At The Church:
The marked contrast in weather for Sunday, Jan. 28 and that of Feb. 4 reflected itself also in church records. S. S. attendance jumped from 42 to 111, and evening services were well attended too.

The Olive Lawton Circle of W. M. U. had its meeting with Miss Alice Turner in her new home on Thursday evening with nine members present. Not only was Miss Turner hostess, but she also presented the program, using for the "Royal Service" account of Southern Baptist work with migrants. Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour.

Only five members of the Brotherhood were present at their meeting on Monday evening, but they thoroughly enjoyed the covered dish supper and happy fellowship.

Two new electric lanterns were installed last week to light the long walkway, and steps from street to the front door of the parsonage. This is both an attractive and useful addition to church property.

In The Community:
The sudden death of Miss Bessie Smith, in Louisville, Ky. on Feb. 2, was a shock to older residents of Ridgecrest who have known her and her sister, Mary Presley Smith, for so many years when they lived here through each summer. While in an optometrist's office on Friday afternoon, Miss Bessie was taken seriously ill and died before reaching the hospital.

George Carter of Louisville called Mrs. W. H. Tipton to relay this sad news.

After being a patient in St. Joseph's hospital for a week, Mrs. W. M. Pate was on Monday able to go to the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Lee of Asheville, where she will spend some days in further recuperation.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard K. Weeks returned home Thursday after spending several days in Nashville, Tenn. at a meeting of the Sunday School Board of S. B. C.

Miss Margaret Hocutt, R. N., came from Winston-Salem on Friday to spend the week end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. George Hocutt. Because of the death of his mother in Bryson City, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Orr and family left Thursday to attend her funeral and spend the rest of the week with relatives there.

A group of very distinguished visitors were in Ridgecrest on Saturday afternoon. They were Dr. Kioki Yuya, past president of the Japanese Baptist Convention and now pastor of Meiji Ka-Oka church in Tokyo; Dr. Shiro Hirano, also of Tokyo; Dr. Coleman Clarke, Baptist Missionary in Japan for many years, and his two sons, Coleman Jr., and Cliff.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Clarke Jr. and students at Southeastern Seminary, and Cliff is a senior at Wake Forest College.

Both the Clarke boys had been members of Ridgecrest Assembly Staff, so of course they were interested in showing their institution to the rest of their family. Mr. Weeks was happy to play host to such guests whom he had met last week in Nashville and with whom he had so many things in common.

The three older men are in the U. S. A. to help make plans for the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade to be held in Japan in 1963. They had spent eleven days among Texas Baptists who are contributing $300,000 to the Crusade. They also visited New Orleans, Miami, Nashville, and were enroute to Richmond, but will fly back to Tokyo in a few days.

After visiting the Assembly and seeing Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, they also visited Mrs. T. E. Walters. Dr. Yuya has been a close personal friend of the late Rev. Mr. Walters since seminary days in Louisville Ky. in 1922 when Mr. Walters helped him in his study of English. Later, when the Walters lived in Colerain, Mr. Yuya spent a month in their home, and again he spent two weeks with them in 1950 when he came here after attending Baptist World Alliance in Cleveland Ohio.

Renewing friendship of these years was a happy and exhilarating experience for Mrs. Walters.

On Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 31, Mrs. A. C. Thomas, Mrs. Clarence Allison, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown went to Ebenezer Church, near Old Fort, to attend the funeral of Cleve Chrisawn. Mr. Chrisawn was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Thomas.

James Allison was able to get leave from Ft. Benning, Ga., and spend a short week end here with his family.

Miss Arvine Bell has been on an extensive trip in the interest of Camp Crestridge, but is now spending a few days with her mother in Little Rock, Ark.

Miss Lois Carter, and her mother, Mrs. Charles Carter, from Spartanburg, were visitors on Sunday afternoon in the home of Misses Grace and Mamie Meeks.

Mrs. R. E. Hurst and Mrs. E. M. Burnett were two of the many Burnett cousins who on Sunday afternoon attended the funeral of Miss Nancy B. Clement in Asheville.

For the rest of February, Mrs. Leonard Biddix will write the Ridgecrest Ramblings. Please give her your news at phone: No. 9-7877.

have returned home from a six weeks' trip that took them to the West Coast. They spent the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Mrs. E. J. Weigel and family of El Paso, Texas. In Los Angeles they visited Mr. Jurwitz's three brothers and sister; on New Year's day they attended the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena. Returning home they stopped for a visit with his brother in Phoenix, Ariz., and her cousin, Mrs. E. Laden of Beaumont, Texas, and with friends in New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. Mack Milton of Memphis, Tenn., is spending an indefinite time here because of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Frank Raines, who has been hospitalized for several weeks.

Among those who will celebrate their wedding anniversaries within the next few days will be the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Byrd, Feb. 10; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huggins of Swannanoa, Feb. 14.

—North Carolina Jaycees celebrate their 25th anniversary this year. Six clubs formed the state organization in April, 1937.
