Dr. Stafford Tells of Green Candle of Hope

The observance of "Green Candle of Hope" week Dr. Stafford gave an impressive talk to the local Kiwanis Club on March 23. Dr. Stafford stressed the need for hope, building for the coming generations depends upon hope, hope for the oppressed, the underprivileged and hope for the many thousands of displaced persons throughout the world. Nearly a thousand baby Christmas trees were distributed by Roy Royston to members willing to plant them temporarily until the club can obtain a suitable piece of land on which to develop a permanent Christmas tree growing project.

Vows Observed By Thompson And Gorham

On Saturday evening, March 21 at 8 p.m., in the chapel of the Methodist Church of Black Mountain, Miss Sarah Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, became the bride of Howard Gorham of Fulton, N. Y., in a simple but impressive ceremony performed by the Rev. James McLarty, pastor of the church.

Miss Thompson wore a cranberry linen dress with matching net hat and black accessories and carried her white Bible topped with a white corsage. Her only attendant, Mrs. Kimball Miller of Old Fort, wore an ice blue silk dress and also carried white roses.

Best man was Kimball Miller of Old Fort. Ushers were Carroll K. Miller and Dempsey Whitaker of Black Mountain. Mrs. David Burnett, organist, gave a program of wedding music.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorham left immediately following the ceremony for a wedding trip.

IMPROVED SERVICE FOR LOCAL LIBRARY SOUGHT BY M. WOOD

H. McGuire Wood, acting Chairman of the Black Mountain Library Board and a tireless worker on behalf of the Library, and others, have been drafted for help in continually improving the services of public libraries for the people of Buncombe County. Of the many citizens served by our library, as well as scores of others seeking its continued development—these will be interested to learn that much significant thinking and study has been going on and is still under way. This is along the line of present trends in the State Library services—that is, thinking, planning, and carrying on programs concerned with conditions and needs of an entire county, or even a district, as well as the State.

Conferences to that end for Buncombe County were brought to a head on Thursday evening, March 26. At that time, Mr. Wood, Mrs. F. L. Garton of the Black Mountain Library Board; Mr. A. F. Tyson, Jr., also of the Black Mountain Library Board, as well as the Town Council; Mrs. Tyson of the Friends of the Library, along with Mrs. Gary McGraw, Director of the Library; as well as Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hughey and Miss Phyllis Snyder of the State Library; and representatives of public libraries in Beach, Swannanoa, Weaverville, Skyland, Leicester, Candler, and Enka met in Asheville with the Board of the Pack Memorial Library.

After considering the situation of the various public libraries in the County, those present elected a committee, with Mr. Wood as its chairman, to represent each community and to approach the County Commissioners with two requests: (1) for funds that would make possible a survey of what library services the County has already, as well as what the needs are; (2) for increased support from the Commissioners in the meantime for all of the public libraries in the County. With these various developments, one can recognize good library service throughout the County is a deep concern of many people.

Mrs. Troy Eugene Ball

Miss Shirley Pauline Orr and Troy Eugene Ball were united in marriage in Ridgecrest Baptist Church on Easter Sunday afternoon in a lovely ceremony conducted by the Reverend George L. Hocutt, pastor of the church.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Everette Murray, soloist, with Mrs. Elbert Hardin at the organ.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Orr of Ridgecrest. The bridegroom is the son of Reuben Ball and the late Mrs. Ball of Bryson City, N. C.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress, designed and handmade by herself, was a floor length gown of French peau-de-seoie with bodice of chanelly lace. Her shoulder length veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of rhinestones, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and carnations.

Miss Ruth Orr was her sister's only attendant. She was attired in pink organza, with matching headpiece, and carried a bouquet of pink and green carnations.

Bill Lambert of Bryson City, close friend of the bridegroom, was scheduled to be best man. Just two days prior to the wedding, however, he was inducted into the Army, so James Orr, brother of the bride, served instead.

Tony Moore was usher. The mother of the bride wore a dress of soft blue, with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom received also of Black Mountain.

Cliff Hotchkiss To Demonstrate New Craft Work

On next Tuesday afternoon, April 7, at two o'clock, Cliff Hotchkiss of Black Mountain will give a demonstration of making knotted rugs at the Craft House of the Kenilworth Community Center in Asheville.

This type of craft work is not very well known in this part of the country, and the demonstration will be an excellent opportunity for people

Special Choir In Concert At Gaither Chapel

The North Fulton Special Choir will present a concert in Gaither Chapel on Friday evening, April 10. The choir is composed of twenty-four girls and sixteen boys under the direction of Robert S. Lowrance, Jr. They will give an interesting program of sacred and secular music as well as solos both vocal and instrumental.

The choir comes to us on April 10 on the spring itinerary having given a concert the previous evening at the Ardmore Methodist Episcopal Church in Winston-Salem.

Last year the choir went on their fourth trip outside the United States since 1950 (the fourteenth in all for the choir). A few of the thoughts and reactions from the members of the choir have been jotted down in the following paragraph which select one or two interesting places.

A bus trip to New Orleans was followed by a jet trip to Meridan, Yucatan, where they stayed a week visiting the beautiful homes, the ruins of Dzibilichalton, Uxmal, Kabah, Chicken Ize and the sisal plant which is the real backbone of the economy of Meridan. They attended a night club which had an underground river and grotto and

Combat Trains

Marine Private Robert H. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Bryant of Buckeye Cove, Route 1, Swannanoa, completed four weeks of individual combat training March 16 at the First Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

While with the regiment all new Marines are trained in tactical and combat skills for battle. Emphasis was placed on the small unit tactics—the four-man fire team and the 13-man squad.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES CONTINUE AT TABERNACLE

The annual evangelistic campaign which began last Sunday night at Tabernacle Methodist Church will continue each evening at 7:30 through Sunday night, April 5. Evangelist C. W. Solomon is conducting the campaign. Wednesday night is set for special young people's night, but each night of the meeting the young people are given a few moments special consideration with visual aids. These are also interesting to adults.

Saturday night the evangelist has secured a friend, who is an ex-convict, Robert Swann of Bristol, Va., to bring his testimony and message. He was not only a vicious criminal but an "escape artist", breaking out of prisons and penitentiaries and wanted in several states. He was finally apprehended by the F.B.I. and while on the chain gang was gloriously converted. He is now a prison evangelist.

All are cordially invited.
