RIDGECREST RAMBLINGS

Meetings:

Those who attended last Wednesday evening's prayer service at the church received a delightful surprise. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen, former Southern Baptist missionaries to Brazil, were present. He showed beautiful slides of Brasilia, the marvelous new Captial of Brazil, as well as other pictures of mission work elsewhere in that country. The startlingly different architecture of the captial city, and the brilliance of color in flowers and foliage were facinating. Coupled with his interesting informal lecture, and supplemented by occasional comments from Mrs. Allen, this was an evening to be remembered.

The all-day mission study on October 20 was another date pleasant to recall. Mrs. B. S. Meeks and Miss Edith Van Duzer were the gracious hostesses. Mrs. E. F. Baker was the excellent teacher. "Frontiers of Advance" by Dr. Luther Copeland was the interesting book studied. Fifteen women were present. The study hours were exceedingly worthwhile and the noon fellowship hour at a covered dish luncheon was very enjoyable. Pastor George L. Hocutt joined the group at this time and remained for the afternoon session.

Personals:

Mrs. W. M. Pate recently spent three eventful weeks with relatives and friends. Driving to Raleigh, she left her car and took a plane to New York City where she visited Rev. and Mrs. Fred Gibson. He is pastor of Kenilworth Baptist Church in Brooklyn. Mrs. Pate also visited her niece, Mrs. Vincent Freeman on Long Island, and of course went to the World's Fair. On her way South again she stopped in Richmond, Va., for a visit with her nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Lee. Some days were spent in Raleigh and Smithfield with relatives before she returned to our hills.

Mrs. Tom E. Walters lived a full and happily exciting week, just past. On Monday a beloved cousin James Robert Rodwell of Charlotte paid her a surprise visit. Mr. Rodwell, for many years organist at First Baptist Church in his city, is still there, teaching as well as playing.

On Wednesday her spend-the-night guests were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen of Wingate. But, on Friday evening, came the greatest surprise of all when she was contacted by a radio ham operator in Dallas, Tex., and given the joy of talking with her children there for a thirty-minute period—What a thrill!

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown returned early last week after a delightful visit of several days with friends in Florence, S. C. Enroute, they stopped in Mooresville, N. C., for a brief call on Mrs. Lena Barger who was again in bed for a few days.

Mrs. Brown's brother, C. H. Helmey of Uniontown, Pa., and his daughter, Miss Janet Helmey, were guests of the Browns a couple of days later in the week.

Rev. Edwin Poole, pastor of Victor Baptist Church, Greer, S. C., with his deacons, their families, and several other leaders of the church, held a religious retreat Friday and Saturday in the Barger Cottages

Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Brockman came up from Greer, S. C., on Friday afternoon and stayed in their home here until Monday.

The entire community extends sympathy to Mrs. Joe (Norma Wynne) Moore who was called to Raleigh Wednesday because of the death of her sister, Miss Eliza Wynne.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Weeks returned the first of last week from a most interesting trip by bus and train into Canada. They spent one weekend in Philadelphia, Pa., with her sister, Mrs. Paul Minault, and her family. Then, in New York, they left by way of Henderson Harbor for Association Island in Lake Ontario, where Mr. Weeks attended a meeting for camp managers. Three days were spent seeing Ottawa and Montreal. Coming back to New York City they went up into Connecticutt to visit a number of relatives, and were pleasantly surprised to greet former staff members of Ridgecrest Assembly in several cities.

Since their return to home and office here the following staffers have called on them: Miss Frances Giles of Seneca, S. C.; Miss Sarah Reese of Statesville; Jack Anderson, Youth Director of First Baptist Church in Anderson, S. C.; Bob Kellsey and Miss Larita Umphlett of Raleigh; Miss Pansy Hopkins, Charlotte school teacher, and Lawrence Webb, teacher in Anderson College, S. C.; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Higginbotham of Houston, Tex.

Miss Ruth Wingo returned Friday to her home in Greenville, S. C., for the winter. She was accompanied by Mrs. Charles P. Cowherd and little Eugenia, who visited Miss Virginia Cowherd, student in Furman Nniversity.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mercer and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Holt of Greenville, N. C., were overnight guests of the The four younger people were E. F. Hardins on Saturday. enroute to Atlanta, where Dr. Holt, dean and vice president of Eastern Carolina College, attended an accreditation meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges. Mrs. Holt is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardin.

An afternoon visitor in Hills of Home on Sunday was George Hine, Jr., of Abilene, Tex. In the early 1930s George was a junior boy in Lincolnton (N. C.) First Baptist Church where Mr. Hardin was pastor. This was the first time in 30 years they had seen each other.

SWANNANOA NEWS

By Mrs. Hayes Conner

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Farr returned home Thursday following several days vacationing at Sarasota and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lloyd Cody, who is a sophomore at the University of S. C. at Columbia, visited his mother, Mrs. Helen Cody, and Linda and Shelia Cody this past weekend.

Ted Smith, who underwent surgery at St. Joseph's hospital last week returned to his home Saturday and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Lola Hunnicutt Westerwelt of Astoria, N. Y., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moretz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Huggins and other relatives in Western North Carolina.

Mrs. Magnolia Reavis Foster of Candler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moretz, underwent surgery at Memorial Mission Hospital.

Swannanoa PTA Meets:

The Swannanoa PTA met last Monday with a large number attending the meeting. President Samuel J. Millar presided. He announce the annual pancake supper will be held at the school cafeteria Friday, December 4. Also turkey shoots are being held at the school each Saturday for the next four consecutive Saturdays. Mr. Millar discussed the School Bond issue.

Tom Sawyer, program chairman introduced Mike Dechman, who is with the Alcohol Section of the Medical Health Center of this area, who spoke on "Alcoholics as a Health Problem."

Mrs. McClure Honored:

On Saturday evening Mrs. Austine McClure gave a stork shower at the club house for Mrs. Louise McClure of Burnsville. The latter, with her family, was spending the weekend here with relatives.

Decorations carrying out the baby theme were used. Games with prizes given the winners were enjoyed.

Those attending included: Mrs. Judi Lewis, Mrs. Polly Gregg, Mrs. Mae McClure, Mrs. Nita Connor, Mrs. Mildred Raines, Mrs. Jeanette Gwaltney, Mrs. Virginia Huggins, Mrs. Marie Kilman, Mrs. Frances Rayburn, Mrs. Evelyn Huggins, Mrs. Ruby Edmonds, Mrs. Mabel Lee and the honoree.

Those who could not attend but sent gifts included: Mrs. Dolly Mae Hollifield, Mrs. Kay Hamby, Mrs. Mae Norton, Mrs. Carrie Woods, Mrs. Lovey Deweeese, Mrs. Louise Warlick, Mrs. Sissy Rayburn, Mrs. Edith Bennett, Mrs. Jo Vaughn, Mrs. Virginia Stepp, Mrs. Lillian Maney, Mrs. Allie Bryant, and Mrs. Nellie Winkins.

Mrs. Lee assisted Mrs. McClure in serving.

Book Club Meeting:

Mrs. Robert Davidson gave an interesting program on Sinclair Lewis at the October meeting of the Book Club October 19. Seventeen members were present. The meeting was held with Mrs. D. P. Vining with Mrs. C. R. Stevens, co-hostess.

During the business session it was suggested and voted that the club sponsor the new Brownie Troop in Swannanoa. Mrs. D. W. Harrison will serve as committee chairman for the Troop. The School Bond issue was discussed.

Mrs. Vining and Mrs. Stevens served delicious refreshments during the social hour. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lester Conley with Mrs. J. W. Faucette as cohostess. Mrs. Frank Davidson will give the program.

Swannanoa Men's Club:

The Swannanoa Men's Club will hold their monthly meeting Monday, November 2, at the Club House.

Arts and Crafts:

Members of the Arts and Crafts Department of the Swannanoa Woman's Club got the Christmas spirit at at their October meeting when Mrs. Elizabeth Parham of the Carolina Power and Light Company gave the program showing Christmas decorations. Mrs. Douglas Beard was hostess for the meeting. Twelve members and visitors were present.

Following the short business session and program delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Winefred Corne will be hostess to the group in November.

Home Demonstration Club:

Mrs. Charles Waldrop was hostess to the Home Demonstration Club meeting at her home Thursday morning. Mrs. T. J. Fussell, president, was in charge of the meeting. She announced the county-wide Christmas Ideas Exhibit-Bazaar to be held at Central Methodist Church in Asheville on November 12, 13, and 14. Members showed some of the things they plan to put on exhibition at the meeting. Mrs. J. N. Wilhide is chairman from the local club.

During the past month the members held three workshops. One of the workshops was on chair bottoming at the Club House. Six of the members bottomed a chair at this time. Several of the group met at Mrs. Fussell's home for a candle making work-shop. The final workshop was at the home of Mrs. John Brown at which time hats were made. A number completed hats at this time.

Mrs. Barbara Cannon gave the program on "A Guide to Time Management in Cleaning." She brought out that a schedule which enables each person to see her daily and weekly cleaning tasks is the first step.

A coffee hour was enjoyed as the guests arrived.

Knobby Apple Cake

About this time last year we gave you the Knobby Apple Cake recipe. Many of you tried it and all who expressed any opinion at all of the results were very well pleased. Several have asked that it be repeated, have lost their original copies, or never clipped it at all—so here it is.

3 tbsp. butter; 1 c. sugar; 1 egg—beaten; ½ tsp. cinnamon ½tsp nutmeg; ½tsp. salt; 1 tsp. soda; 1 cup flour; 3 cups diced apples (leave the peel on); ¼ cup nutmeats (walnuts are especially good with apples); 1 tsp. vanilla.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg, then sifted dry ingredients, apples, nuts and vanilla. The dough will be dry and crumbly. Bake at 350° from 40 to 50 minutes or until done. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

Urgent!

Make no mistake, those who are "in the know" are making every effort to be assured that the local voting population is aware of the significance of the upcoming bond issue for the future of our schools.

There is a full-length article on the front page showing the significance in relation to the local schools and committee now existing to promote the understanding of the issue.

"The bond issue is a sound, conservative, well substantiated investment in the future of our State. The need is present; the need is current; and the need is great." says the Buncombe County committee.

I feel confident that the citizens of our community are well informed; the main idea to get across to everyone is that the funds are coming into the treasury without additional taxes; if the bond is not passed indicating that the citizens of the state do not wish to use the money in this manner it will go for something else and we may find ourselves digging into our pockets, one and all, to raise the taxes because our schools must grow. The enrollment has increased 7,174 over the past 15 years. Passage of the bond would result in the receipt of 2,540,303 dollars for school construction in the Buncombe County and Asheville units.

Aboard The Lady Bird Specal

A News Special sent to us for release last week had a few cute tid-bits about the interesting placards along the route of the Lady Bird Special a few weeks ago.

Whether you "purr-fer LBJ" or "We Will Barry You", your political affiliation was well represented along the route, said the article.

Mrs. Johnson responded most openly to a sign in Charlotte. It pictured a large beagle, with the caption, "You Can Pull My Ears Lyndon."

The same theme with a different twist showed up at Wilson where a placard proclaimed, "Him and Her for Us."

And with no apologies to a well-known gas company, a Greensboro supporter demanded, "Put a Tiger in the White House."

Which brings to mind something cute in Capital Cipboard recently when a competitive gas company advertised "Let us clean the tiger hairs from your tank" . . . nothing slow about those boys.

Young Citizens' Headquarters

This week we have for you a picture which will show the enthusiasm our youngsters are exhibiting in the coming election.

Gary Cole, eighth grader, was originator of the idea and he carried out the plan by going in to county Headquarters yesterday for materials. After school on Thursday (the 23rd) they took over the front of the NEWS office for their new headquarters. Already the windows are plastered with posters and invitations to come inside and see what is available.

If you are interested in seeing a most enthusiastic bunch of boys and girls at work, learning at an early age the intricacies of politics, give them a visit and pick up a sticker or badge for the candidate of your choice.

Birthday Greetings To:

Mrs. Minnie Burris, Norman Logan, Hurbert Lytle, Jill Hamilton, Sandford Call, and Jones Burgin.

Don't Forget to Vote:

It is only once in every four years that our country elects its presidents. Because of the significance and importance of the upcoming election, we as citizens are urged to go to the polls on November 3 and vote. Our next President could and will determine to a large extent the future of America and of the world. Let us remember that a good slate of officers will mean unity and prosperity for all. We shall ask God's guidance in this election.

North Fork — News —

Who would ever think, that among all of the blue, red, and white ribbons awarded for handiwork at the State Fair, a Third Prize in the National Contest for Wool and Needlework, could be overlooked. Mrs. Thad Burnette's crocheted afghan was so honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lombard of Chicago are spending some time in the valley, while Sam continues to construct his retirement home.

The Howard Willets have been entertaining Mrs. Willet's sisters. Mrs. Jack Cordell spent the day Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Horne, with their sons, Butch and Benny, from Salisbury, spent Sunday there.

Dr. L. L. Rich entertained four small boys from the Presbyterian Orphanage last weekend.

Owen Students Trained For Volunteer Duty

A volunteer group of 14 students from Owen High School have completed the required training preparatory to serving the patients at Oteen V. A. Hospital, and are identified by their Red Cross uniforms.

The Red Cross orientation was given by the Black Mountain-Swannanoa Chapter, when Mrs. Bessie Hobson, executive secretary, explained the policies and services set up by this Chapter to serve the community.

Miss Ruth White, Owen High teacher, is counselor for the group, and gives very valuable service in guiding and advising them in their efforts toward this service to the sick veteran. They spent some time touring the hospital, and ascertaining their duties there. Then on Wednesday evening they spent two hours in group meeting at the hospital receiving the V. A. orientation, which was arranged by Mrs. Mary Frances Stephens, director in charge of volunteeer service in the hospital. They are now fully prepared to begin their schedule of assigned service to the patients, and will continue two hours each Monday throughout the winter. The following students comprise this group: Nancy Pollard, leader, Carolyn Burnett, Sandra Massey, Lania Plummer, Joyce Orr, Kathryn Lemieux, Sue Myers, Judy Rhodes, Pat Leckey, Dorothy Gaye Fussell, Vickey Crowe, Carl Ballard, Marion Hogue and Tommy Goforth.

Also training are: Linda Maynor, Debbie Maynor, Pat Moody, Terry McClure and Connie Nichols.

TRUDI GILKERSON

Miss Trudi Lynn Gilkerson, a sophomore at Wellesbey College in Massachusetts, receibed "Freshman Honors" for the academic year 1963-64 at the opening convocation of Wellesley College this fall.

Miss Gilkerson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth W. Gilkerson of Rainbow Ridge, Swannanoa. She is a 1963 graduate of Charles D. Owen High School.
