FLYING HIGH—Detroit, Mich.—Eric Olsen's broad grin from his lofty helicopter perch symbolizes the over-the-top mark in General Motors Corp.'s 1964 Operation Security Savings Bond drive which saw 77,000 new names added to GM's Payroll Savings Plan. Nationwide, more than 387,000—nearly 75 percent—of the company's employees now are buying Savings Bonds through payroll deductions, setting a new peacetime record.

Young Eric spotted the Navy "Sea Bat" submarine hunter-killer helicopter and promptly climbed aboard after it had been flown in for the bond drive at the Detroit Diesel Engine Division where his dad, Bob Olsen, superintendent of manufacturing, buys bonds for both himself and Eric.

In the company-wide campaign, conducted in 144 plants and offices across the United States, 107 units attained or exceeded their Savings Bond goals. Sixteen units, including six in the Chevrolet Division, exceeded 90 per cent in the sign-up of employees in the Payroll Savings Plan. The Buick Motors Division added 5,469 new bond buyers, while the
