WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS

For little children all Christmas means is Santa Claus, a tree, and decorations. To a lot of grown-ups this is a time for useless and unmeaningful actions. People think this is a time for wild parties and if you don't give expensive gifts, you're nothing. Every person should sit down and think about this season because it isn't "our" birthday, it is the birth of someone greater.

When I think of Christmas the Christ of Christmas is my first thought. A tree with lights is the light of the World. The giving of gifts reminds me of God giving us His Son. The wreath on our door is the Circle of Hope. Candles are the Star of Bethlehem.

A most important part of Christmas is family worship. This is a poem that expresses my feelings of Christmas:
A little child A shining star
A stable rude The door ajar
Yet in that place So crude,
forlorn
The Hope of all The world was born.

At this season we must remember our King because he was surely "Born a King."

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME
Christmas has two meanings to me. First, I think Christmas is a time when everyone is happy and joyful. Everyone is hurrying here and there to finish their Christmas shopping. Every little boy and girl is hoping that Santa will fill their stockings high with candies and goodies. Everyone must think of giving and not receiving.

There is another deeper meaning to Christmas. Christmas is Jesus's birthday. He died on the cross to save us from our many sins. He was God's only begotten son, that God sent into the World not to condemn us, but through him we might be saved. Christmas is a time that we should worship and praise God for all the blessings he has bestowed upon us the past year. We should also ask God to guide and bless us in the coming year of 1964.

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME
Christmas to me means a great many things. First I would have to say it is hard to put into words what Christmas means, because I believe it is a feeling you get and have inside your heart.

Christmas is a small child's eyes glowing wide at the first sight of his parents in the early morning.
Christmas is the warm feeling of seeing loved ones, friends and family you haven't seen in a long while.
Christmas is holding someone's hand and saying thank you for gifts you have received.
Christmas is the warm glow of the winter fire that seems to make your heart warm.
Christmas is seeing love and happiness in someone else's eyes for gifts that you yourself have given.

Christmas is a tree shedding off different colored lights to make dancing figures on a wall.
Christmas is a lot of wonderful and lovely things.
Last, but not at all least, the most important of all, Christmas was the day our Lord and Saviour was born.

If the real meaning of Christmas, that our Lord being born were to slip from the hearts of men, then we would not have a Christmas day.
—Jerome Hill

CHRISTMAS
Christmas is a happy time of the year when carolers sing outside our windows. The stars above seem to be twinkling brightly. The fragrant pine Christmas tree is scenting the air with fragrance. The tree is shining with glittering tinsel and balls. The children can hardly wait until Christmas morning to see me of God giving us His Son. The wreath on our door is the Circle of Hope. Candles are the Star of Bethlehem.

all the toys that "good ole Santa" has left. Christmas is a time for vacation from school and studying.
In the midst of festivities and holiday fun, we must not leave Christ out of Christmas. Remember that it was Christ who came into the world to save us from sin. Christmas time is also a time to be serene and peaceful, to be prayerful and reverent. Christmas is a time when we think of angels, shepherds, wisemen, and the beautiful star that rested over the place where Jesus lay.
This is what I think of when you ask "what does Christmas mean to you?"
—Sandra Buckner.

VETERANS NEWS
Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions from former servicemen and their families:
Q—When the VA forecloses on a GI home due to delinquent payments and then puts the reclaimed property up for sale, does the new purchaser also have to be a veteran?
A—No. Repossessed homes may be sold to anyone. In fact, if a veteran sells a home he has bought with a GI loan, he may sell it to a non-veteran.
Q—I have heard VA programs on both radio and TV. Is this considered fair to the taxpayer to spend government money in this way?
A—Most, if not all, of the VA programs heard on radio and TV are being given free public service time by the stations.
Q—A veteran's widow lost her pension when she remarried. Her second husband was also a veteran and now he is dead. Can she return to the pension rolls, if she is within the income brackets, as the widow of the first veteran or the second veteran?
A—She is no longer considered the widow of the first veteran but she would be eligible as the widow of the second veteran.
