NEWS from the CRAGMONT COMMUNITY

—By Lib Harper—
Phone NO 9-3028

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Leonard of Asheville were Sunday guests of the Nelson Daugherty.

The Ministers Union was held at the AME church in Brookside Sunday. Several churches were represented and Rev. Willie Hamilton, and Rev. Mac Williams were the speaker.

Mrs. Roy Daugherty spent a delightful day with Mrs. Margaret Daugherty last Wednesday.

Celebrating birthdays last week were James Thomas Burris, and Carl Moore.

Dave Jones called to say that he had worshipped with friends at the AME church Sunday morning, enjoyed wonderful fellowship and a great message by Rev. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huston and daughters of Asheville spent Sunday afternoon with the Albert Harpers.

Friends were happy to see Mrs. Maggie Foster, a patient of the W. N. Sanitarium at her home Sunday afternoon.

"The Valley Dale Cafe" operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moorehead of 112 Carver ave. is now open for business. Mr. Moorehead is a grand cook, promises good meals, and hope that you'll stop in.

Mrs. Minnie Burris and I spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Jim Inabnette.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Whiteside, Terry and Sherry of Asheville, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Guder spent Sunday with Mrs. Ada Moorehead. They later visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moorehead.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Calwell of Chester, S. C., spent Sunday with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Brisco.

Brookside for the past 12 years. She is a member of the AME church, Sunday school teacher, president of the Good Will club, an officer of the Chapter of War Mothers, Eastern Star, and a daily missionary. One lady of this area, said of her: "She never tires of helping others." What more can be said of this woman, seeing her work daily for God continues to inspire many.

General conference will be held at the Mills Chapel church Friday night at 7 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

We had an interesting visitor with us in our Bible class a few weeks ago, a Mr. Wilhelm retired art teacher from New York. He talked with us concerning his work in the Jewish school, and how he is using his art ability in serving God. On one occasion he stated some one had asked him to paint a picture for their church, but he told them there were so many other things for him to do he simply couldn't find the time to do it. However this stayed constantly on his mind.

In going about his daily work he could still hear the words being asked to do this painting for God's house. "That's when I knew I could use my art in serving God," he said. We were happy to have him worship with us, and will look forward to having him again.

Miss Cora Lee Stepp spent Saturday night in Salisbury with Mrs. Christeen Jenkins and daughter Phyllis.

Miss Eufemia Stepp left Friday night to participate in a sub-debutante ball to be held in Burlington Saturday night.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rutherford from Brooklyn, N. Y., is Mrs. Rutherford's sister, Mrs. M. Dempsey.

Mrs. J. T. Sapp attended a church meeting in Forest City last Thursday.

We're might proud to see Mrs. James Kennedy out again after a severe sick spell that confined her for several weeks.

Mrs. Ora Lee Inabnette left Sunday morning to accept a position in Long Island, N. Y.

Mrs. Thelma Carson of Old Fort died last Thursday in the Marion General hospital after a long illness. Mrs. Carson had many friends here and is the sister of Mrs. Sally Logan, an employee of the W. N. Sanitarium.

Mrs. Earline Hamilton, Mrs. Margaret Daugherty and Mrs. Grace Greenlee visited with Mrs. Kitty Lawton and Mrs. Bessie Foreney last Sunday afternoon.

Folks of the Brookside area speak often of one of their friends, Mrs. Cora Whiteside. A woman certainly worthy of recognition. A native of Rutherford, and a resident of
