MRS. ELBERT F. HARDIN

At The Church:

Good attendance at all services, with averages kept up. A special feature in closing assembly of the Sunday school was a lovely little Mother's Day song by the primary Department. Leaders in this department are Mrs. R. E. Hurst, Mrs. Fred Stinson, and Mrs. Everett Murray. Corsages were also presented by Supt. John May to Mrs. James McMahan as the youngest mother present, and to Mrs. S. C. Gill as the eldest.

At the Brotherhood meeting on Monday evening chief discussion centered on re-organization of Royal Ambassadors. The men hope to get this needed and worthwhile project started within the near future.

The monthly Fellowship Supper on Wednesday evening had a larger than usual attendance and was greatly enjoyed.

In The Community:

Mother's Day was celebrated in a number of homes with family reunions. Mrs. R. L. Turner was one of those fortunate mothers who had all her children and grandchildren present for dinner that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jolley and their children, Rebecca, David, and Danny came up from Camden, S. S. to spend the week-end with Mrs. Charles Jolley.

Miss Margaret Houett, R. N. from Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem spent the weekend with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. George L. Hocutt.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Biddix, Mrs. L. L. Biddix, and Jerry went to Statesville for Sunday. The occasion was a family reunion at the Roy Sharpe farm ten miles out of that city. Thirty-one relatives were present. Mr. Sharpe and Mrs. A. L. Biddix are brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harris, Sr., spent Sunday in Boiling Springs with their son, Coach Norman Harris of Gardner-Webb College, and his family. Miss Katherine Copeland of that college and of Ridgecrest was also a guest at the luncheon served by the hostess under the trees on the lawn of the Harris home.

Enroute to Fayetteville two weeks ago, Mrs. T. E. Walters, Mrs. David Walters and her two little sons, stopped over in Charlotte for an overnight visit with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walters and family. While at her son David's home, Mrs. Walters made a trip back as far as Raleigh one day to visit her girlhood friend, Mrs. Claude Gaddy who is still quite ill in her home, following major surgery. Fayetteville weather is enough warmer than ours here to make Mrs. Walters happy to fly home last Friday. She reports a most pleasant plane trip.

Although Mr. James Peek returned to his work in Kings Mt. after a recent week-end visit here, Mrs. Peek, Jimmy and Janice are living in the W. E. Brant cottage, which they have rented for the month of May, in order that Janice might have her family with her during the activities connected with her graduation from Owen High School.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Snypes and Children, Linda and Henry, together with Mrs. Nichols of Black Mountain, spent Sunday afternoon in Marion visiting Mrs. Snypes' sister, Mrs. Bill Johnson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wheeler and baby Curtis are visiting relatives in Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Orr and family spent the week-end in Bryson City, visiting Mrs. Orr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wiggins.

Congratulations to Glenda Lakey, honor student at Owen High School, who last week was inducted into Beta Society. Glenda, a rising Junior at Owen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lakey here.

Another Ridgecrest of whom we are proud is Jimmie Lawing, who by attending night classes in Deland, Fla., has completed his High school work with honor. Jimmie is a member of the Baptist Book Store staff and has been here at work at the Assembly for a couple of weeks.

New residents in the community are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hosmer and their two daughters who have moved into Mrs. Elsie Allred's garage apartment. Mr. Hosmer is working here with the Cowan Co. on Southern Railway.

Dalton Hosmer was quite ill for several days last week in his trailer home on the Sutherland property. This was the first time in his life for illness to keep him off the job.

Since Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Payne and family from Robersonville were spending last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sutherland, the rest of the family joined them here on Thursday for a pre-Mother's Day reunion. From Lyman, S. C. came Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Woolbright and son Michael, and from Greenville (S. C.), Mr. and Mrs. John Gillespie and son, Stephen. Miss Lou Hiett, aunt of Mrs. Sutherland, also came from Greenville to join the family group, and is staying on for a visit of some days.

Along with several members of 'Little People of America', Dan Turner spent Sunday afternoon in Crossnore, at the home of Miss Margaret Ollis. Phillip Orr of Asheville and Miss Kathleen Denny of Blount Mt. were two others of this section to attend this social gathering to which Miss Ollis had invited them in order to introduce a new friend and prospective member for the organization.

Warning! Watch out for snakes! Mr. C. V. Gray shot a rattler on his place Monday morning. This unseasonably dry, warm weather has awakened other things than flowers.

For more than a week big signs saying "Antiques" have been posted on the small house on the L. H. Stepp property. Very shortly it will be open daily to the public. The place has been leased and will be managed by Dick Brasington of Asheville.

Mrs. Walter Lewis and her son, Harvey Acres of Norfolk, Va. arrived Friday for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. L. H. Stepp. On Sunday afternoon they were joined by another of the Stepp daughters, Mrs. Carl B. Moore and her husband from Asheville. All these, with Herman Stepp, spent the entire afternoon and evening at Lake James aboard that commodious house boat belonging to the Moores. (This boat was erroneously listed recently in this column as belonging to Dr. Scheffel Wright.)

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Weeks returned Monday from Fremont, Ohio, where on Saturday p.m., they attended the wedding of a nephew—Willis Yeamans to Miss Anne Fangbner. From there they went to Detroit for a day and night's visit with Mr. Weeks' sister, Mrs. Edith Yeamans, and were joined by another of his sisters, Mrs. E. F. Haney, who had flown from her home in St. Petersburg, Fla. also to attend the wedding.

Sen. Erwin Says:

Congress which opened a little more than three and a half months ago with hopes of early adjournment appeared headed for another long session. Under the Reorganization Act of 1946 Congressional adjournment is technically set for no later than July 31. Rarely has it been able to do so. This year the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee are swamped with bills embracing tax revision, trade expansion, health care for the aged, and a number of other revenue bills. None of these can be "marked up" for consideration in either House with out hearings requiring scores of witnesses. Currently the Senate Finance Committee is beginning hearings on the tax revision bill (HR 10650) while the House Ways and Means Committee is in the expansion act (HR9900).
