage Owners are contributing to new play ground equipment and to other projects in Montreat. All Cottage owners are invited to join.

The fifth Ecumenical Institute, sponsored by the Southern office of the National Council of Churches, opened a five-day meeting Sunday with a Bible Hymn Festival with music by area church choirs and an address by Dr. W. D. Weatherford, founder of Blue Ridge Assembly and director of Appalachian Studies.

Morning speakers at the Ecumenical Institute are Prof. Franklin H. Littell, professor of church history atandler School of Theology, Emory University, Atlanta; the Rev. Samuel Emerick, director of Yokefellow Institute, Elham college, Indiana, and the Rev. Mark Gibbs of Manchester, England.

Morning workshops are scheduled on "Use and Understanding of the Bible," "Christian Mission," "Children and Youth in Today's Community," "Christian Responsibility for Freedom," and "Training Council for Officers and Leaders."

Afternoon workshops slated are "Depth Bible Study," "The Ministry of Lay People," "Churches & Public Schools," "Youth Fellowship," and "Town and Country Churches."

Evening vespers also are being held by Mrs. John T. McCall, the Rev. Morton Kurtz, the Rev. Edward A. Driscoll, the Rev. John S. Chambers, and the Rev. W. Norman Cook.

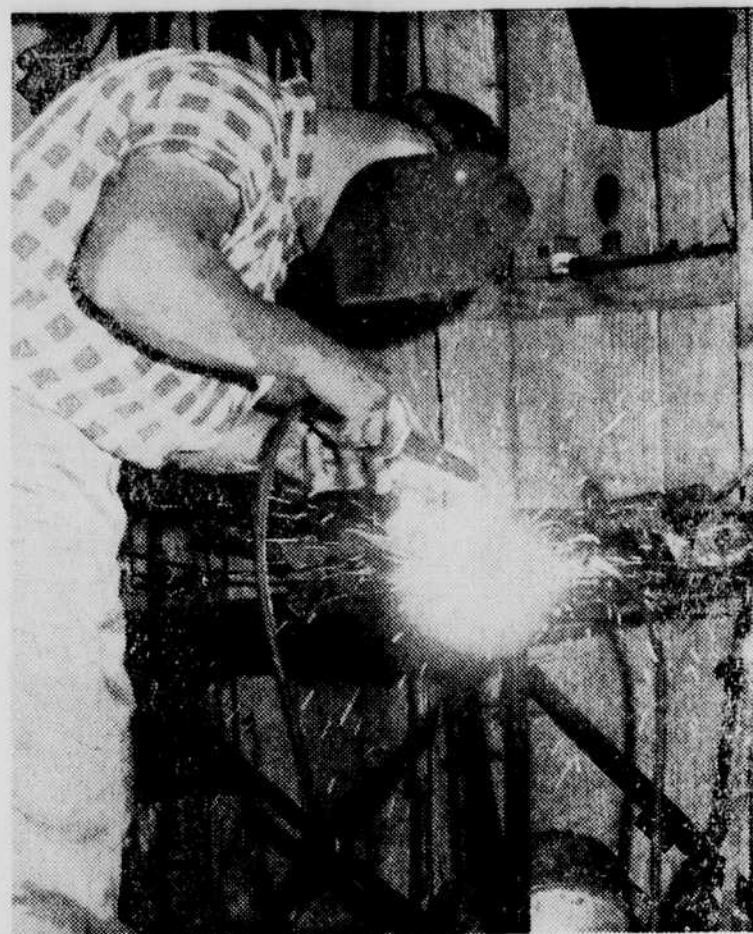

Opening Sunday for a two-week session of the Springfield (Mass.) College summer school for YMCA secretaries, offering credits for courses in group work, community organization, counseling and guidance, and history, philosophy and organization of the YMCA.

The Blue Ridge Institute for Southern Community Service Executives opened its five-day conference Sunday, and the Southern Institute for Christian Social Action started Monday for a four-day session.

Moving into Blue Ridge Assembly Friday will be some 300 delegates to the seventh annual Southeastern World Affairs Institute, featuring nationally and internationally noted speakers.

Ambassador George V. Allen, director of the U. S. Information Agency in Washington, will deliver the principal address Friday night. Governor Luther H. Hodges will speak Saturday night and Terry Sanford, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, will act as institute chairman.

Reports will be made on Africa and Russia, and debates will be held on the Middle East by Israeli and Arab leaders and by leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties of the U. S. on the issue, "Resolved, That My Party Offers the Best Hope for Peace."

Good Care Helps Clothing Last Much Longer

Long wear of clothes will depend on the care you give them. "Once-in-awhile" care may be effective but neglect can cause damage beyond repair.

Miss Mary Em Lee, clothing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, says your clothes must be kept clean if you have that fresh look each day.

Miss Lee says that now is the time of year for special care to be given to the pressing of your woolen clothes. In fact, it is well to remember that woolen clothing should be pressed as little as possible.

Remember these facts when pressing woolen garments.

1. Make sure the garment is spotless and dustless before you steam.

2. Steam press wool with steam iron or by using thin damp cloth over press cloth.

3. Always protect your woolen fabric with a press cloth regardless of type of iron.

4. Too much and too heavy pressing can take the life out of garments.

5. The wrong side of your garment is usually the right side to press.

6. Never press wool completely dry. Allow garment to dry on a well shaped hanger before wearing.

7. Use little pressure and don't move iron back and forth as you do in ironing.

8. Place strips of paper under folds or seams while pressing to avoid a mark from right side.

9. After you press, place garment on a sturdy, well shaped hanger and close all fasteners.

fense Mobilization, strangely enough has time to paint for his own enjoyment. His efforts will be on display at the Green Room of the Silo Circle Playhouse during the run of "Middle of the Night" by Pad- dy Chayefsky next week.

Weber was born in New York in 1931 and began his study at the High School of Industrial Arts there. He graduated from New York State University, Cooper Union Art School, which is rated as one of the top three art schools in the country, and from Columbia University.

He has traveled in Greece, England, Holland, France, Italy, Switzerland, and Mexico capturing on canvas the beauties of his travels. He has been art director for several of New York's better known advertising agencies. He has exhibited at the Village Art Center in New York and at the Cooper Union Art School and comes to Silo from a recently completed one man show at the Crespi Gallery in New York.

Mr. Weber is a personal friend of E. Libby Hopkins, the Green Room manager who has been specifically responsible for inducing many nationally known artists to participate in the Silo exhibitions.

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting — "at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.

If you haven't driven it yet, you don't know what a delight driving can be. Its steering, response, traction and roadability are unique because it's a unique car — the only U.S. car with an air-cooled airplane-type rear engine, transaxle and independent suspension at all four wheels. Be in on the know. Find out what delightful differences this advanced design makes.
