Playground

This is the north playground at the Black Mountain elementary school, showing the recently completed work making all space now useable. The concrete court shown in the foreground was covered with a layer of dirt which had washed in due to the growth of weeds around and these weeds in turn seeded the court until no one knew it was there. With these improvements there may now be basketball and volleyball simultaneously with space still available for one more court of some sort and another small playing court. On the field sand has been deposited to counteract the red clay. Plans are being made to plant the bank to some sort of covering which will be green all winter. This was part of the improvement suggested by the Southern association examining team last spring.
