Background Scripture: Ephesians 2:11-22: 4:1-16. Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:1-7. THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH is one of the strangest collections of humanity that exists in the world. There is hardly another religion which has a church; it is a peculiarly Christian institution. religion which has a church; it is a peculiarly Christian institution.

But even its members debate end- Mountain View Baptist church lessly among themselves as to what the church to call it. Even in æ ment other names besides "church" are used for it.

Clearly, the church did not fit Dr. Foreman all its titles equal-Dr. Foreman all its titles equal-ly well; if any one had been quite satisfactory, there would have been no need for the other names. One of the names used by St. Paul in referring to the church is "household of God" (Eph. 2:19). This word includes the meaning "family"; the striking point is that Paul calls it the household of God. What other organization can dare to call itself by such a high Ged. What other organization can dare to call itself by such a high name? Paul does not mean to call the church perfect, completely holy; but he uses some of the same words to refer to the church that he uses in speaking about Christ and God. In short, we are invited by the Apostle to look at the church as both divine and human. The household—that is the everyday human word; of God the everyday human word; of God -that is the word of divinity. This alone makes the church unique. This also raises problems. To bypass a long discussion, we must say that according to the New Testament, the church is not a club which has asked Christ to join them. It is the other way around: Christ invites the church

IN THY PRESENCE

Lord, what a change within us one short hour

Spent in Thy presence will prevail to make! What heavy burdens from our bosoms take, What parched grounds refresh us as with a shower!

We kneel, and all around us seems to lower;

We rise, and all, the distant and the near,

Stands forth in sunny outline brave and clear;

We kneel, how weak; we rise, how full of power

Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong, Or others, that are not always strong,

That we are ever overborne with care,

That we should ever weak or heartless be,

Anxious or troubled, when with us in prayer,

And joy and strength and courage are with Thee!

to join him. "Follow me," he used to say in Galilee, and still does. What we share Now if we are, as a church, in any sense the household or family of God, we might be expected to have something in common. To put it another way, if you traveled around the world, meeting Christians in every nation (for there are fewer than half a dozen nations without any Christians), you might expect to find these Christians to be a good deal alike. weeks between now and Aug. But the fact is, you would prob-ably be struck with how different 1. the club will take orders for flower bulbs to be shipped from Holland in time for fall they are. Even if you look into one congregation, say your own, what a variety of temperament, dispositions, abilities, and tastes you would find! What draws these Mrs. Geneva Greene Jolly, 51, died in a Chapel Hill hos-nital last Friday after a long people together, what is the cement that holds these odd-shaped stones in place? It is certainly not illness. Jolly of Kent, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. split a thousand ways? The fact is, it has split, too many ways. But even so, as you pass from denomination to denomination, Malcolm Sebastian of Fay-etteville; four grandchildren: from Protestant to Catholic, from liberal to conservative, there is still something that all these smaller groups share in common. In our heritage Let's be brief on paper here, and leave the reader free to continue thinking about this for himself. One thing you will find in every church in the world—one thing that makes us all one, is that you can't even get into a church by telling the officers how good you are. You get in, and you stay in, by admitting that you're just not right. We call this "confession of sin," confession of the most serious failure a man can commit-not coming up to what God has a right to expect of him. If we could say no more than that, the church would not have lasted long. But we can also say, and this is more important, that this great family is made up of those who admit their weakness and perverseness, and have asked the pardon of a gracious God, and have received it; and now, in Paul's words, "have access to the Father," through him-that is, Jesus. A young Mohammedan who had been converted to Christian faith said to me when I asked him what had persuaded him to be a Christian: "My old religion had plenty of theology, just as much as yours; but you have Christ, and we have nothing to match him."
