during the blizzards that hit quite often during the winter.

"When the wind starts to blow and the mercury to fall, the cattle head for the draws where they huddle together and ride out the storm," he explained in his booming voice.

Surprisingly enough the ranchers lose very few cattle during the storms.

THE BLUE DEVILS

Several from Black Mountain sat in Saturday and watched the Duke Blue Devils hand the Notre Dame Irish one of their worst beatings of the year—or any year.

According to competent witnesses, the Devils could have beaten any team in the nation Saturday as they ran and passed at will against the heavier Irish.

What is it that Duke has that Carolina and N. C. State never seem to have? That is the ability to rise up against the teams of national ranking and win their share of games. The coaching staff seem to be on equal footing, as do the football squads in number, but there the comparison ends.

I hope that some of whatever it is that makes Duke click against the teams from other areas will rub off on State—at least—and let us win some of those prestige games which we have been in the habit of losing. The Carolina alumni can speak for themselves.

At the Church:

Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions was well attended and brought deep spiritual blessings to those who participated. There were four afternoon meetings and two in the evenings. At the Wednesday night service a film strip in color was used to present mission fields and needs.

Ladies night was observed at the Brotherhood meeting Monday evening. Beautifully appointed tables were set up in the recreation hall. Chefs Wayne Chastain and Paul Turner, with Earl Gray, John May, and Donald Turner served a delicious meal in banquet style to the 26 people present. After the period of food, fun and fellowship, a missionary program was presented by Mrs. Leonard Bid-dix, Mrs. Howard Wright, Mrs. Clyde Conti, Mrs. Paul Turner, and Miss Arvine Bell. This entire group of men and women united in one session of the Week of Prayer.

S. S. attendance went back up to 115... at the evening hour little Ellen Craig became a member of the church in a beautiful baptismal service.

The long-planned G. A. Coronation service will be held Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m. A fine group went from this church on Dec. 4 to attend the "M" night meeting in First Baptist church, Asheville.

In the Community:

Christmas joy began on Friday morning in the Charles Tipton home when A3/C Kenneth Rhodes arrived to spend a two weeks' furlough with his wife (the former Miss Jean Tipton), her family, and his. Airman Rhodes is in process of transfer from Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex., to Stewart A. F. B. in Newburg, N. Y.

David Walters spent part of Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. T. E. Walters. He was accompanied home to Fayetteville by his wife and two small sons who have been with Mrs. Walters for the past ten days. Another son, Thomas, from Charlotte spent several hours of Sunday here with his mother.

Mrs. Hester Kirby of Spartanburg, S. C., was week-end guest of Rev. & Mrs. Charles Jolley.

Though not entirely recovered from her recent illness, Miss Margaret Hocutt has returned to her work in Baptist hospital, Winston-Salem.

For Thanksgiving, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hudson had with them their son Eber Hudson of Statesville, with his wife and daughters, Patsy and Ida Margaret.

Sunday evening dinner guests of the Hudsons were Miss Esther Stuehr and Mrs. Ida B. Bates of Asheville.

Mrs. W. S. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells and little son Bill, Jr., went to Savannah, Ga., to spend the long Thanksgiving week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gabrels (nee Miss Joyce Wells).

Miss Mamie Meeks returned Wednesday from her almost-one-month of visiting in Kinston, High Point, Tarboro, and Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Edith Beam is spending the winter months at Monte Vista hotel, Black Mt., but comes on mild days back out to her Galax Lodge. She and Mrs. Elmer F. Poore, who is also at present at the Monte Vista, have been back and forth in their Ridgcrest cottages a number of times recently.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris, Sr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Norman V. Harris and family in Boiling Springs. While there they had some pleasant conversation with Miss Katherine Copeland of Ridgcrest and Gardner-Webb college.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore of Kingsport, Tenn., and a friend from Rutherfordton spent last Thursday here with relatives. They visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Moore and had lunch with Mrs. Elsie Allred.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gillespie and son John Stephen of Greenville, S. C., spent Friday night and Saturday with Mrs. Gillespie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sutherland.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kincaid of Kings Mt., spent Sunday night and Monday in their lovely home here.

Disturbing news comes from Goldsboro that after a few days of being "up and out" a little, Mr. D. L. Cuthrell suffered an attack of phlebitis and is again confined strictly to bed. He is rather discouraged.

Dan Turner returned home Monday evening after attending the annual meeting of the National Organization of Little People of America in Las Vegas, Nev. In order to enjoy sight-seeing en route, Mr. Turner, who is president of this organization, joined a group of congenial friends who went cross country in a car driven by James Liles of Asheville. Other members of the party were Miss Frances Carney of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Frances Conville of Decatur, Ga., and Miss Doris Shelton of Miami, Fla. A few of the most interesting places in the far west visited by these five Little People were the Painted Desert; the Petrified Forest; a famed crater caused a few years ago by a falling meteorite; Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, and Death Valley.

In 1962—possibly as early as October—this comparatively new but fact-growing organization will hold its annual meeting in the Jack Tar Grove Park Inn right here in Asheville.

LIFE IS TOTAL—

The chairman read a letter from the Cherokee Kiwanis club inviting the members of this club to attend their 10th anniversary meeting on Monday, Dec. 4, with dinner at 6:30 p.m. for members and their wives.

A board meeting was announced for Tuesday, Dec. 5. It was announced that the Scout committee is looking for a man to be Scout District commissioner.

The Rev. Kenneth Donald, pastor of St. James' Episcopal church, introduced the speaker who was the Rev. James Perry, Jr., educator-missioner of the Episcopal Diocese in Western North Carolina, who delivered an address on the subject "Relating Faith to Everyday Life". He indicated that, in building character, man is a result of his yesterday. Life is the sum total of man's choices and the most important choice is the selection of destination. All subsequent choices are based on the first and most important one.

The message was most helpful, inspiring, and challenging. Jerry Jurwitz introduced the visitors who were Richard Tarbet and Charles Bradley of Black Mountain, and James Y. Perry, Jr. of Asheville.
