TEEN-AGER LANDS 10-FOOT TIGER SHARK

To a teen-ager, catching a 10-foot Tiger Shark means a lot of work, but a great experience. Angling from a fishing pier in West Palm Beach, Florida, Kirk Schepanski, who is having some vaseline petroleum jelly applied to his line-burnt hands, battled the 400 pounder strung up on the left for two hours before landing the "terror of the sea." The young shark-hunter is part of a 31-member band of fishermen called the Palm Beach Sharks.

The many species of sharks caught from the pier by this group have ranged from five feet to the largest—11 feet, seven inches. Schepanski's landing of the 10-footer was similar to other catches. The shark swallowed the big steel tempered hook and the battle began.

Almost two hours later, the exhausted shark was brought alongside the pier and killed with a 34.70 rifle. Then, Schepanski climbed down the side of the pier and maneuvered a rope around the shark. All hands heaved to, and the shark was hoisted onto the pier where all pertinent data was obtained—such as the weight, measurement, specie, tide and water conditions when caught, etc. Much of this information is furnished to interested educational institutions.

If my Lord should come in the summertime,
When free from duty I would be,
Wonder what I'll do, when my life is through,
If, by chance, he should forget me?

"I Forgot"
I forgot my Lord in the summertime,
Just the time I was needed most;
I was not away, but on each Lord's day
I just failed to be at my post.
I forgot my Church in the summertime,
And lazily lay in bed;
While the faithful few had my work to do,
I was spiritually dead.
