Frightening Thought:

Phillip Clark comes up with challenging material in his Sunday column in the Citizen-Times. His unorthodoxy is refreshing and stimulating. Last week he presented an intriguing thought, devastating in its implications. He used the expression "rabbit talk" to refer to the devious phraseology in common use to obscure what people really mean. The day of the blunt talking, straight-forward individual is on the wane. The individualist who believed in calling "a spade, a spade" and sometimes a "dirty spade" is just about a thing of the past. This may be a result of our wishes for euphoria, "a rose-colored glasses viewpoint." It also might be a mixture of consideration for the feelings of others and a strong undertone of moral cowardice. In a world of "straight-talk" we would know where we stood; the period while our "tender feelings" were "hardening" would be extremely hazardous. Politics would be revolutionized, social gatherings might well be disrupted, hypocrisy would become passe and Hob would be to bay. A doctrine of absolute frankness could well be social dynamite. On the other hand, we may have lost our moral fitness along with our physical fitness in modern America. I don't know whether to thank you or not, Brother Clark.

Rabbit Talk:

(Translations, too) "In line with democratic processes, I have decided not to call a special session at this time." (Translated) "The voters are riled up. Better let 'em cool off for a spell." "You played a great ball game, buddy." (Translated) "You dirty rascal. If I ever catch you under the basket again, I'm going to lower the boom." "It is with regret that I am resigning to accept a position elsewhere in the community." (Translated) "I'm not going to be pushed around. Anything better would be better." Or, "I'd better get out before that rascal fires me." "I'd rather not be quoted on this." (Translated) "I'm afraid to take a positive stand." "I hate to tell you this, but..." (Translated) "I'm going to tell you something you won't like, and I'll enjoy watching you squirm." "Be sure and write us this week. We want to hear from you." (Translated) "If the listeners don't bring in some money, we shall have to discontinue the broadcast."

Love Always

I love you with a love That transcends time and space To set us free. I love you with a love That reaches, draws You... close to me. I love you with a love That spans un-numbered miles Separating me and thee. Indeed, I love you with a love That only asks To last... eternally!

NEWS from the CRAGMONT COMMUNITY

—By Lib Harper—

While calling around for news over the week-end, almost every one asked "did you see the Christmas parade Friday?" I did see the parade, and wasn't it just wonderful! I was real proud of our little town, and I sure have the Christmas spirit after seeing Ol' Santa come to town. Just about every one from the Cragmont section was there. Even some of the older folks who almost never get out, wrapped themselves warmly and were right there to greet "Ole Santa." Thanks to all of you who made it possible and we'll be looking forward to another one come December '62. The following students are to be congratulated for making Honor Roll at Stephens-Lee High school for the second marking period: Doris Baxter, Beatrice Daugherty, Cheryl Harper, Virginia Whitington, and Demetria Davidson. Celebrating birthdays this week are Mrs. Margaret Burgin, Miss Annie Mae Daugherty, Logan Stepp, and Mrs. Bessie Pettler. Mrs. Jerry Daniel is on the not so well list this week. Mrs. Norah Rutherford was admitted to Mission hospital in Asheville last week with a severe case of mumps. Mrs. R. Hines of Asheville and Mrs. Grace Greenlee Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. James Inabinette. Rev. Mark Hooper returned home last week after several weeks at the Veterans hospital in Oteen. Well Christmas is almost here again. I think every Christmas will be here again and wonder how many friends and neighbors will be gone on. It is a wonderful sight to go through the stores and see all the beautiful toys and other Christmas things on display. I think back to my childhood over 70 years ago. We children looked forward as eagerly for Xmas as the children of today. We'd hang up our little home knit wool stockings, and we were up Christmas morning as soon as we awakened to find Santa Claus had passed us by. The only dolls we little girls had we made ourselves except Aunt Bettie Shuford our neighbor, N. C. Shuford's grandmother, made us. She'd cut them out of white cloth, sew them up and stuff them with cotton, and make dresses for them. The children of today have so many beautiful things and a few weeks after Christmas around many homes you will see the Christmas toys strewn over the lawn, broken down bicycles, and other toys.

I believe all the churches through this section are getting into their Christmas programs. We have heat installed in our new church at Stone Mountain. Taft and Yewitt Elliott are doing a beautiful job finishing the inside wall of the new church. R. G. Ownbey and family had as dinner guests last Sunday Rev. and Mrs. Robinson. Mr. Robinson is pastor of Broad River Baptist church. Mrs. McPearson of this community is visiting her sick father, Mr. Car in Jacksonville, Fla., and plans to go on to Miami before returning to her home in this section. Rev. James Bryan of the U. S. Army who has been in Philadelphia, Pa., on business for some time, will return to his home in this community this week. Mrs. Gertrude Smith and Mrs. Boyd Elliott went Christmas shopping in Marion last Saturday. We were glad to have with us at Stone Mountain church last Sunday Rev. Mr. Hall of Marion. Prayer meeting at Stone Mountain church is changed from Friday evening to Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Aileen Carson attended the annual Christmas play at the Allen High school Sunday afternoon. The title of the play "The Hope of Man" was most touching and was beautifully dramatized by a number of the students there. Miss Annie Mae Daugherty of this area participated in the lovely singing group. Mrs. Raney Hooper and Tony were Sunday dinner guests of the James Longs. Little Miss Clara Jean Hunter visited relatives in the lower Swannanoa section on Sunday. Miss Carolyn Alexander of Rutherford spent the week-end with Miss Anna Mae Daugherty. Leroy Daugherty of the Lytle Cove section, died Sunday in his home. Mr. Daugherty was a native of Swannanoa. He was operator of Daugherty's Grocery store on Black Mt. highway. He was the son of the late Leander and Laura Daugherty and was a member of Macedonia A. M. E. Zion church. Services will be held at the Macedonia A. M. E. church with the Rev. Mack Williams officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Charles P. Smith of Swannanoa, and two nephews Donald and Charles P. Smith of the home. Miss Geraldine Kennedy and Mrs. Nannie Hallum of Asheville spent last Saturday with their aunt, Mrs. Robert Moorehead.

SUNDAY'S CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be heard Sunday at Christian Science churches. Opening the Scriptural readings will be this passage from Psalm 19: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge."
